Threat Made by Housebreakers Enabled Them to Make Their Escape.

A STORE DOOR SMASHED IN

SUSPECTED MEN ARRESTED.

Another daring holdup and attempted robbery was committed in the heart of the city last night shortly after 11 o'clock. Those charged with the crime, Charles Hutton and Robert Cooley, were arraigned before the mayor this morning, but were not given a chance to plead, witnesses having given notice that they will not be ready to testify until this evening.

The men were read charges of drunkenness and disorderly conduct, to which both pleaded guilty. Hutton also pleaded guilty to a charge of carrying concealed weapons.

They were arrested by Officers Dawson and Dunn at the instance of Homer Fairbanks, who runs a confectionery store at 337 West Market street. Very much excited and with cold sweat dripping from his brow, Fairbanks found the officers in the Diamond and unfolded his tale. He stated that two men had smashed in the rear of his store and when he arrived on the scene, having been apprised of the fact by a neighbor who saw the whole performance, one of them drew a revolver and pointed it at his face.

Having no weapon Fairbanks was compelled to let the men escape. He gave a pretty good description of the men to the police and they immediately set to work upon the case. In a very short time they corralled the suspects. Going to the Smoky row district they saw a gang of fellows standing on the corner of Second street and Broadway. Among the gang were two men that answered the description. They were arrested at once and given cells in the city jail.

Several times while en route to the jail Hutton attempted to throw away his revolver and after arriving he tried to dispose of it in a sink. He finally threw it under Mayor Davidson's desk.

Officer Dawson saw every attempt, but said not a word. He found the weapon quickly enough when he searched the man.

From the evidence produced at the hearing the mayor feels satisfied that a charge of housebreaking and burglary cannot be proven against the couple, but thinks that probably other evidence of an incriminating nature will be presented this evening.

Cooley and Hutton each have shady reputations, and it is the desire of the mayor to give them a heavy sentence. To Cooley he said: "Young man, I think we have got you where we want you, and if we have we certainly will set the screws to you."

Cooley has been in durance vile upon several occasions. He is not more than 21 years of age. As to Hutton the mayor can no but one thing. He is out on parole from the Mansfield reformatory. If convicted he will make his home there once more.

Chief Thompson issued orders to the police this morning to arrest all bums and suspicious looking persons found on the streets. The order is the outcome of recent holdups and robberies.

HUTTON'S ATTEMPT TO GET OUT OF JAIL

CLIMBED ON TOP OF THE CELLS AND REMOVED BRICKS.

Was Detected at His Work And Locked in More Securely.

Had Charles Hutton, one of the pair arrested last night for alleged robbery, and who pleaded guilty to a charge of drunkenness and disorder, and also to a charge of carrying concealed weapons, been unmolested for 30 minutes longer, he would now be on the outside of the jail walls and probably many miles away from the city.

Officer Dunn frustrated the well laid plans of the young desperado. The officer had dropped into the city hall to make his report before going on duty this afternoon, when a lad told him that Hutton was trying to break jail. He went at once to the jail door and was very much surprised at finding that the report was true. Hutton had climbed to the covering of the cells and without the least trouble had removed at least 20 bricks from the wall, over a window facing eastward. In a very short time he would have had enough removed to have allowed him to escape.

Health Officer Burgess states that he heard the fellow at work, but thought he would let him continue until an officer arrived. Several now claim that they heard the noise produced by the falling bricks. Through kindness to the prisoner Chief Thompson had allowed him the privilege of the cell ways and therefore he was only locked in by the outside door. If he had gained the outside of his apartment he could have dropped into the women's cell room, where his confederate, Cooley, lies in a cell. Escape would have been easy had he fallen there.

The windows are not barred and he would only have had to hoist the windows. The officials are exceedingly pleased over Officer Dunn's timely arrival. They will not again allow a man the freedom of the cell ways.

NEW CODE BILL

HON. I. B. CAMERON THINKS THERE WILL BE A GOOD ONE.

Believes the Outcome of Legislation Will Satisfy the People.

Cleveland, July 19.—State Treasurer I. B. Cameron was in Cleveland yesterday. "What do you think will be the outcome of the special session?" he was asked.

"A municipal code bill for the state," said, "is a question on which therehe said he, "is a question on which there is a great diversity of opinion, and it will of course take some time to talk over the various propositions and exchange ideas. It seems to me, however, that the outcome of the session will be the enactment of a code which will not only be satisfactoy to those who favor the board plan, but also to those who favor the federal plan. It will probably be argued that the adoption of a code with the board plan of government will give color to the argument that Coxism has been forced upon every municipality of the state.

"I think it will be possible to draw a bill which will make mandatory the election of a mayor, city council, police judge, and probably a city solicitor, leaving the question of other officers to the councils of the respective cities. Each city may then legislate for its own needs, so far as public officers are concerned. The small cities will not require as many officials as the larger cities, so that the various city councils may act according to their own requirements."

GOODMAN HEARD FROM

Man Who Is Alleged to Have Defrauded Curnan Seen at New Cumberland.

James Goodman, the man, who, it is alleged, under false pretenses, obtained $173 worth of merchandise, a horse and wagon, from the general store on Fourth street owned by Geo. L. Curnan, who is now sick in a Pittsburg hospital, has been heard from. H. D. Hipple, the salesman, who let Goodman have the stuff, states that the police of New Cumberland, telephoned that they had seen the fellow. They made no arrest, however, and Mr. Curnan is as far in the hole as at the beginning.

Mr. Hipple also states that Goodman is well known in the county, his home being in Wellsville, where his father now lives. The story, put forward by him when working his game on Hipple, that he was going to marry a young woman of wealth in the city, is given no credence. The young lady that he mentioned denies the statement strongly.

MARRIED IN JAIL

John Prudence Weds, But Stays a Prisoner Till Costs Are Paid.

Lisbon, July 19.—(Special)—John Prudence and Nora Halfhill, both of East Liverpool, were married by Mayor George Farrell in the county jail yesterday. Prudence is still in jail on a charge preferred by the woman.

As soon as Prudence can get money to pay the costs he will be released.

Licensed to Marry.

LOWER FREIGHT RATES DESIRED

SANITARY PLANTS FULL

From a Staff Correspondent.

Trenton, N. J. July 19.—Because of several acts passed by the last New Jersey legislature which have not met with the approval of the labor masses, the Sanitary Pressers' union No. 45, National Brotherhood of Operative Potters, at its last meeting passed a resolution deciding to support only those political parties having the referendum clause in their platforms.

Similar action is being taken by the other labor unions throughout New Jersey, and the resolution of the sanitary workers will likely be taken up by those labor organization affiliated with the Central Labor Union. As a matter of fact, the labor unions are not in sympathy with the present state administration. While no acts have been enacted which have a direct bearing upon the sanitary trade, there exists in other parts of the state, labor conditions which cannot be duplicated anywhere in the east, principally among the silk workers of Paterson and in the glass mills at Minatala.

The weight the labor vote carries in this city was evidenced last fall when through the Central Labor union all the local labor organizations united in defeating Mayor Frank O. Briggs, because of his refusal to sign a resolution requiring none but union labor to be employed on city work.

There is a movement on foot among the labor unions of New Jersey, in which the potters are seated, to take a prominent part to secure better legislation for union labor from the state law-making body.

What reforms will be asked have not been brought to light, and it is probable that they will be kept under cover until after the state convention of the Allied Trades Council of New Jersey, which meets here in August.

Legislation by referendum will give the masses the right of a second veto in all important acts which are construed to one section of the state and at the same time found objectionable by the residents of another.

The eastern manufacturers have followed the example of the western pottery owners and are making a fight with the Pennsylvania Railroad company for cheaper freight rates to the west.

The cost of shipping a crate of ware to the west is said to be about 25 per cent greater than that charged the western manufacturers to send a similar amount to the Atlantic seaboard.

This condition has resulted in failure, by the local potteries to a good foothold in the west and at the same time allowing the western potters to sell to the New York market and even make shipments abroad at a profit. The line of pottery in which the local plants do not fear competition is in the sanitary trade, which, in the east, is gradually pushing out the manufacturer of general ware.

Many Arguments Advanced in Favor of the Proposed Entertainment—All Elks Thus Far Heard From Are Heartily in Favor of It.

The carnival which East Liverpool lodge of Elks, No. 258, propose to hold at Rock Springs park early in the fall will be of a greater benent to the city and the surrounding territory than the general public would suppose. While the matter has been presented to the many members of the local lodge, at the meeting of the lodge which will be held next Thursday evening, the preliminary arrangements will be made to take the matter in hand and to commence actual work on the affair.

At this meeting the idea will be advanced that, should the affair be a success, and there is no reason to believe that it will not, a certain amount of the profits be set aside for the establishing and furnishing several rooms in the new hospital. This idea, which has been thought of by several prominent members of the order, is a most commendable one, and will meet the approval of the officials of the hospital and also the general public. The idea is to furnish these rooms, which will be known as the "Elks' rooms," but which will be opened to all who may enter the doors for treatment.

The furnishings of these rooms will be the best that money can buy, and no matter how poor a person may be, if he is ill and accepted at the hospital, these rooms that will be furnished by the Elks will be opened to such a person, and as much assistance extended as if he were possessed of unlimited wealth. Other little features will be added to the rooms by the Elks to make them as attractive as possible to the sick. In giving the carnival the Elks have no selfish motives to follow.

So far all the Elks that have been approached with the idea of holding a carnival are apparently in favor of the affair. They claim that additional business will be brought to the city, that the city will be further advertised, and that the best of attractions will be booked for the week of the carnival.

The Elks will back the carnival themselves, and will have no booths for sale at the park. It is not likely that the general public will be asked to contribute to the affair, other than their patronage, and individual help in making the affair a success that it deserves.

CAME FROM COSHOCTON

And the Ancient Order of Goose Pasturers Had to Show Him.

"Now we'll tell you," said his companions, as they were walking up the railroad track near the depot, the other night, "we will have to be careful along here. Not long ago a band of highwaymen was seen in this locality, and it is possible that they have not left."

The last word was scarcely spoken before the feared gang of bandits made their appearance. It seemed they centered their attack upon one member of the crowd. They yelled, "Hands up." Up they went. They searched him. Then commanded him to travel.

A hare never split the air in as swift a manner. After following him for perhaps 100 yards firing blank cartridges at every step, they ceased the chase, but the man did not. He continued the dead run for fully half an hour, and being a stranger in the city, he made many circles, finally landing near the place he started. He toppled over on the ground and said: "Take my clothes, my knife, my watch, oh, anything I have got, but don't shoot me again."

The gang then approached him and informed him of what the antics meant. He had simply been goose-pastured. The man is a musician and hails from Coshocton.

PROMPT ACTION

Of Brakeman on Runaway Cars Averted Further Accident.

J. D. Lafferty, the brakeman who was on the two runaway cars yesterday on the Horn switch, deserves a great deal of praise for his grit in sticking to the cars, notwithstanding the breaking of the chain on the brake of the forward car, until he reached a point where he saw that further effort was useless and jumped for safety.

Immediately after the derailing of the cars he summoned the flagman of the shifter whom he sent to flag the approaching eastbound passenger and thereby averted further disaster. He himself went up the eastbound track to warn approaching trains if any of the danger. He is commended by railway employes for his prompt action.

HANLEY'S GAIN; M'NUTT'S LOSS

County Clerks' Term Law Held Not to Apply to Present Incumbents.

A GAIN OF SIX MONTHS

GOVENOR DENIES A RUMOR.

From a Staff Correspondent.

Columbus, July 19.—It seems likely that the county clerks' association will test the ruling of Attorney General Sheets that the bill of Representative Samuel Buell, of Columbiana county, changing the time when county clerks shall assume the duties of their office from the first Monday in August to the first Monday in September, does not affect clerks now in office. If the courts sustain the attorney general's interpretation of the law, then County Clerk-elect James N. Hanley, of East Liverpool, will enter upon his term just six months earlier than expected. It will likewise extend his tenure of office that length of time and will make a corresponding reduction in that of Clerk McNutt.

Secretary of State Laylin will appoint the deputy election supervisors for the different counties of the state between July 21 and August 1. Two appointments are made each year, one from each party. The appointments are made upon recommendation of the county committees of both parties. The names of candidates must be filed with the secretary of state by not later than Monday. No names have yet been sent in from Columbiana county, but it is expected they will be received before the time limit expires. County election boards of supervisors are composed of four members, two Democrats and two Republicans, who are chosen for two years.

Governor Nash has made a positive denial of the story that the extra session of the legislature would be postponed until after the meeting of the Democratic state convention. He declared that the general assembly would meet at the specified date—August 25, not later. By the time the solons get together there will be possibly a score of code bills awaiting their consideration. Representative Stage, of Cleveland, is the latest to announce that he has undertaken the task of preparing a code. His bill will embody features taken from forms of government of cities in different parts of the world. He says it will provide for absolute home rule for all municipalities. The belief obtains that the extra session will last for a longer period than at first imagined. The code will be taken up section by section, which will entail a vast amount of labor.

Deputy Elmer E. Miller, of Canton, of the stationary engineers' department, has prepared a schedule of his office days in the principal cities of his district. He will be in Canton every Monday; Akron, second Saturday of each month; Ashtabula, every Wednesday preceding the fourth Thursday of each month; Youngstown, the fourth Thursday of each month and Friday and Saturday following; East Liverpool and Wednesday, the third Thursday, and Steubenville, the Saturday following in January, March, May, July, September and November. Regular office hours will be from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m. Copies of the schedule will be sent to engineers throughout the district.

Mrs. George Buxton, of East Liverpool, is here visiting her husband, the well known pottery salesman. She will return home Monday.

State Treasurer and Mrs. Cameron have returned from an outing at Frankfort, a watering place in Michigan. Judge Rogers, of Younstown, called at the state house today to pay his respects to Mr. Cameron.

New Clock For Court House.

Lisbon, July 19.—(Special)—A new clock has been ordered for the court house tower. The old one, used since 1875, has been out of order for some time. The new clock will strike the hours and automatically regulate three timepieces in the court house.

EAST LIVERPOOL MEN ARE ACCUSED OF FRAUD

Emmet Barr, well known as an insurance solicitor, who has resided in this city for some years, is in trouble. The following dispatch from Pittsburg explains why:

"Emmet Barr, of East Liverpool, O., was arrested yesterday at Pomeroy, O., and brought to this city last night by County Detective Robert G. Robinson and Detective William Elmore, to answer charges of conspiracy and false pretense found against him by the last grand jury. Barr and Harry E. Walters, also of East Liverpool, are accused of having conspired to defraud Edith Bell, of Pittsburg, out of $5,000. The prosecuting witness claims that the men, who had an office on Fourth avenue, induced her to accept employment in their office as stenographer and after she had been there a short time induced her, by false pretense, to invest $5,000 in oil wells.

"She claims that she at first refused to invest, out that later Barr went to southeastern Ohio, and sent a telegram which stated that a good well had been struck on the property on which they desired her to invest. She says the statement made in the telegram was untrue, and that by means of this untrue statement she was led to invest. She claims that Walters was a party to the deception. The defendants claim that the woman took stock in property which proved unproductive of her own free will. Walters was arrested some time ago, and was released on bail."

It is alleged that Barr and Walters instead of using the money in the oil business, used it for their own purposes. Requisition papers were got out for Barr.

EAST END

J. B. HOEFGEN'S PROJECT

After a Franchise In Cleveland to Operate Three Cent Fare Railroad.

John B. Hoefgen, interested quite extensively in the East Liverpool railway company, is branching out in street railway matters, and at the next meeting of the Cleveland city council will most likely make a bid for a franchise to operate a street railway in that city, the fares upon which will be but three cents. Mr. Hoefgen only recently placed a bid to run a street railway in Cleveland, and agreed to give a three cent fare. An ordinance was passed by the council of that city, but the courts of Ohio decided that it was illegal to sell franchises to the highest or lowest bidder, as was done by the council of Cleveland, which was all one of those pet schemes of Mayor Tom Johnson's. The ordinance required a deposit of $10,000 with the bid for each route. The routes are over the same territory embraced in the former Hoefgen franchise, which was declared illegal by the courts. Mr. Hoefgen, or the Peoples' Street Railway company will probably be the only bidder for the franchises under these ordinances.

When seen this morning Mr. Healy said that he knew Mr. Hoefgen was after a franchise in the city of Cleveland, but no other person in this city or any connected with the East Liverpool Street Railway company was interested in the project.

CLUE TO MISSING HORSE

Larkins & Ferguson Encouraged by a Report Recived From Beaver Falls Detective.

At last Larkins & Ferguson have a clue to their horse, and they are of the opinion that it will be back in its stable within five days. Although the police have been circulating postal cards about the theft, these cards have not done the work expected. Yesterday a member of the firm went to Beaver county, and while there engaged a detective to work on the case, and this gentleman stated he had seen Allison with the horse, and was of the opinion that he knew the whereabouts of both Allisen and the horse. He also guaranteed the firm that he would capture both man and horse within three days.

Allison was in Beaver Falls Thursday, and at that time the detective who is now working on the case thought of arresting him. Action was deferred, but Allison's whereabouts are known to the detective.

The bout will be a friendly one, but both men claim they will win, and owing to that fact a good contest can be expected. Quite a number of East End people, friends of the contestants, will witness the bout.

Came Near Strangling.

Her condition at noon, however, was somewhat improved, and she is now thought to be out of danger.

They cause more suffering than anything else.

MAGNETISM OF MISERY.

Men Haunt Scenes That Revive Memories of Pain.

Every storm, earthquake or disaster of any kind brings out a curious phase of human nature. Many of those who have seen their houses destroyed or their nearest relatives killed return as soon as possible to the scenes of devastation. In some instances this is explained by the fact that there are mere opportunities of earning a livelihood among old neighbors than among new surroundings. In numerous cases, however, no such business reason operates as an inducement. The magnet is sentiment, not money. As some mourners devote every holiday to visiting graves, so a large fraction of the homeless and bereaved go back to spend the remainder of their days in the scenes that recall calamity and gloom.

It was so after the great London fire, it was so after the Lisbon earthquake, it was so after the yellow fever swept Philadelphia, and in more recent years the Chicago fire, the Mississippi floods, Charleston, Johnstown and other catastrophes confirm the old experience. Apparently the desire to gain new pleasures is no more keen than the wish to revive the memory of old pain Our last storm destroyed much property and many lives, but we will see people choosing homes in sight of the telegraph pole from which the fatal live wire dangled or the flooded stream in which the only son was drowned.—Philadelphia Ledger.

Art of Paper Making.

In the matter of making and using paper we are not in line with the Chinese and other Asiatics, who not only make the finest paper in the world, but apply it to all sorts of uses, making window panes, fans, umbrellas, sandals and even cloaks and other garments of it.

The art of making paper from mulberry bast is said to have been invented in China in the second century B. C. Afterward bamboo shoots, straw, grass and other materials were also used. The manufacture spread to the adjacent countries.

The Arabs learned it in Samarkand, and their learned men carefully kept secret the process by which they made paper for their own use. The crusades made Europe acquainted with the art, and the first paper mill in Germany dates from the twelfth century.

To this day the process of paper making in the east is simple and apparently crude, the fibers being torn apart with the fingers and the pulp pressed in a primitive contrivance.

CUBA'S FIRST MINISTER.

Senor Gonzales Represents New Republic at Washington.

When Senor Gonzales de Quesada, the minister from Cuba, presented his credentials to President Roosevelt a few days ago, the event marked the entry of the new republic as a country into the politics of nations.

Senor Quesada is a native of Cuba and is but thirty-four years of age. He was born at the beginning of the first Cuban insurrection. His parents took sides with the patriots and were exiled. They sought refuge in New York, and in that city young Quesada grew up and was educated.

For several years prior to and during the war for freedom Senor Quesada was secretary of the unrecognized legation from the republic, which then existed only in name.

During those years he became a personal friend of Mr. Roosevelt, who welcomed him warmly when he received him as the minister of the new republic.

KINGLY HONORS.

How Edward VII. Remembered Some of His Old Friends.

In the list of honors conferred by King Edward VII. and intended to be one of the features of his coronation appear the names of several men who are widely known in this country. Perhaps no one of those who have received these convincing evidences of royal friendship is better known in the United States than Sir Thomas Lipton, who has been raised by royal decree from the rank of knight to that of baronet.

The rank of baronet is a dignity or degree of honor next below that of baron and precedes all orders of knighthood except that of the Garter. It is the lowest degree of honor in England that is hereditary. Baronets have the title "Sir" before their Christian names, and their surnames are followed by their title of dignity, usually expressed "Bart."

Sir Thomas Lipton, therefore, who has previously been a knight, will in the future write his name "Sir Thomas Lipton, Bart." Wives of baronets are addressed as lady or madam. The sons have no title except esquire. Baronets are commoners and not entitled to a seat in the house of lords.

Two other names honored by King Edward which are well known in this country are those of the novelists Dr. Conan Doyle and Gilbert Parker. Both of these gentlemen have been raised to the dignity of "knight" and hereafter are entitled to write "Sir" before their names. The title of knight is not hereditary and perishes with the bearer.

Sir Arthur Conan Doyle, the novelist, is a Scotchman by birth, and Edinburgh is the place of his nativity. His father was an artist, and his grandfather was a famous caricaturist. Sir Conan was educated as a physician and practiced his profession from 1882 to 1890, when he gave up medicine to devote his time to literature and travel.

Sir Conan has written many successful novels, and his name is well known wherever English is read and spoken. His famous character, Sherlock Holmes, is familiar to all readers of fiction. Sir Conan has just passed his forty-third birthday.

Sir Gilbert Parker, novelist and dramatist, is a Canadian. He has been an extensive traveler in northern Canada and the south sea islands. He is a poet, has written several plays and is the author of numerous successful novels. Since 1900 he has been a member of parliament, representing Gravesend. Sir Gilbert is forty years old.

A Woman's Kiss.

The story of Ingeborg Vinding and Poul Vendelbo Lovenorn is well known in Denmark. Poul Vendelbo, a poor student, went one day on the ramparts around Copenhagen and walked with two rich noblemen who, like himself, had matriculated at the university.

They happened to notice a singularly beautiful woman sitting at the window of one of the adjacent houses. One of the noblemen then said half mockingly to Vendelbo, "Now, if you could get a kiss from that lady, Poul, we would defray the expenses of that tour abroad which you are so anxious to make."

Vendelbo took him at his word, went up to the beautiful lady and told her how his whole future depended possibly on her. She then drew him toward the window and in the view of the noblemen gave him the kiss he craved. He then went abroad and, returning at last as Adjutant General Lovenorn, paid the fair lady a visit. She was Ingeborg Vinding, and she had made a clever man's fortune by a kiss.

Origin of Kilts.

It will doubtless surprise many Scotchmen to learn that the kilt as at present worn is only a modern fancy costume and is not of Scottish origin at all.

The honor of its invention is due to two Englishmen—an army tailor who accompanied General Wade's forces to Scotland in 1719 and Thomas Rawlinson, overseer of some iron works in Glengarry's country. For more than a century previously, indeed, the tartan plaid had been the common garb of the highlanders, but it was all in one piece, wound in folds around the body, leaving the knees bare.

Prior to the adoption of the tartan, which probably took place about the close of the fifteenth century, the long, loose saffron colored skirt, the real "garb of old Gaul," was the highland dress.—London Mail.

He Sleeps.

"Has your husband a good ear for music?" asked Mrs. Oldgirl of Mrs Newed.

"I am afraid not," replied Mrs Newed. "He seems to think everything he hears played in church is a lullaby."—Cincinnati Commercial Tribune.

JUST TWO INNINGS SETTLED THE GAME

In That Time the Junctions Made Six Runs, Which Was Enough.

A TERRIFFIC ONSLAUGHT

By the Pittsburgers at the Start From Which East Liverpool Did Not Fully Recover—Some Clever Playing on Both Sides.

The Junctions, of Pittsburg, won the game in West End park yesterday afternoon in the first two innings. They bunched eight hits and pretty ones at that, and made just one more run than the locals scored in the entire game.

After getting such an avalanche piled upon them before the game had fairly started it a wonder indeed that East Liverpool managed to pull out of the melee with as many runs as it was finally credited with. Patterson seemed as if he had gone so far into the air that he could not be drawn to his feet, but he eventually spruced up and for several innings pitched a model game.

With only seven of their team on the ground, the others not arriving until the street car from the depot hove in sight, the visitors started the game. They had great luck notwithstanding that the first man up struck out. He was followed by Fohl, who smashed one for two bases. The next gentleman worked a scare game on Patterson and was allowed to walk. Nichols landed safely on one and scored Fohl. Buchener got first on an error of Berry, and Glassburner scored Taylor when he dropped one far out into right field.

They followed it up in the second by a terrible onslaught. Five clean hits and four runs were the record for the inning. When the locals went to the bat they were a little uneasy. Komer, the man who pitched 20 innings for the Fairbanks a few weeks ago, was the cause of their low spirits. He understands the art of putting them over and the locals knew it. They used him in great style, though. He went traveling around in the air upon several occasions and not only allowed seven hits, but game five men bases on balls. His greatest trouble lies in the fact that he cannot keep his feet when the opposing team gets a few hits. Under the excellent totorship of Manager Matthews he will, however, come out some day and make a record for himself.

It fell once more to the lot of the locals to have the men who furnished the features. Maag did it. His record was three hits, two runs and two assists. The way he skinned the bases was a pretty sight. If any man ever earned a run he did when he passed over the plate for the first time.

Berry did not do as well as he might. In the first inning he made an unexcusable error, but he was all right thereafter and held his own.

Webb should never have entered the game. He was badly crippled and was not able to cover any portion of the ground. To his lameness is credited his wild throws to Berry.

that's all. No energy, no vim, no vigor, no ambition. The head aches, thoughts are confused, memory fails. Life becomes a round of work but half accomplished, of eating that does not nourish, of sleep that fails to refresh and of resting that never rests. That's the beginning of nervous prostration.

WILL COST $70,000

An Estimate of Cost of Building And Equipping Salineville Pottery.

W. H. Deidrick, of the Sevres Pottery company, with his stenographer, is very busy these days on the purchasing of equipments for the Dresden China company's plant.

Work on the new Salinevillle shop is progressing rapidly, but just now the work of getting the city water to the plant is the leading question with the company and the city water works officials.

A conservative estimate of the probable cost of the pottery when it is equipped is about $70,000. One contract for moulds alone will cost $1,700 and that does not include the many other moulds that are needed. Many machines are also needed in order to pulverize the raw material so that it can be handled by the clay workers. The drying rooms alone will consume the entire contents of three cars of pipe ranging from 1 inch to 2½ inches. This does not include the sprinkling system. Then there is the engine and boiler, office fixtures and many other things that go to make up the plant.

The company will make ware suitable for hotel, boarding house and general utility trade; though it is expected to make a limited number of fancy patterns for the trade.

MOSCOW OIL FIELD

The Moscow (W. Va.) oil field is enjoying a great deal of activity. The field is now producing 60 barrels a day. Two new wells came in lately, good for 10 or 12 barrels each. Charles Brown's Sons have made a new location on their farm. Ralph Cowl will drill another well either on his own farm or that of the Hudson brothers. The Meldren & Co. well on the Watson farm, came in yesterday, good for 20 barrels.

The infant child of Enos Johnson, west of East Palestine, rolled out of bed. Its clothing caught on a nail and it hung there until strangled to death.

Arrangements are pending to consolidate the National Exchange and Steubenville National banks under the name of the former. The combined capital will be $250,000.

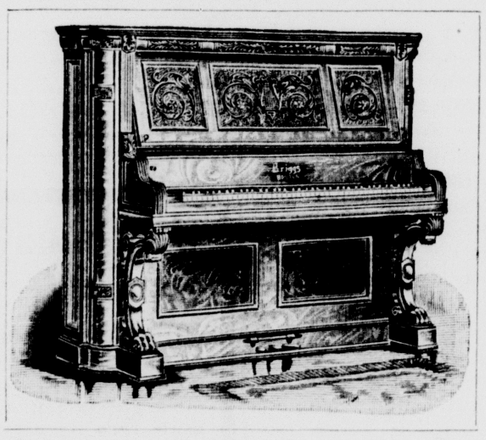

Thomas Gill, a well known farmer of Mt. Pleasant, met with a painful accident while driving a big load of hay into the barn. He was crushed between the load and joists, breaking several ribs.

Since closing the saloons, Barnesville is having an experience with the "blind tiger." A place has been fitted up and all one sees on entering is a little shelf and a speaking tube. Fifteen cents is placed on the shelf and into the tube the thirsty one speaks "beer" or "whisky." The money disappears and the drink appears.

A PASTOR SAVED BY PE-RU-NA.

WHO WAS BEFRIENDED BY AN EMPEROR

Rev. H. Stubenvoll, of Elkhorn, Wis., is pastor of the Evangelical Lutheran St. John's Church of that place. Rev. Steubenvoll is the possessor of two bibles presented to him by Emperor William of Germany. Upon the fly leaf of one of the bibles the Emperor has written in his own handwriting a text.

This honored pastor in a recent letter to the Peruna Medicine Co., of Columbus, O., says concerning their famous catarrh remedy, Peruna:

The Peruna Medicine Co., Columbus, O.:

Gentlemen: "I had hemorrhages of the lungs for a long time, and all despaired of me. I took Peruna and was cured. It gave me strength and courage, and made healthy, pure blood. It increased my weight, gave me a healthy color, and I feel well. It is the best medicine in the world. If everyone kept Peruna in the house it would save many from death every year."

Yours very truly,

REV. H. STUBENVOLL.

Thousands of people have catarrh who would be surprised to know it, because it has been called some other name than catarrh. The fact is, catarrh is catarrh wherever located; and another fact which is of equally great importance, is that Peruna cures catarrh wherever located.

Catarrh is an American disease. Fully one-half of the people are afflicted more or less with it in some form. Previous to the discovery of Peruna, catarrh was considered well nigh incurable. Since the introduction of Peruna to the medical profession thousands of cases are cured annually.

Mr. W. D. Smith, a well-known grocer of Port Huron, Mich., writes:

"By following your instructions and taking Peruna and Manalin I am cured of catarrh. I had catarrh for twelve years and quite a bad cough so I could not sleep nights. I do not have any cough now, and if I feel anything in the throat I take a swallow of Peruna and I am alright."—W. D. Smith.

Suffered Fifteen Years.

C. F. Gerding, Milburn, Neb., writes: "I contracted a heavy cold about fifteen years ago and tried all kinds of patent medicines and drugs recommended for a cold or heavy cough, but found none to help me until I commenced using Peruna. My age is seventy-eight years, and I am better now than I have been for years. I still keep using your great medicine, and am still improving in health. I recommend it to all sufferers with coughs and colds."—C. F. Gerding.

Peruna, The Greatest Remedy Known For Catarrh.

Mr. Chas. H. Stevens, 97 Seventeenth Street, Detroit, Mich., writes: "It affords me great pleasure to testify to the merits of Peruna as a remedy for catarrh. I suffered for some time with chronic nasal catarrh, but after five months' treatment during which time I used seven bottles of Peruna I am pleased to say that I am entirely well, there being not the slightest trace of the catarrh left. Peruna is without doubt the greatest remedy known for catarrh."—Chas. H. Stevens.

Afflicted Since Childhood With Catarrh.

Mr. Elbert S. Richards, Milton, Conn., writes:

"I am near sixty-eight years of age, and have from childhood been afflicted with catarrh in the head, and, for the past four or five years been much afflicted with it in my eyes; they being watery, would materate a good deal, and stick together in the night. My condition was so fully described in your almanac that I decided to try Peruna.

"I am thankful to say that I now consider myself entirely free from catarrh, and only use Peruna occasionally now as a tonic. Accept my sincere thanks for your personal interest in my case.

"My son, 21 years of age, has been using Peruna for a number of weeks for catarrh in the head and has obtained great relief."—Elbert S. Richards.

Catarrh Thirty Years.

Mr. Andrew Barrett, 940 N. Kidzie Ave., Chicago, Ill., writes:

"It gives me great pleasure to testify to the merits of such a worthy remedy for catarrh as your Peruna. I had suffered for thirty years from this very disagreeable disease and had tried many so-called remedies but until I used Peruna none had the desired effect.

"I have been connected with the Chicago Police Department for the past twenty-eight years. I can cheerfully recommend Peruna to anyone suffering from catarrh."—Andrew Barrett.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

Address Dr. Hartman, President of The Hartman Sanitarium, Columbus, Ohio.

LADY CURZON COMING.

Wife of the Ruler of India to Visit Her Native Land.

Lady Curzon, wife of the viceroy of India, will be a notable addition to the celebrities at Bar Harbor next month. The vice reine of Great Britain's Indian empire will remain several weeks at the Maine resort, where her mother, Mrs. Levi Leiter, has taken Mossley Hall for the season.

Lady Curzon, it is understood, is much run down by the trying and debilitating climate of India and hopes that the invigorating breezes of Bar Harbor will restore her sufficiently to enable her to rejoin her husband at Calcutta with health enough to admit of her remaining with him in India during the balance of his term as viceroy.

It will be Lady Curzon's first visit to the United States since her marriage, and Mrs. Leiter is making elaborate preparations to entertain her during her sojourn at Bar Harbor. Lord Curzon will not accompany his wife, as he is debarred by statute from leaving India so long as he continues to hold his office as viceroy.

Lady Curzon was formerly Miss Mary Leiter of Chicago. Her father, Levi Leiter, made a vast fortune in the dry goods trade in company with Marshall Field and Potter Palmer and later increased it by judicious investments in Chicago real estate.

Miss Mary Victoria Leiter was married to George Curzon in Washington in 1895. She was then in her twenty-eighth year. In 1898 Lord Curzon was appointed viceroy of India, which is the greatest gift the British government has to bestow.

As vice queen of 300,000,000 of people the American girl became at once a power in the most exclusive society of the world. The courts of Calcutta and Simla are far more magnificent than St. James or any other in Europe. The viceroy of India ranks as a ruler, and his wife is second only to the ladies of the royal family of England.

The actual stipend of the viceroy of India is 20,000 rupees a month, and his allowances are countless. The pay of the viceroy is five times greater than that of the prime minister of England, and his sway extends from the shores of Arabia to the borders of western China.

Why Fire Makes Us Blush.

When one stands before a hot fire the face becomes red, as we all know. This result is the effect of the action of radiated heat on the nerves controlling the small blood vessels of the skin. These tiny vessels are normally in a state of moderate contraction. Under exposure to heat they relax and become distended with blood. The same process, under the mysterious connection of the vasomotor nerve system with mental impressions, produces ordinary blushing. In regard to exposure to direct heat the reddening of the skin, together with the uncomfortably warm feeling accompanying it, may be looked upon as one of the useful little "danger signals" with which we are surrounded.

Persons who from any cause have lost their susceptibility, as is the case in some forms of paralysis, may expose a limb to heat until serious injury results. The reason that the face chiefly flushes is that, in the ordinary position near a fire, it is most directly exposed to the rays of heat, while most of the body is shielded by clothing; that the nerves of the face are particularly sensitive in this respect and that the skin there is more abundantly furnished with blood vessels.

Some Nautical Facts.

A knot is 6,080 feet long. The distance from New York to Liverpool is 3,064 nautical miles by the northern track and 3,139 by the southern track. The former course is taken by vessels bound for New York, the latter by vessels bound for Liverpool. From Liverpool to New York the distances are respectively 3,039 and 3,109 miles.

In estimating records the points taken on either side are Sandy Hook and Daunt's rock, Queenstown harbor. The first light sighted on the British coast is the Bull, Cow and Calf, Ireland, and on the American coast either Nantucket or Fire island.

WILL WED A SOLDIER.

Mrs. McKinley's Niece Betrothed to Major Hartzel.

Miss Mary Barber, whose engagement to Major Ralph Hartzel of Denver was recently announced, is the favorite niece of Mrs. McKinley.

Miss Barber is the daughter of Mrs. Marshall P. Barber, only sister of Mrs. McKinley, and lives in the old Saxton homestead at Canton, O. She is petite, with slender, well formed figure. Her eyes and hair are dark brown. Miss Barber was much at the White House during McKinley's presidency. It was Miss Barber who christened the battleship Ohio at San Francisco on the occasion of McKinley's visit to the coast.

Major Hartzel is a lawyer. During the Spanish war he was commissioned a paymaster in the volunteer army with the rank of major. His brother is secretary of state for Porto Rico.

The fact that the United States made a pretty good bargain when it purchased Alaska for $7,000,000 or $8,000,000 is conclusively shown by recent statistics issued by the treasury department. There is said to be $50,000,000 of American capital invested in enterprises in that territory, and the amount is growing. Gold is by no means the only Alaskan product of importance. The fishery interests are enormous. They produce $50,000,000 annually and furs another $50,000,000. The agricultural possibilities are growing, and the development of the mineral industries on a scientific and practical scale is only beginning. Alaska will probably never become a rich country; but it has already helped a large number of Americans to become rich.

Oleomargarine is not understood to be an injurious substance, but impure milk kills thousands. The legislation against deception in oleomargarine is well conceived, and now let legislators protect the milk supply. This advice is timely at all seasons; but more so than ever in the hot season when the use of preservatives is resorted to, to keep milk as long as possible.

The decision of the western coal miners not to strike is a wise one. The deplorable state in which the eastern strikers find themselves is not calculated to encourage others to imitate them. Their grievances are many and well based, but the chances of securing a redress by refusing to work do not appear encouraging.

Colonel Lamont declines to be the Democratic candidate for governor of New York this year. Mr. Lamont was in Mr. Cleveland's cabinet long enough to know that politics is an arduous profession and he does not care to follow it for the fun of the thing.

When Mr. Bryan heads an article "The Republican Tariff Dilemma" he fails to enlarge upon the surplus of $92,000,000, with a resulting removal of the remaining war taxes, amounting to $70,000,000. He rambles off into the usual free trade platitudes.

Immigrants are coming in faster than ever. The increase last year was more than 160,000 over the preceding year. Italy and Austria-Hungary continue to lead the list. That is not encouraging.

Protection has not created trusts, but it has created prosperity. As for the trust, it thrives equally as well in countries which have no protective tariff.

The search for the pole will be less vigorously prosecuted. The task now is to find Peary, who started out to find the pole.

Democrats who call Bryan the wrecker of their party are telling the truth. But they are not promoting harmony.

Germany is threatened with a meat famine, and prejudice against American beef and pork is hastening it.

All the enthusiasm over Senator Billy Mason's campaign seems to be confined to Mason.

SURPRISED THE CAPTAIN

A Pleasant Birthday Party at the Home of S. of V. Officer.

Captain George Obney, of Garfield camp, No. 3, S. of V., was 41 years old yesterday, and the members of the camp upon learning this, called upon Mrs. Obney, at her home near Ralston crossing, and told her that she would have to tell her husband to take a trip to the city Friday evening, but that she must also tell him not to remain away longer than an hour. Mrs. Obney obeyed orders and so did Capt. Obney.

When the coast was clear a large number of the members of the camp, who has assembled at the hall in the Exchange block early in the evening, went to the home of their captain, and proceeded to have a good time. It was not long afterward that the captain came home, and he was surprised to see his home filled with his officers and privates. The boys wanted him to be surprised. They had an excellent time during the remainder of the evening, and also a fine luncheon. The captain, during the evening, said that he would never forget the day that he was 41.

PAIR OF TROUSERS STOLEN

The Thief Captured With the Garments Hidden Under His Coat.

Much excitement prevailed this afternoon in the Diamond in frot of Steinfeld & Viney's clothing store when Chief Thompson arrested a man from West Virginia, who gave his name as Stephen Wise. He was drunk and entered the store stating that he wanted to buy a pair of trousers. He was shown an assortment, and was left examining them by the clerk. In a few minutes he started to leave the store, but the clerk detected a pair of the trousers hidden under his coat.

He could give no explanation and an officer was telephoned for. Whereupon the chief responded to the call and landed the rustic gentleman in the city pail. A charge of drunkenness and larceny is booked against him.

WITH THE WORKMEN IN THE CLAY PLANTS

(Special Correspondence.)

New Castle, Pa., July 19.—Owing to the large stock of ware now on hand, the officials of the Shenango Pottery company have decided not to start their pottery for two weeks yet. It was expected that this shop would resume shortly after the Fourth.

The New Castle pottery is unusually busy at this time. In order that all orders may be filled promptly a number of new men have been put to work in the clay shops.

John Munro, a well known mould maker and modeler of this city, has resumed work after a prolonged illness. He spent the past few weeks at Tiffin for the benefit of his health, which is much improved.

Samuel Dobbs has returned to New Castle from East Liverpool, where he has been visiting friends for several days.

Ralph Wood is visiting at East Liverpool, his former home.

Samuel Coventry is spending a few weeks with his old friends at East Liverpool. He is expected back to New Castle in a day or so.

At the last meeting of local union No. 57 of this city, seven new members were initiated. The membership of this local, although young, is increasing rapidly.

Joe Hunter, a presser at the sanitary shop, is the proud father of a big boy. All the boys in the shop were presented with cigars.

Here are some of the latest arrivals at the sanitary shop: Samuel Hooper, of Trenton; Gus Peggendene, of Wheeling; William Crutchley, Moses Heath, of England. This shop is running steady and orders seem to be plentiful.

No conclusion was reached last evening, at a joint conference in the rooms of the Potters' club, between a committee composed of George Smith, general secretary of kilnmen's local No. 9; Richard Herbert, Frank Thornbury, Arthur Owen and Andrew Brannon, of No. 9, and Joseph G. Lee, Samuel M. Ferguson, Daniel E. McNicol, Con Cronin and B. F. Harker, representing the Western Manufacturing Potters' association. The conference was for the purpose of settling, if possible, a dispute that the kilnmen have had with the manufacturers for years, it is said, over the matter of placing flat ware in the first ring in the biscuit kilns. It is the desire that when flat ware is placed in the first ring of a biscuit kiln, the kilnmen shall be paid one-fourth more than if the ring were filled with saggers containing hollow ware. The meeting was filled with harmony, but no results were reached. Another session will be held by the joint committees on Monday evening at the same place.

An official of the Smith-Phillips company today announced that if the company did not receive any more orders for weeks there were enough on the books at the present time to keep the big factory in operation for three months in all departments. This related to straight ware only, to say nothing of the orders that have been received for novelties. This is encouraging news for the employes of that plant, although this firm has been operating the works quite steadily since it assumed the management of the factory.

Routine business was all that was looked after at the meeting of kilnmen's local No. 9 last evening in Brotherhood hall. The attendance was large, there being about 200 kilnmen present. This local at its last meeting received a report from National Secretary T. J. Duffy relating to the work accomplished at the recent general conference between committees representing the Brotherhood and the manufacturers.

Monroe Patterson, treasurer of the Wellsville China company, stated yesterday that he was dissatisfied with the way the employes of the plant are working. The hot weather and cheap rate excursions have decimated the number of active pottery workers in Wellsville and according to Mr. Patterson the Wellsville pottery is losing money and will continue until more help is obtained.

The first ware has been packed at the Laughlin No. 3. This was done under the direction of Fred Pennington last Monday, who is employed at plant No. 2, under Wash Williams. Only a few casks were sent out, to help fill an order from No. 2 plant, but it will only be a short time until this department at the No. 3 factory will be running full time.

The walls of the new Sebring pottery are about one-third way up. William Greene, of New Castle, is the contractor on construction and Scott Hickock, of Sebring, has charge of the brick work. It will be an experimental three-kiln plant for china ware and make a specialty of table ware. They expect to compete it by the first of next year.

Some rapid work is being done on the completion of the East Liverpool Brick Manufacturing company's plant. The stone for the erection of the new kilns is already on the ground, and the work of construction will begin at the earliest possible moment. The kilns will be of modern design and as large as any along the valley.

Thirty per cent of the ware made in the clay shop is lost by breakage before it reaches the warehouse, said a manufacturer recently. Since that time steps have been taken by some of the manufacturers to have the ware handled more carefully, and some interesting news is expected on this matter soon.

While the East Liverpool pottery started operations the first of the week the plant is again idle. A steam pipe burst a day or so ago and the plant was compelled to shut down until the necessary repairs could be made. Operations are expected to be resumed by Monday.

The New Castle China company is building two new kilns, a glost and a biscuit kiln. It is authoritatively stated that if the New Castle plants prove a success there will be large additions to their capacities, as the companies have plenty of capital to invest in operating.

W. H. Schuyler, of Pittsburg, of the Crockery and Glass Journal, New York, was in East Liverpool yesterday. He finds the potteries busy and the manufacturers in a cheerful mood, and better prepared for fall trade than in any previous year. He also reports a good business coming in.

The Union, which has been idle for a few weeks, will resume operations in full Monday. Such was the statement of Manager Joseph Manor today. The plant would have been started ere this but for the repairs now being completed on account of the non-arrival of materials.

Arthur Savage, who for years has been connected with the Cleveland & Pittsburg railroad in this city, first as yard master and later as cashier, has resigned his position. He is now connected with the Sevres company in a clerical position.

George Wittingham, an expert engraver of Beaver Falls, was in the city today visiting numerous potteries and looking after work in his particular line. He reports some striking new designs.

Dave Knight, warehouseman at the Goodwin pottery, accompanied by his wife and children, left yesterday for Beaver Falls, where they will remain several days visiting friends.

At a meeting held last evening by Packers' local No. 5 the new officers elected last month were installeld. No other business was transacted other than of a routine nature.

The American China company is rushed with orders, although all departments are not yet on in full since the loaf on the Fourth.

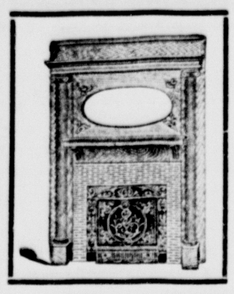

Kilndrawers' local No. 17 will meet this evening in Brotnerhood hall.

is never appreciated quite so much as on a hot day before our Soda Fountain. Then and there, it is a joy not to be denied. Our Soda Water is very popular, and steadily gaining in popularity because it represents a rare combination of choice materials, perfect equipment and expert skill in preparing, mixing and serving. That is a good deal to say in one breath, but come and taste the soda drinks, all flavors, and see for yourself how good they are.....

An Unexpected Result.

"Up in a little mining town in Pennsylvania," said a Keystone state congressman, "there was a political mass meeting at which the principal speakers were a Democrat named Kennedy and a Republican spellbinder named Plummer. It was arranged that Kennedy should speak first. 'At one point in my speech,' Kennedy said to Plummer, 'I am going to say that before the war I was a Whig, but then I became a Democrat. I want you to ask me why I did so. It will give me a fresh start, and then I can talk for an hour.'

"At the proper moment Kennedy made his statement, and Plummer, who had gone down in the crowd, interrupted him. 'I want to know,' he said in a loud voice, 'why you became a Democrat?'

"At that moment a muscular miner hit him a tremendous blow with his fist. 'I'll show you,' he said, 'that you can't break up a Democratic speaker here.'

"When the Republican orator came to his senses, the meeting had adjourned."

When Quality Can be the Only Argument.

When different makes of the same article sell for the same price, then quality is the only argument that can usually influence your trade.

The price of soda water, good, bad and indifferent is the same all over town, so that we can't talk about that, but we believe we have a most convincing argument when you consider quality. Our Grape Phosphate seems to be the most convincing convincer we have.

THRILLING ESCAPE

OF OIL WELL DRILLERS WHO RAN FOR THEIR LIVES.

Large Quantity of Nitroglycerine Went Off, Causing Mineature Volcanc.

A thrilling escape from death was had by a number of well drillers on the Weston farm, southeast of Wellsville, this week, and the particulars have just reached this city.

Oil had been struck at several points, and a larger well which was expected to be a gusher was in process of drilling. The work was completed, and by Tuesday afternoon all was in readiness to shoot the well. There were 20 quarts of nitroglycerine on the ground, to be used in the operation. The explosive was lowered to the bottom in lots of 40 quarts each, a stout cord being used for the purpose.

The first 40 quarts had been safely placed, and a large crowd had gathered around the well to watch the work. When the second lot was being lowered the cord broke, and the lives of all were in imminent danger.

"Run for your lives," was the command, instantly obeyed, and 30 persons took shelter at a safe distance.

In less than 10 seconds' time the ground shook, and with a reverberating roar, which was plainly heard in Wellsville, an immense column of rock, dirt and smoke was thrown to a great height. Mount Pelee itself could not have looked more forbidding. The oil did not appear, and the owners of the well were disappointed.

The shaft is now partly filled up by the explosion, which took place several hundred feet from the bottom. The drillers say the well would have been a big producer if the right quantity of nitroglycerine had been exploded properly.

The other 40 quarts of the stuff was above ground, close to the well's opening, and yet did not explode. Had it done so many would have been instantly killed.

The report and smoke were seen Tuesday evening by persons in Wellsville, but nobody knew the cause.

CONGO'S MILK FAMINE

Peculiar State of Affairs Because Ingram's Cows Wandered Away.

A peculiar state of affairs exists in the village of Congo. The entire population are dependent for their milk supply on cows belonging to a family named Ingram. The cows recently strayed, and the lacteal fluid has been an unknown quantity ever since. The Ingrams hunted high and low for the wandering cattle, and at length found them on the farm of Al McDonald, southeast of Chester.

The situation in Chester amounted to a milk famine, and the Ingrams lost no time in bringing back the cattle. Mr. McDonald claimed the animals had been subsisting off his crops, and claimed his right to milk them. Before things had quieted down, much ill feeling was created.

SEVEN WERE EXAMINED

By Deputy Miller as Applicant for Stationary Engineers' Licenses.

District Examiner of Stationary Engineers Elmer E. Miller, who conducted an examination in Wellsville yesterday, went to Steubenville on the Greenwood last night. Mr. Miller is the examiner of the Fifth district, with headquarters at Canton. He was to have been in East Liverpool Thursday, but was delayed by other business matters. East Liverpool applicants took the examination in Wellsville. The list of questions was the same to all, and the were required to attain a rating of 70 per cent in order to get a license.

All who passed the previous examination were entitled to a renewal upon payment of one dollar. Several applicants who were examined were unsuccessful, but Mr. Miller did not disclose their names. Seven persons were examined. They were: J. A. Forner, Lewis H. Morse, George W. Wright, N. P. Kerr, N. F. Warden, Michael McNamee and Chalres Flowers. They range in age from 19 to 65 years, and come from Wellsville, Salineville and East Liverpool. One applicant was unable to write the answers to questions, and his little daughter stood by his side and wrote what her father dictated.

Within a few days the men will receive word from Columbus announcing success or failure, as the case may be.

RINEHART VS. GRIFFITH

A Troublesome Sewer.

Considerable trouble exists on account of a defective private sewer which runs from the Goetz building to the Ohio river, crossing Main and Front streets. The sewer was built before Wellsville's present system was installed. The pipe enters the river under the C. & P. tracks, but was recently broken when the grade of the railroad was altered. The surrounding neighborhood was flooded, and rendered in a very unsanitary condition. The railroad people became tired of the delay, and this week workmen, armed with a barrel of cement stopped up the leak. This work was not done in the right shape, and the nuisance again became noticeable. A second attempt to close up the break was successful. The board of health has decided to give notice that the use of the sewer must cease.

Too Big a Bonus.

Mayor Fogo lately received a letter from W. T. Dempsey, of Beaver Falls, asking him to take up consideration of an offer to locate a trousers factory in Wellsville. The promoters of the factory wanted a tract of land 50x100 feet, a cash bonus of $5,000, and they would endeavor to locate the factory here. Mr. Dempsey asked Mayor Fogo to bring the matter up before the board of trade. The mayor said today the latter had seen fit to turn the offer down. It was thought the concern wanted too large a bonus.

The Flyer Engine.

Engine No. 603 now hauls train 335, leaving Wellsville at 7:35, west bound. No. 603 is known among the local railroad men as the "flyer." This engine is one of the largest ever built, and before being placed on its present run, was used to haul the C. & P. flyer, making the run from Cleveland to Pittsburg, 150 miles, in three hours, counting numerous stops.

A Government Engineer.

Raymond DeFreese, of Troy, one of the engineering corps of the United States geological survey, is registered at the Metropole. Mr. De Freese is on the Ohio side of the river running a few lines which will conclude the survey in this section. He attended the Ohio State college and Adelbert college, having graduated from the latter.

Mrs. C. O. Erwin and Mrs. Clyde Stuffell went to Salineville yesterday, being called there by the death of their sister, Miss Susie Stevens. Miss Stevens was known to scores of Wellsville people. She was a sufferer from consumption.

A Disappointed Kentuckian.

At the time when John G. Carlisle was senator from Kentucky his speeches were widely printed and attracted a great deal of attention. One day when the senate was in session a mountaineer from the wildest wilds of Kentucky presented himself at the door and asked to see Senator Carlisle. The visitor wore homespun and leather boots and was travel stained and dusty. He explained that he had read Mr. Carlisle's speeches and considered them great, and had walked more than a hundred miles in order to see the senator from his state. Mr. Carlisle was busy at the time, and the clerk informed the visitor that he could not be disturbed. The farmer looked disappointed and seemed reluctant to depart. Finally he asked if he might be taken where he could just catch a glimpse of the great man he had walked so far to see. The request was granted, and Mr. Carlisle was pointed out to him. After a brief scrutiny the farmer turned to the attendant:

"Reads a heap better'n he looks," he remarked sententiously, and prepared to walk back home.—New York Times.

He Swung the Lantern.

A southern senator was at one time counsel for a small railroad. At a point on the line where it crossed a prominent highway they had an old negro watchman, whose duties consisted in warning travelers of the approach of trains. One night a farmer's wagon was struck, causing a bad accident. The railroad company was of course sued for damages, and at the trial the old darky was the chief witness for his employers. He answered the questions put to him in a clear, direct manner. Among them was the query as to whether he surely swung his lantern across the road when he saw the train coming, to which he replied:

"'Deed I did, sah."

The railroad company won the suit, and the senator took occasion later to compliment his witness on his excellent testimony. The old fellow was profuse in thanks, but before they parted bluntly said:

"Lordy, Marse John, I sho' was skeered when dat lawyer gin to ax me 'bout de lantern. I was afeared he was goin' to ax if it was lit or not, 'cause de oil in it done give out some time before de axdent."

Breaking a Will.

A wealthy woman named Silva died at Lisbon and left her entire property to a rooster. She was a fervid spiritualist, a believer in the transmigration of souls, and imagined that the soul of her dead husband had entered the rooster. She caused a special fowlhouse to be built and ordered her servants to pay extra attention to their "master's" wants. The disgust of her relatives over the will caused the story to become public, and a lawsuit might have followed had not one of the heirs adopted the simple expedient of having the wealthy rooster killed, thus becoming himself the next of kin.

A Great Work of Art.

It was Apelles who visited the studio of Protogenes in Rome and, finding the artist absent, drew a thin colored line in such a way that the Roman knew that only his Grecian brother could have done it. But, not to be outdone, Protogenes drew a thinner line upon that of Apelles, and when this was seen Apelles drew a third line upon that of Protogenes. This panel was then looked upon as the greatest work of art, so says the story, in the palace of the Cæsars.

WILL PLACE ON THE MARKET

THURSDAY, JULY 24,

Beginning at 10 a. m. and 2 p. m.

When A Man Invests IN A LOT OR IN A HOME

He wants to feel reasonably sure that he is doing so where he has a reasonable chance of receiving fair returns for his money.

WHAT ARE THE CHANCES IN CHESTER, W. VA.?

A little over two years ago there was no such a town on the map. Today it is one of the busiest little cities in the great Ohio valley, with a population of 3,000 and growing at a rapid rate. In its location and its sorroundings, its present condition and future prospects it has the making of a great and prosperous city. Some of those who invested in Chester property at the start have realized as high as 100 per cent. on their money. These profits have not been the result of years of waiting, but of merely a few months.

Investigate For Yourself.

You will find that Chester is situated in almost the northern point of the Panhandle of West Virginia. It is reached by a branch of the Panhandle rail road, connecting with the main line at New Cumberland Junction some 18 miles southward. This line is shortly to be extended up the Ohio river to a connection with the main line of the Ft. Wayne Railroad and the great Pennsylvania system, reaching Pittsburg and the great eastern centers.

What are the Advantages?

A FEW OF THEM ARE LEVEL, STREETS PAVED, SEWERED AND ADORNED WITH FLAGSTONE SIDEWALKS, SEWERAGE AND BEAUTIFUL SHADE TREES; A SYSTEM OF WATER WORKS WHICH FURNISHES PURE, FILTERED WATER, ADEQUATE TO THE NEEDS OF ALL POLICE AND FIRE PROTECTION; A DOUBLE TRACK STREET RAILWAY WHICH IS EQUAL TO ANY IN THE COUNTRY. NATURAL GAS, CHEAP AND ABUNDANT. MANUFACTURING PLANTS:— A MODEL TIN PLATE MILL, FURNISHING EMPLOYMENT TO 800 PERSONS; TWO LARGE POTTERIES, EMPLOYING MORE THAN 400 PERSONS EACH, WITH OTHER INDUSTRIES ABOUT TO BE ESTABLISHED.

In addition there are good stores and all the minor industries of a prosperous city. There are also good schools good churshes and good society. The scenery is unmatched for attractiveness in all the Ohio valley. Thousands of persons flock to the neighboring pleasure resort, the Famous Rock Springs Park, daily during the summer and strangers invariably go away voting it one of the pleasantest spots along the river.

Better Opportunities

Are presented for the realization of profits. Why? Land is still cheap, compared with the prices charged in other towns of the same size. Chester is not a boom town. It's growth, although rapid, has been substantial and along conservative lines. It is both a manufacturing town and a city of homes. Hundreds of new houses were erected last season; the same record will be repeated this year, probably on a greater scale.

THE CITY OF EAST LIVERPOOL!

The great pottery manufacturing center, with 20,000 inhabitants and growing faster than any other town in all the Ohio Valley, is directly opposite Chester, and connected with it by a new iron bridge which is crossed by street cars, vehicles of all sorts and by pedestrians. The center of East Liverpool, O., is less than a mile away and hundreds of persons who work or have business in East Liverpool find Chester a more agreeable place for residence. Taxes are not high, and the advantages are all that could be asked. None of these statements are overdrawn. Some of the most desirable property in this thrifty and beautiful spot is shortly to be sold at auction. There will be bargains for those who seek them. At sales of this character no one can have an advantage. Lots will be sold to the highest bidders; those who buy will know what they are getting and if they see no bargain in the property offered they are not asked or expected to bid. We do not desire to have customers unless they are satisfied.

A Fortune Is Not Needed

to enable you to have a share in the advantages and the profits. You can start with a few dollars now and you will not need to wait long to double your money.

CHOICE LOTS FREE

with every 100 lots sold, one lot will be given away absolutely free, to some one person among those who have made purchases of one or more of the lots at this sale. One purchaser stands as good a chance as an other of securing this prize, it matters not whether he has purchased one lot or ten. A committee of reputable citizens will be selected and they will decide to whom the prize lots shall fall.

Choice New Property

will be offered at the coming sale—not lots which have been hawked about, vainly seeking a purchaser. There are over 800 of these lots which are now offered for the first time; everyone of them desirable either as residence property or as a location for business.

A Hatching Egg.

"An egg in the process of hatching," says an expert, "is remarkably sensitive to vibration. Half the failures that amateurs encounter in hatching out chicks by the incubator method are due to lack of precaution in providing against the effect of vibration on the eggs. The rumble of a train or the passage of a wagon along the street will spoil a whole incubator full of eggs if the faintest vibratory wave reaches the apparatus. Even such a little thing as the banging of a door in some other part of the house will destroy the chances of hatching out a brood where care has not been taken to place the incubator beyond the reach of such disturbances. A thunder storm always gives breeders a scare, as thousands of eggs may be spoiled by a sudden heavy thunderclap. To sneeze or cough in the vicinity of the incubators will sometimes work a disastrous result."—New York Tribune.

Editorial Pleasantries.

Two editors quarreled, and one referred to the other's early career in his paper.

"As for our contemporary," he wrote, "what can we expect from a man who was five years ago hawking from door to door with a donkey, and an ill conditioned beast at that?"

His rival did not deny it, but in his next issue appeared the following:

"Our contemporary says that five years ago we were 'hawking from door to door with a donkey, and an ill conditioned beast at that.' He is quite right. We were so occupied. But we are surprised to find the donkey has such a good memory."

Jeffries or Fitzsimmons

Pugilistic Giants In Frisco Ready For Bout July 25

BOB FITZSIMMONS and Jim Jeffries are in fine fettle for their fight, which occurs July 25 in Frisco at the San Francisco Athletic club. Both men are confident, as is generally the case with pugilists before a bout, and both claim that they were never in better condition for a world's championship battle.

Jeff says:

"I am about ready to enter the ring. By the day of the fight I will be 'fit' as a fiddle and ready to defend my championship title successfully. There's no doubt in my mind that Fitzsimmons will make a great bid to regain his lost laurels, but he'll fail. My training since I came here has been very hard. I amble through a course of work every day that would stagger a longshoreman. From now on I'll add to my schedule and will soon be doing two days' work in one. It's a big thing, though, to hold the championship, and I don't intend to lose it through being caught out of shape."

Fitz says:

"Until a few days ago I have been satisfied to go along with easy training, but good, hard systematic work is now in order. I am in fine shape—never was better—and feel ready and able to put up a harder and faster fight than I ever did. My light training has done me a lot of good, and very little polishing off will put me on edge. Skaggs Springs is one of the best places I ever struck for getting ready for a hard battle. The California air is fine, and the trips over the mountains which I take daily are great stuff. They are rather strenuous at first, but when you get used to them they are the real thing. I am down to about the weight I will enter the ring at and as strong as a bull."

Fitz has arranged a schedule which calls for any amount of work. Every minute of the day is mapped out, and the ex-champion says he sticks to the time table even closer than an express train does to its running schedule. Boxing is the chief feature of the work and will be to within a day or two of the fight. Fitz has "Soldier Tom" Wilson and George Dawson for sparring partners, and if he hands them any more under the new schedule than they have been receiving during the past few weeks they will be objects of pity.

While the Cornishman may not be of a cruel nature, he certainly is of an inventive turn of mind, and he practices new punches of all kinds on his partners as well as old ones. Of course, to get the proper effect Fitz has to let these wallops go with a good deal of speed, and they usually are felt.

On his road work Fitz is always accompanied by Mrs. Fitzsimmons and Bob junior in a carriage. Mrs. Fitzsimmons sets the pace, and Bob lumbers along. The pace is usually pretty hot, but Bob has yet to complain or call a halt. The roads are not such as an ordinary runner would fancy, either, being mostly up hill. When Fitz first tried to run, he complained that the work was all up hill. According to Bob, he would start out and run five miles up hill. Then he naturally expected to have things easy on the trip home and was looking for a chance to roll along with the brakes on.

Things were not as he thought, however, and the run back was as hard as the trip out.

Of course, like horse races and elections, prizefights are never decided until the last minute of the fray, but in the present instance there seems to be no reasonable chance of victory for the Cornishman. Fitzsimmons is a clever boxer, a determined stayer and a phenomenally hard hitter, but the giant Jim Jeffries is a Gibraltar of pugilists that neither Fitzsimmons nor any other heavyweight can successfully storm. Fitz will enter the ring of the San Francisco Athletic club at about 170 pounds. Jeff will carry with him about 215 pounds of well trained avoirdupois and, having had the experience of a fight with the long, lean Bob, should have no fear as to the result.

Jeffries should win inside of fifteen rounds. Fitz is an old man now, and, despite his remarkably preserved stamina and physique, he is not likely to stay longer than that. Naturally Bob's unexcelled ring generalship will serve to prolong the battle, but Jeff has made a deliberate study of his rival's style and will be prepared for almost anything that may occur.

As Jim's contemplated plan of action is understood, he is to play a waiting game until the tenth round. By holding himself on the defensive during the opening part of the bout he hopes to tire Bob, thus taking the edge from his terrific jabs and jolts. Then Jim will start in to "do business," and he calculates that five rounds of strong offensive work will bring the end, and in his favor.

Bob also has become a convert to the waiting style of fighting, and he intends to keep away from Jim's powerful paws until an opening presents itself. Fitz is a master of defense and understands perfectly the science of holding himself well covered without placing himself in a position where he will be unable to take advantage of possible openings, and it is this accomplishment which makes or mars a pugilist. Many men can guard themselves, many can open up telling attacks, but few there are that combine these elements without sacrificing to some extent one or the other. The successful human fighting machine must be versatile.

In the meantime the training operations on the slope are going merrily on. Bob is varying the monotony of routine work by chopping wood, feeding chickens, milking the cows and picking daffodils, while the boiler maker finds supreme enjoyment in building hencoops and talking for publication. But then this latter feature has long been a part of a pugilist's stock in trade, and Jim is not to be blamed for following precedent.

Corbett says if he ever gets a chance at James J. Jeffries again he proposes fighting on quite another tack from that on which he fought the boiler maker before. Jim says that the secret of Jeffries' success has been in his famous "crouch," which has kept all the big fellows from getting to him. Corbett says the only way to cure Jeffries of this habit is to assume the same position and fight him back in his own kind. Corbett proposes digging a subway through which to reach the big fellow, but the chances are that before he has spaded out more than a dozen cartloads Jeffries will have him tucked away in his little blankets dreaming of the good old days when John L. thought he was still a youngster.

Willie Reid, a pupil of Mike Donovan, instructor at the New York Athletic club, is out with a challenge to fight Hughey McGovern. Reid is only sixteen years of age, and his father is willing to bet $1,000 that he can defeat the brother of the former champion. What Mr. Reid, Sr., should do is to send his son to school instead of trying to make a pug out of him. He has undoubtedly read in the papers as to how the majority of them have turned out.

Spike Sullivan is looking for another fight. Spike has been getting more than he bargained for of late.

Hugo and the Barber.

When Victor Hugo lived in Paris, in the Place Royale, he used to be shaved by a barber named Brassier. A friend of the poet asked the barber one day if he was busy. "I hardly know which way to turn," was the reply. "We have to dress the hair of thirty ladies for soirees and balls." And M. Brassier showed the list to his friend. A few days after the friend returned and inquired about the thirty ladies. "Ah, monsieur," said the barber sadly, "I was not able to attend half the number, and I have lost many good customers through M. Victor Hugo." It appears that the poet when about to be shaved was suddenly inspired and seized the first piece of paper he could find to write a poem. Hugo hastily left the shop with his unfinished verses, on the back of which were the names and addresses of the thirty ladies, many of whom waited in vain for their coiffeur.

Billy Rice and a Pin.

Billy Rice, negro minstrel, used to tell the story of a man who picked up a pin as he was leaving the office of a great merchant, after an unsuccessful quest for work.

The merchant, seeing the man's action from the window, called him back and gave him employment, which kindness he repaid by becoming owner of the entire business in an incredibly short time.

Billy used to end his story by saying that he tried that scheme once when he was looking for work, dropping a pin carefully on the floor as he entered. He stated his wants to the proprietor, who not only had no employment to offer him, but remarked to his partner as Rice picked up the pin:

"Say, if that fellow's so small as to steal a pin off the floor, how much do you think he'd leave in my till?"

BROKE WORLD'S RECORD

WELL KNOWN COUPLE DANCED FOUR HOURS CONTINUOUSLY.

Made a Wager With the Piano Player, And He Lost, But Dancers Kept on Whirling.

The world's record at dancing was broken in this city at Columbian park last evening. In the past the record for a dance has been two hours and 35 minutes, but the record is four houds and 15 minutes.

During the dance at Columbian park last evening Charles Shenkel made a wager with the dancers that he could play the piano longer than any couple could dance. The wager at first went unheeded, but soon Joseph Cassidy, of this city, and Miss Bessie Golden, of Wellsville, took the piano player at his word, and at 9:15 o'clock the dance, which proved to be a record breaker, commenced.

The couple danced and the piano player furnished the music until it seemed that his fingers would not stand the strain. Finally it was seen that the piano player was giving out, and that was shortly after 4 o'clock. However, the dancers continued to dance, and at 1:30 o'clock time was called, they having danced continuously for four hours and 15 minutes.

Cassidy is a well known pottery printer, while Miss Golden is employed in the decorating department of the Wallace & Chetwynd's pottery.

Phelps Will Contest.

Canton, July 19.—Wallace H. Phelps, who secured 21 of the 132 Stark county delegates to the Republican congressional convention to be held in Salem, announced that he would contest the third ward at Canton. Phelps claims that three ballots were taken from the box in precinct A, which was overwhelmingly for Grant, and deposited in the box at precinct B, which Grant carried by a vote of 36 to Phelps 35.

Coopers' Local for Sebring.

W. F. Dorff, of Third street, national organizer of the C. I. U. of N. A., coopers, left this morning for Sebring, where he will organize a new local of the coopers. He reports the coopers throughout the country becoming generally organized, the East Liverpool local having increased to 71 in membership. The headquarters of the national organization are at Canton.

NOWLING ARRESTED

ORCHESTRA LEADER ACCUSED OF BREAKING THE SABBATH.

His Plea Not Guilty—Numerous Arrests Are to Follow.

A. K. Nowling, the leader of the park orchestra, was arrested this morning on a warrant sworn out by E. S. Good, for laboring on Sunday. He was arrigned before Squire Johnston and pleaded not guilty. He was released on his own recognizance, for his apeparance Monday morning at 9 o'clock.

This is the first of the cases instituted against park officials and employes. The wararnts are out for Messrs. Smith and Maxwell, of the park company, Young, Page, and five other musicians; William Dorff and Jesse Good, ticket seller and collector.

The park officials will be represented by competent counsel, and will probably carry up the cases to the circuit court of Hancock county.

Mr. Nowling informed a News Review reporter this morning that his orchestra had a contract with the park management for playing six days a week. Their services on Sunday, therefore, were gratitious, and they were not amenable to the law. Mr. Nowling will be represented by strong legal talent, and will also carry the case to the circuit court.

The other cases will be heard as soon as the warrants are served, which are all now in the hands of Constable Allison. It is probable that the defendants will all plead not guilty.

Mr. Good said in Nowling's case he was not ready to present his proofs this morning to Squire Johnston, and the justice was therefore privileged to release Nowling on his own recognizance.

The hearings promise to be interesting.

Bakers' Outing.

The employes of the Ward-Mackey company's mammoth bakery came in on a special train of nine coaches over the New Cumberland branch, this morning. They number about 500, and are accompanied by their wives and families, which brings the number up to about 1,000 people. They are enjoying themselves both at the park and in the city.

Interested In Pure Food.

The retail grocers of West Virginia are in sesison at Wheeling, and are proposing legislation looking to the enactment of pure food laws in the state by the legislature as well as the creating of an office for a state commisisoner to look after food products.

On a Summer Tour.

Thomas Hutton, of Albany, N. Y., who is visiting in West Virginia, stopped in Chester today. He has three Filpino monkeys, brought from the islands by returning soldiers. Mr. Hutton is on a summer tour, and will visit the resorts of the state.

Blinded by a Bee.

Many Get Vaccinated.

Quite a number of Chester citizens have been vaccinated, and many others are going through the ordeal. However, the fear from an epidemic of smallpox is past.

CHESTER NOTES.

J. F. McDonald left for Chicago today on a business trip.

Mr. Enoch Riley has started a news route to Lawrenceville.

Fitzpatrick, the smallpox patient, is improving rapidly. It has been 10 days since the discovery of the case, and there have been no new developments.

The lawn fete at the Asbury M. E. church last night, in the grove adjoining, was a social and financial success. Sixteen dollars was the amount cleared.

Council No. 81, Jr. O. U. A. M., will initiate a candidate next Wednesday night. The order is quite prosperous at the present time, having a membership of 56.

Jesse Phillips, of Hammondsville, has moved to Chester and is now living on Third street. He was married just a short time ago to Miss Lucy Scott, of Brilliant.

Mrs. J. E. Hartman, of Hammondsville, accompanied by her little girl and Miss Ruby Hartman, the latter of Pittsburg, have been visiting Mr. Hartman, who is employed in the Chester mill.

Stewart & Hopper brought in a well in the Nichol farm yesterday good for five barrels. Campbell & Co. have already located a new well on the Campbell farm. Both are in the Hookstown field.

is an unprecedented demand for sanitary ware.

All of the sanitary plants are busy and the orders now awaiting to be filled give every prospect for steady employment for the men until the first of next year at the least.

The old Hart Brewer pottery on Greenwood avenue, which is controlled by Messrs. Phillips & Gruesser, will shortly begin to manufacture sanitary ware. The plant in the past was devoted exclusively to general ware.

Alexander Turford, who was the selling agent of the old Egyptian pottery, before it passed into the hands of Former Tax Receiver C. Harry Baker and City Treasurer W. J. B. Stokes, has associated himself with Messrs. Phillips & Gruesser and will have charge of the selling department.

The sanitary men will begin work in about two weeks.

The Elite pottery, which has recently been erected by Messrs. Page, Diehl and Benson, will enter the sanitary field in a week or so.

In spite of the handicap because of the shortage of coal with which to fire the kilns, most of the general ware plants are well stocked with orders and promise to be busy for some time to come. This is particularly true with the Mercer, Crescent and Cook potteries.

The Glasgow pottery is suffering because of lack of coal, and since the coal strike began little ware has been made at the three plants of the Greenwood Pottery company. This firm manufactures a grade of ware which cannot be fired with soft coal.

19TH YEAR. NO. 169. EAST LIVERPOOL, SATURDAY, JULY 19, 1902. TWO CENTS.

MAKING THE OHIO NAVIGABLE AT ALL SEASONS OF THE YEAR

WHAT NEW DAM WILL LOOK LIKE.

Great improvements are in progress under the auspices and at the expense of the United States government, on the Ohio river from Pittsburg to its junction with the Mississippi at Cairo. When they are completed the Ohio will be navigable at all times, save when closed by ice, by all river steamers, as the stream will then be virtually a series of deep water pools, or levies, connected by locks of ample size to permit the passage of all steamers and tows, now plying the river at what is n ow known to river men as coal boat stage of water.

The much desired and long sought result will be reached by the construction of a series of dams combined with locks at such intervals on the river as to enable those government officials in charge of them to keep the stream navigable for all types of river crafts. To construct these dams and locks the general government will expend vast sums of money and will also expend a considerable sum annually in manning and maintaining them. One of these costly improvements will be located at Walker, near the city, unless present plans are changed, and it is not likely that they will be.

Believing that the details of river improvements, which will be of very great commercial advantage to this and other cities, have been obtained from Captain W. E. Craighill, United States Engineer. He gives also minute particulars as to the construction of the unique dams and locks, by the construction and operation of which so happy a result is reached.

A reporter called upon Capt. Craighill at his office at Wheeling, and was most courteously received by him. The captain first produced an accurate map of the Ohio river from the head of navigation to the river's junction with the Mississippi. Every minutia of the river's topography is shown on this map, or rather series of hundreds of maps—for it is necessarily in atlas form. Every island, every pool and shallow, every turn and bend of the serpentine stream, every important town, city or village upon its banks, all its channels and all its intricacies are clearly set forth and delineated on this masterfully drawn map of the Ohio. It was the result of years of labor by expert surveyors and draughtsmen. Some idea of its extent can be formed from the fact that the map is drawn on a scale of about four inches to the mile.

Then the captain showed the reporter hundreds of photographs delineating all phases of the work in progress on the dams and locks on the Ohio and Kanawha rivers—for he has entire charge of the government improvements on both streams, and three of these, which will give to the reader a fairly clear understanding of the manner in which the great river is to be bound and made to subserve the intrests of commerce, are reproduced in connection with this article.

The first dam and lock to be completed was that located at Davis island, below Pittsburg, which resulted in the formation of the deep water stretch of the river now officially designated 'the Pittsburg pool." It is here that it is now possible to hold millions of bushels of coal on coal barges and coal boats in perfect safety in deep water—caused by the construction of the dam—until a barge or coal boat stage is reached in the river below the dam, when they are rushed down the river to Cincinnati and other points in immense tows, as high as sixteen barges or boats being brought down by one steamer.

Six miles below Beaver, Pa., another dam and lock is rapidly nearing completion, and this will create a stretch of deep water to be popularly known as the Beaver river pool, including the mouth of that stream within its limits. This, to the government officials will be known as dam No. 6.

Between 6 and No. 1, dams and locks—always a lock at one end of these dams—Nos. 2, 3, 4 and 5 are in process of construction, and when completed will, with 1 and 6, give continuous deep water from Pittsburg almost to the Pennsylvania state line.

Dam No. 7, for which an appropriation has been made, but upon which work has not yet begun, will be located near Smith's Ferry, just within the borders of Pennsylvania.

Dam No. 8, to be located at Walker, below East Liverpool, and an appropriation having been made, work will soon be inaugurated on it.

Dam No. 9 will be located just above Kingston, W. Va., and dam No. 10 just above Steubenville, O. No appropriation has yet been made for their construction, but it will be done at an early date.

Dam No. 11 is to be constructed a short distance below Steubenville, and as an appropriation has been made for it by congress, construction work will soon begin.

The next dam in the chain of navigation improvements will be located a short distance above Sisters, near Wheeling. No appropriation has yet been made for its construction, but this will be made doubtless at the next session of congress. It will be known as dam No. 12.

The next dam in the series, No. 13, is now in progress of construction. It is located at McMechen, and when completed, five years hence, will work changes of vast importance to Wheeling and the other towns above. What is now a fickle, ever-varying stream, flowing past the city's wharves, will be as by the touch of the magician's wand, transformed into a lake, whose waters shall ever be navigable to all river crafts, pleasure yachts of every kind, and through which the waters of the Ohio will glide all but currentless, yet keeping it every fresh.

These dams, known as Chancine witcket dams, are all constructed on the same plan, which is of French origin. Each consists of three divisions. The stone abutment at one side of the stream, a commodious lock at the opposite or channel side, and the dam proper between these. The latter is far from being a dam as the term is ordinarily used. It consists of a series of movable sections or "wickets," each 4 feet in width and 15 feet in length, hung about the middle cross section and held in any desired position by a steel prop attached to it just above the center.

These wickets can be raised to a very nearly perpendicular position, partly lowered, or depressed until they lie flat upon the bed of the stream. In a flood emergency they will turn one-fourth of a circle on their centers lying horizantal, or parallel with the end of the river, thus allowing the water to pass below and over them and present but a trifling resistance to the passage of the flood waters between the walls of the lock at one end of the dam and the abutment.

The action of the wicket system will be better understood by looking carefully at the illustration marked "B," published in connection with this article.

In it is shown in the foreground the abutment wall, then a large unmber of wickets lying flat upon the bottom of the river. Next is seen a wicket in the flood emergency position, while beyond them may be seen five wickets in position for forming part of the dam.

Back of these wickets forming the dam, is constructed, as will be seen in illustration "A," a narrow tramway, or "service bridge," to be exact, the track of which is considerably higher than the top of the dam when wickets are at their highest point. This tramway is of skeleton steel construction, consisting of as many sections as there are wickets in the dam, and they can be folded down upon the bed of the stream, as will be seen in illustration "B," where they are shown in both upright and horizontal positions.

In the same illustration at the far end of the wicket or dam is shown the lock, of which a more detailed picture is given in illustration "C."

In the construction of these dams the first step is the construction of temporary or coffer dams both above and below the line on which the permanent dam is to be constructed. These are clearly shown in illustration "A."

The dam at McMechen, known by the government engineers as "No. 13, Ohio river," may be taken as a specimen of these government works. It is of special interest to Wheeling and its sister cities of Benwood, Bellaire, Bridgeport and Martin's Ferry. When completed it will give perpetual deep water, and splendid yachting opportunities from McMechen to a point one-half mile below Burlington. The largest boats can "go about" without difficulty, and there will be a charming permanency to the river which has never been known or enjoyed before.

The total cost of the dam will be about $950,000. Construction of the lock was begun last year. The coffer dam is already completed. There were unexpected difficulties in securing a good foundation, and for this reason the contract had to be supplemented, causing some delay. Everything is now in shape, and work will progress steadily until completion. Captain Craighill stated yesterday to a reporter that the McMechen dam would be completed in five years.

The lock at the dam will be of enormous proportions. Its length is to be 600 feet between gates and its width 100 fet in the clear. It will accommodate at one time a steamer with bages carying 12,000 tons of coal—enough to load an ocean steamer. It will have no swinging gates, but at each end is a massive sliding door which can be rolled back into a slot or opening in the land walls of the lock when steamers are to pass in or out. There are also sluice gates for the admission of water to or its exit from the lock.

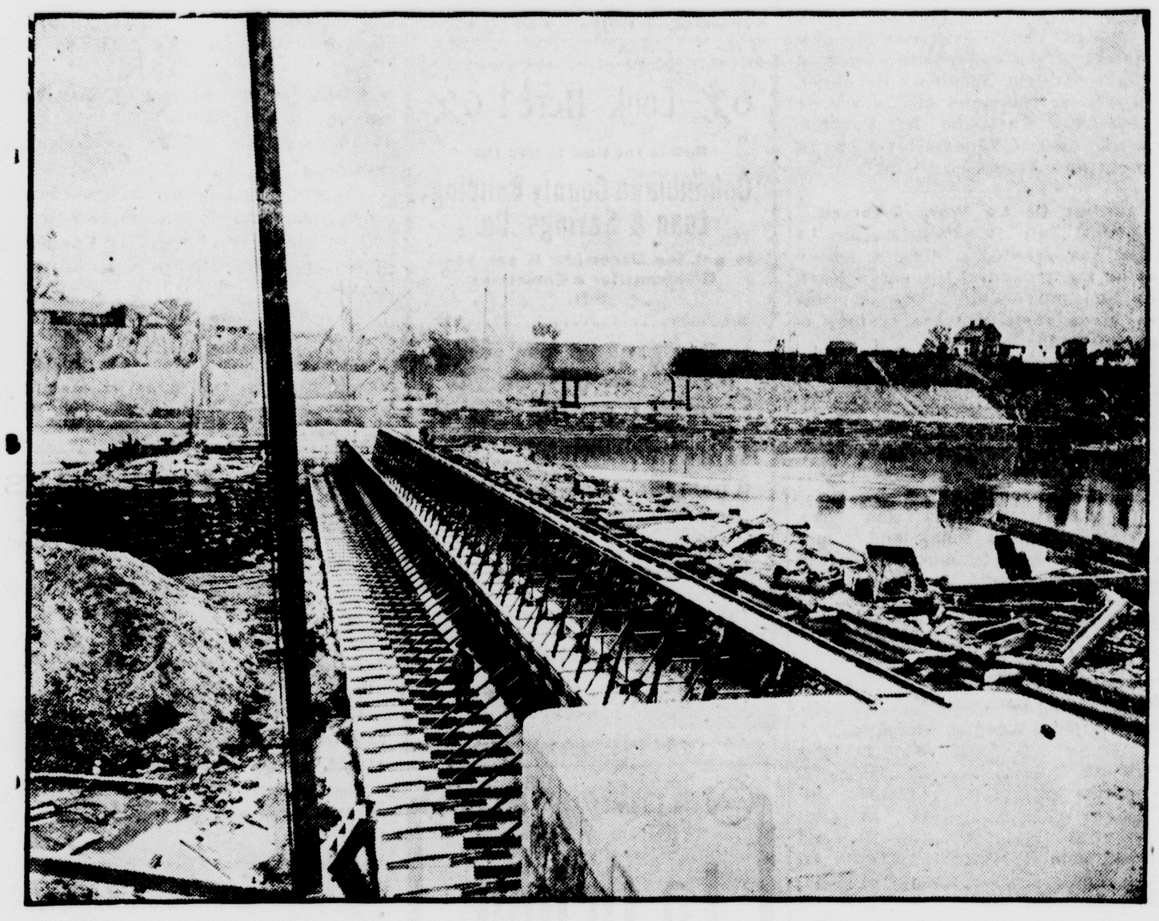

The lock will be first completed. Then, what is known as the "navigation pass" portion of the dam. This extends 600 feet into the river from the river walls of the lock and the upper surface of its bed, or base is four feet lower than that of the balance of the dam. It is the channel for vessels when the stage of water is such as to render use of the lock unnecessary and cause the wickets of the entire dam to be lowered to bed of stream, as shown in illustration "B." Between this and the balance of the dam which is designated as the "weir," a massive stone and cement abutment is constructed.

Then the balance of the bed of the dam is constructed, terminating at a massive abutment of masonry and concrete.

The massive wickets are of oak, those of the navigation pass being 14 feet by 4 feet, and those of the balance of the dam, known as the weir, four feet shorter. The steel sections of the tramway are next put in place, he enormously heavy and massive doors are placed in the great lock, the coffer dams are removed, and the lock and dam will be ready for operation.

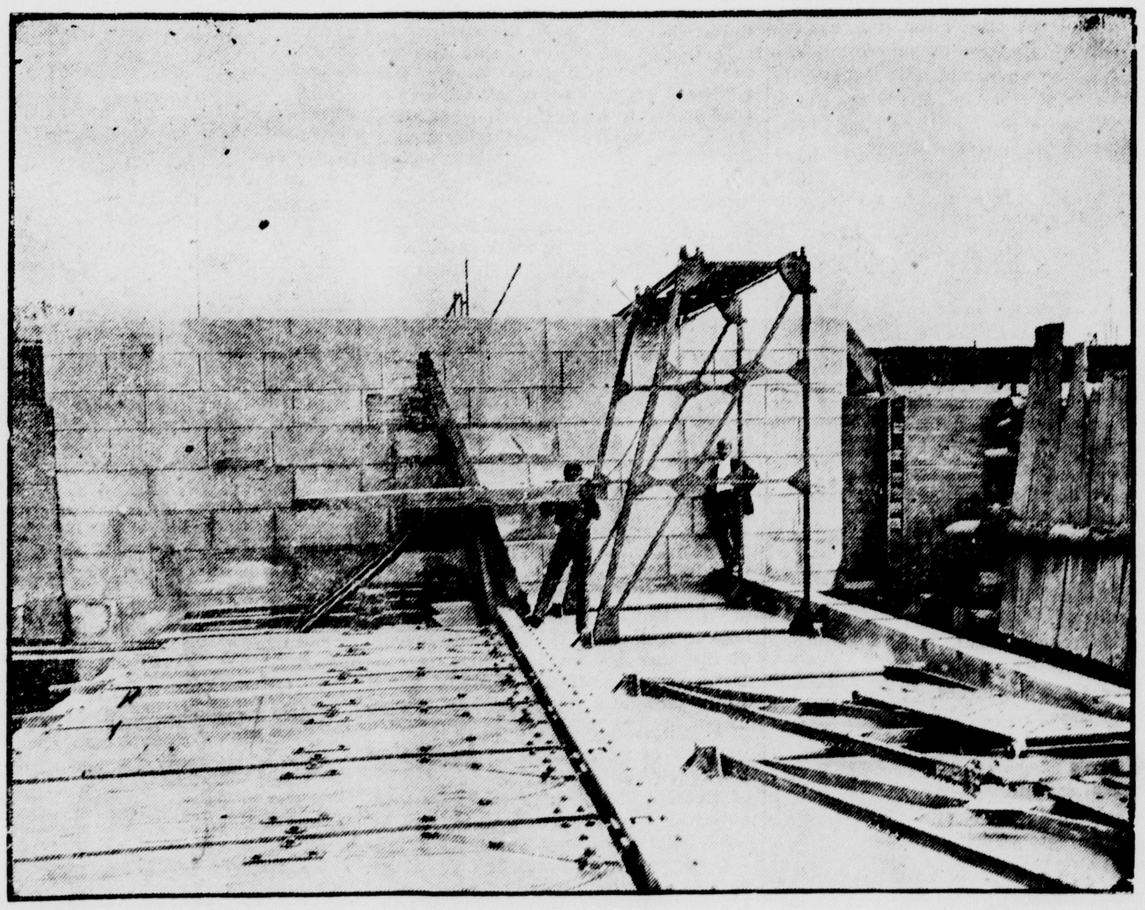

The dimension of the No. 13, the McMechen dam, are as follows: Width of navigation pass, 600 feet; balance of the dam, technically known as the "weir," 400 feet; total width of the dam proper from abutment to river wall of lock, 1,000 feet; extreme perpendicular height of dam 13.8 feet; wickets in navigation pass, 15 feet long; in weir 11 feet, the bed of the pass being four feet lower than that of the head of the weir. The wickets are inclined at an angle of 20 degrees from the perpedicular thus presenting an angle of 110 degrees to the pressure of the water above.

The height of the service bridge on which the cars carrying the engine and the "winch" for lowering or raising the wickets run is 2 1-2 feet higher than the top of the dam, for evident reasons.

The wall of the lock and the wall of the abutment extends 20 feet above the bed of the dam or five feet above its top.

All the improvements on the Ohio river, also those on the Kanawha are in charge of Captain W. E. Craighill, U. S. engineer, who is now a citizen of Wheeling, residing at 1209 Chapline street. His headquarters are at 1050 Main street. He is a very pleasant and obliging gentleman. Graduating with honor from West Point, in the class of '85 with the rank of lieutenant, he performed much important service with the United States Engineer corps in river and harbor work. He took an active part later in the Spanish-American war, and saw much hard service in the Philippines as major of the Fortieth Volunteer infantry, of which Col. E. A. Godwin, of West Virginia, was in command, of whom Captain Craighill said yesterday, "Col. Goodwin is a man for whom I have the highest regard, he is a splendid soldier and a thorough gentleman."

While in the Philippines Captain Craighill planned and inaugurated the improvement of Manila harbor, which are now being carried on. He also was in active service during the war in China, where he was on General Chaffee's staff. He is familiar with the character of the Moros and says of them: "The Moro is bad—like a rattle snake, but civilization and civilized troops will easily conquer him." He returned from Manila in September, 1901, and was then placed in charge of all government improvements on the Ohio and Kanawha rivers, an oppointment on which this city may justly congratulate itself.

In the office here is also Assistant U. S. Engineer Charles Humphreys, who has immediate charge of the construction on the McMechen dam, and who will have charge of No. 11, to be put in at Steubenville.

S. G. Campbell, also at Wheeling, is chief government inspector of construction.

The contractors on the McMechen dam are Sheridan & Kirk, originally from Kentucky, but now residing at McMechen.

When dams are completed and begin to be operated it is necessary that those in charge be in constant communication with points at headwaters of the river and on its tributaries, hence each dam is connected with these points by a special telephone line, and either night or day, when a message is received announcing a freshet in a tribuatary above a dam in its pool the men in charge at once begin lowering the wickets and tramway sections. This is often dangerous work, particularly at night time in stormy weather. In case of a mere tributary freshet the dam is raised again as soon as the flood has run out. Where it is a general flood then all dams from the head of the river down are lowered.

The wickets on the weir section of the dam—meaning all of it except the navigation pass—are being continually raised and lowered to keep the water at an even stage and avoid violent charges with consequent dangerous currents, and to prevent the stranding of boats along the banks.

Records will be kept of all boats passing either way on the river so that those in charge at the locks always have accurate information as to location of all boats on the river. In passing the locks packets have right of way over freight and tow boats.

Appropriations have been made for dams Nos. 18 and 19. The former is located just below Marietta and the latter near Parkersburg.

Bids for the work on the navigation pass at dam No. 5, located just above Rochester, were opened at Captain Craighill's office on Tuesday, July 15.

The illustrations are from dams now in process of construction on the Kanawha river, but they are exactly the style to be erected at McMechen and other Ohio river points.

Vatican Organ Said It Was Reached In Philippine Friars' Matter.

U. S. INITIATIVE ENDS HAPPILY.

Foundation Reached For Further Negotiations Between an Apostolic Delegate and the Governor of Philippines, at Manila.

Rome, July 19.—Observatore Romano (organ of the vatican) yesterday published an official note as follows:

"The initiative of the government of the United States, with the object of arriving at an understanding with the holy see about religious questions in the Philippines, in which it showed frankness and fine political tact, has reached a happy ending after negotiations conducted on both sides in a spirit of conciliation and friendly deference. The general lines of a common accord have been drawn up to the mutual satisfaction of the parties concerned and in conformity with the proposals made to the holy see in a memorandum. These general lines will serve as a basis for further negotiations, as regards details to be conducted and brought to a conclusion at Manila between an apostolic delegate and the governor of the Philippines."

Rampolla Sent Note to Taft.

Rome, July 19.—A note from the vatican was presented to Governor Taft last night, signed by Cardinal Rampolla, which said in part:

"I hasten to acknowledge the receipt of the letter by which you kindly communicated to me the cablegram from Secretary Root answering my note of July 9, which explained the counter project of the vatican for the regulation of religious affairs in the Philippines. While thanking you for this important communication, I am happy to assure you that the holy see has learned with the liveliest satisfaction the high consideration in which Mr. Root, in the name of the government of the United States, holds the fitness of the measures which the vatican, independently of the solution of any economic question, designed taking to ameliorate the religious situation in the archipelago and to co-operate in the pacification of the people under American sovereignty. The measures are indicated in my memorandum of June 21 and my letter of July 9. These declarations of Mr. Root do honor to the deep political wisdom of the government of the United States, which knows how to appreciate the happy influence of the holy see for the religious and civil elevation of the people, especially Catholics.

Pleasing to the Pope.

"With equal satisfaction the pontiff has taken into account the assurances of Secreary Root that the American authorities in the Philippines and at Washington will put forth all possible efforts to maintain the good understanding happily established with the authorities of the Catholic church. On his part the pontiff will not fail to give the apostolic delegate, soon to be sent to the Philippines, the most precise instructions according to my former notes.

"The main lines for future negotiations, indicated in the notes, having been accepted by Secretary Root, the representative of the vatican in the archipelago will enter into relations with the authorities in the Philippines on the four points indicated by Mr Root at the end of his cablegram.

"The holy see does not doubt that mutual confidence, combined with the action of its representative and that of the American government, will easily produce a happy solution of the pending questions, inaugurating for that noble country a new era of peace and true progress."

Pope to Receive Taft Monday.

Governor Taft was informed last night that the pope had fixed July 21 for his farewell audience.

Governor Taft will start Saturday for Vallombrosa, near Florence, where he will stay with his family until Monday, when he will return for his his audience with the pope.

London, July 19.—The Rome correspondent of the Dail Chronicle says the pope is intensely displeased at the way in which the commission of cardinals has conducted the negotiations with Judge Taft in the matter of the friars in the Philippines. "I learn from an authoritative source," says the correspondent, "that besides annulling the procedure of the commission of cardinals, the pope has summarily dissolved it, expressing his view that the American demands were reasonable, and signifying his readiness to treat with Judge Taft personally.

STOCK MARKET EXPERIENCED

Another Day of Animation, Friday. Large Capital Pursued Its Operations With Confidence.

New York, July 19.—Yesterday was another animated day in the stock market, with aggregate sales of over 1,000,000 shares. The strength and variety of the market had no new development to account for them, but the large capital which has embarked upon the project of putting up price and inviting an outside following pursued their operations with apparently unabated confidence.

The leaders of yesterday's market were Pennsylvania and affiliated railroads. Southern Railway was brought into the movement in a way to make it appear that closer relations than those now existing might be in prospect between the two properties. The apparent determination of the coal miners' convention not to make their strike general was given as a reason for the aggressive buying of Pennsylvania and all the seaboard soft coal carriers, and there was in addition a circumstantial assertion that Pennsylvania had secured control of Reading.

The accompanying advance of New York Central was held to signify an acquiescence in the new control on the part of the Vanderbilt interests. The market closed firm, but below the best, except in a few cases.

"NO STRIKE" CHEERED

Delegates Applauded Mitchell When He Told Them to Get Rid of Idea.

AN ASSESSMENT IS LIKELY.

It May Be 10 Per Cent or More—The Matter Referred to a Commitee Yesterday Afternoon, Who Were to Report This Morning.

Indianapolis, July 19.—At the conclusion of a secret session, which lasted the entire afternoon yesterday, the recommendations of President Mitchell for the management of the anthracite strike were referred to a special committee, which is to report back to the convention this morning. This committee consists of President Mitchell, Vice President Lewis, Secretary Wilson, and the president of each district which is taking part in the convention. There was little doubt that the committee will urge the adoption of the recommendations and fix the rate of assessment at 10 per cent or higher.

Lewis Spoke on Haskins' Amendment.

At the opening of the executive session Vice President Lewis took the floor and delivered an energetic speech on the amendment offered by Delegate Haskins, in the morning, to the effect that the fund to be raised in aid of the anthracite miners be extended to all of the striking miners where their strike has been sanctioned by the general organization. He declared that he thought all the miners should be taken care of in like manner. He also warned the convention that it would be necessary for the convention to so word its recommendations as to avoid the laws of Pennsylvania, which, he said, might cause trouble when an attempt should be made to collect the assessments of the men through the check offices by bringing an injunction to restrain alleged conspiracy.

President Mitchell then took the floor to speak for the adoption of the recommendations made in his speech of Thursday. In part he told the convention that the strikes in West Virginia and elsewhere were being protected by the general organization under assessments of the union, but that the assessment which was under discussion was necessary for the support of the anthracite strike alone, and should not be diverted from its purpose.

Told Them Not to Think of Strike.

Mr. Mitchell assured that the strike in the Pittsburg district and all other strikes would be looked after without splitting up the fund for the anthracite men, and again urged the men to dismiss from their minds the idea of a general strike. His remarks were greeted with enthusiastic cheers.

President Dolan, of district number 5, Pittsburg, secured the floor to explain conditions in his district. He had said in the morning session that his district had not received aid, that the aid it had received had been insufficient, and President Mitchell had rejoined that the district had received from the national organization the exact sum which the officers of the district had said would be necessary to win the district. Mr. Dolan made a long explanation of the manner in which the money had been expended and told of the conditions in the district surrounding Pittsburg. When Mr. Dolan had concluded several delegates made short speeches, asking the convention to hasten matters. A vote was then taken on the Haskins amendment and it was voted down by a decisive majority. This left before the convention the original motion for the adoption of the recommendations of the president. A number of amendments were then offered, all relating to the manner in which the assessment should be made.

One by Mr. Ryan, of Illinois, favored 10 per cent of the net earnings of the members of the union; another, by Vice President Lewis, ten per cent of the gross earnings, and a third, by Secretary Wilson, suggested that in some districts the assessment should be made on the percentage basis, and in others on the basis of $1 per week.

Committee to Consider Matter.

These were all pending when Secretary Wilson offered an amendment, that the matter be referred to a committee consisting of the three highest officers of the national organization, and the presidents of the districts represented in the convention. This prevailed and an adjournment was taken until 10 o'clock this morning.

At the conclusion of the session, Secretary Wilson said:

"It will cost $500,000 weekly to support the men now on strike in the various districts. An assessment of $1 a week will bring in $250,000 a week, an assessment of 10 per cent per week upon each member of the union will result in about the same sum. This will leave us $250,000 to raise each week from outside sources and from the promises an offers that have been made us, we are confident we will be able to do this."

Birds Made a Sieve.

In the mountains of Tennessee a stranger came upon a man who was shoveling coal upon a wooden sieve. Upon inquiry how on earth he got such a curious thing the old man replied:

"Stranger, I don't think you'll b'leeve me if I tell you."

"Oh, yes, certainly," said the man; "I will believe you."

"Waal," said the mountaineer, "it war this way: About five years ago I lived down on the side of the mountain whar woodpeckers and other kind o' birds is powerful thick. That 'ar thing"—pointing to the sieve—"war my door to my cabin. It 'ud mock any bird that flies. I'd jest sit thar some summer evenin' and jest move it, and every bird came that war imitated.

"Howsumever, one day I left my cabin to go huntin' and went preamblin' down the mountain. Waal, some wind come along and made that 'ar door imitate a woodpecker. First one come and then a whole pile o' the critters. They lit in on the door, and when I come it war jest like you see it."

The man thanked him and moved on.

"I declar'," said the mountaineer, "I don't b'leeve he thought I war tellin' the truth." And he resumed shoveling coal.—New York Herald.

Thoughtless, Selfish.

Thoughtlessness of others is nothing more than downright selfishness, which is the curse of humanity. The man who on leaving an elevated train pauses at the head of the stairs to light his cigar is selfish. He incommodes all who are behind him. The woman who insists on passing up or down the stairs ahead of the eager crowd, slowly, indifferent to the haste of others, must be an awful thing at home. He who pauses to tie his shoe regardless of the interruption of traffic is a brute in his family. I see all these things a dozen times a day and wonder what kind of lives such persons lead in the family circle. One of the common evidences of thoughtlessness is seen in those who stand in the middle of the sidewalk to chat while multitudes are forced to deflect or make an offset in order to pass them. The more I see of men the greater is my respect for asses, dogs and mules.—New York Press.

A Roman Dinner.

A Roman dinner at the house of a wealthy man consisted chiefly of three courses. All sorts of stimulants to the appetite were first served up, and eggs were indispensable to the first course. Among the various dishes we may instance the guinea hen, pheasant, nightingale and the thrush as birds most in repute. The Roman gourmands held peacocks in great estimation, especially their tongues. Macrobius states that they were first eaten by Hortensius, the orator, and acquired such repute that a single peacock was sold for 50 denarii, the denarius being equal to about eightpence halfpenny of our money.—Chambers' Journal.

Figuratively Speaking.

"Well," said young Graftsky, "I've soldiered half of the afternoon, and I guess I might as well round it out by loafing the other half."

"Yes," said his friend, J. Wise, Jr., "but the rounding out will be a lot easier than squaring yourself with the boss afterward."—Los Angeles Herald.

Brain Food Nonsense.

Another ridiculous food fad has been branded by the most competent authorities. They have dispelled the silly notion that one kind of food is needed for brain, another for muscles, and still another for bones. A correct diet will not only nourish a particular part of the body, but it will sustain every other part. Yet, however good your food may be, its nutriment is destroyed by indigestion or dyspepsia. You may prepare for their appearance or prevent their coming by taking regular doses of Green's August Flower, the favorite medicine of the healthy millions. A few doses aids digestion, stimulates the liver to healthy action, purifies the blood, and makes you feel buoyant and vigorous. You can get the reliable remedy at Charles F. Craig's.

ROOT PRAISED THE GUARDSMEN.

So Did Generals With Him, After Pennsylvanians Marched Passed Them.

Gettysburg, Pa., July 19.—Secretary of War Elihu Root and a party of regular army officers yesterday visited the famous battlefield where the entire division of the national guard of Pennsylvania, numbering more than 5,000 men, has been in camp this week. The secretary was honored with a "march past." Accompanying Mr. Root were Adjutant General Corbin, Brigadier Generals Wood, Bates and Randolph, Colonel Carter, Major Dunn and Lieutenant Clark. The party were escorted to division headquarters by the First City Troop and the Sheridan Troop. Upon their arrival at headquarters they were welcomed by Governor Stone and Major General Miller. Battery B fired a salute in honor of the secretary. The visitors were driven through the camp and after luncheon the entire division paraded past the Washington officials. Secretary Root and the army officers complimented the national guard commanders upon the fine soldierly appearance and the good discipline of the men. The party left camp at 7 o'clock last night.

The breaking up of the camp began yesterday afternoon. The regiments having the farthest to travel were the first to go. The Fifteenth and Eighteenth regiments struck their canvass early in the afternoon, and the former command left for home before 6 o'clock. Other regiments were to leave during last night. The First brigade was to depart this morning and the Third during the day.

COMPANIES CAN CONSOLIDATE.

Opinion Filed by Dauphin County, Pa., Court.

Harrisburg, July 19.—The Dauphin county court filed an opinion yesterday morning deciding that electric light and gas companies chartered under the general corporation act of 1874 may consolidate. The question arose in the case of a bill filed by the commonwealth at the instance of the attorney general to enjoin the Huntingdon Gas company and the Huntingdon Electric Light company from consolidating.

The trial of Sarah Robinson, colored, indicted for murder in the first degree, came to a sudden end at Canton, O., when the accused offered to enter a plea of manslaughter and such a plea was accepted. Mrs. Robinson shot and killed her paramour, Watson McNair, at Massillon, April 4, in a saloon and all-round tough joint which he was conducting. She had left her husband for McNair, but they finally had trouble over his attention to a white woman. At Huntington, W. Va., Judge D. E. Matthews, in criminal court, imposed sentences as follows on convicted criminals: Wesley Duty, a 16-year old incorrigible youth, unlawful cutting, to reform school until he attains the age of 21; Garfield Meddings, the slayer of George Fisher, nine years; Oscar Phipps, who shot to death Ed Swanie, penitentiary for life.

The boy managed to break away from the father and was not in the least injured.

Superintendent Philip Demmel, of the bureau of detectives, received a telegram notifying him that County Detective Robert G. Robinson and City Detective William Elmore had corralled Barre. OUTLOOK IMPROVED.

So Dun's Review Says of Industries--Due to Brighter Labor Situation.

IMPROVEMENT IN AGRICULTURE.

Prospects For Active Trade Decidedly Encouraging—Financial Conditions Are Sound—Less Failures Than Same Period Last Year.

New York, July 19.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s Weekly Review of Trade, issued today, said in part:

Settlement of numerous labor controversies and prospect of early agreements as to other struggles have greatly improved the industrial outlook, while agricultural conditions steadily improve. As these have been the only unfavorable influences for some months, the prospects for active trade are decidedly encouraging. Preparations for unusually heavy fall sales are being made and confidence grows stronger. Mills and furnaces that have been idle on account of the usual overhauling resumed as rapidly as needed repairs could be made. Financial conditions are sound, the mid-year dividend distributions producing no stringency, and speculation has been heavy for the season, both in securities and staples.

Pig Iron Commands Full Prices.

Pig iron continues to command full prices, supplies falling below requirements, and furnace deliveries failing to fill contracts. Scarcity of fuel is still the principal drawback, while car and motive power shortage are additional causes of delay. New orders are reported for distant delivery running about a year ahead. Prices are fully maintained for the raw material, but billets weakened slightly because of foreign selling. Importations have reached a considerable aggregate, and more are expected. Structural material is still the feature, new business being offered in great bulk. Railway needs do not diminish, despite the enormous amount of work already placed, and agricultural implement makers are fully employed. A general advance in prices of machine tools has occurred, averaging nearly 10 per cent. It was expected that mills and foundies would resell pig iron, owing to the high premiums obtainable, but this factor has had no appreciable effect as yet, most consumers requiring all the material received.

New lines of light weight woolens and worsteds have opened at unchanged prices, and the increased activity of mills has aroused more interest in the raw material, which tends to advance.

Crop Prospects Continued Favorable

Crop prospects have continued favorable, and with the removal of speculative influences there was a gradual decline in prices. Cotton rules steady, the outlook for a liberal crop being balanced by the strong statistical position.

Failures for the week number 213 in the United States, against 193 last year, and 20 in Canada, against 3[illegible] last year.

NAME WAS THOMAS NOT SMITH

Principal In Elopement Tragedy a Columbus Was a Married Man. Girl Left Note at Home.

Washington, Pa., July 19.—The news of the tragic death of John Thomas, at Columbus, O., who had given the name of Smith, and the ill ress of Maggie Canan, created quite a sensation here. Both parties were well known in this section. Thomas was a married man, and last spring made himself notorious by attempting to commit suicide by taking carbolic acid while in company with a young woman on the outskirts of the town.

Thomas told the Canan girl that his name was Smith, and he was so known by the parents of the girl. He had been calling on her for some time, and on Tuesday evening the couple had gone buggy riding. On Wednesday morning he came around to the Canan home, and while the family were in another part of the house the girl and Thomas drove away.

This was the last the parents saw of the girl. When she did not return Wednesday evening they were much worried about her. Thursday morning they made a search and found a note that she had gone to get married and would write to them Sunday.

Coronation to Occur Aug. 9.

London, July 19.—An official notification was issued yesterday morning that by the king's command the coronation of King Edward and Queen Alexandra will take place Aug. 9. Rehearsals of the procession from Buckingham palace to Westminster abbey took place yesterday morning and the officials of the various state departments concerned in the abbey ceremony are again busy with preparations for the crowning.

Honors Shown Andrew Carnegie.

BACKACHE

Is only one of many distressing symptoms which point to the presence of womanly diseases. If women thoroughly understood the relation of the local womanly health to the general health, they would understand that backache, headache, nervousness, sideache, dizziness, faintness and similar feminine ailments, cannot be cured until the womanly health is established.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription cures diseases peculiar to women. It establishes regularity, dries the drains which weaken women, heals inflammation and ulceration, and cures female weakness. In curing these local diseases, it cures the ailments which they cause; backache, headache, sideache, dizziness, faintness, nervousness, and other ills peculiarly feminine.

"I wrote you for advice February 4th, 1896," writes Mrs. Loma Halstead, of Claremore, Cherokee Nat., Ind. Ter. "I was racking with pain from the back of my head down to my heels. Had hemorrhage for weeks at a time, and was unable to sit up for ten minutes at a time. You answered my letter, advised me to use your valuable medicines, viz., Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, 'Golden Medical Discovery,' and 'Pleasant Pellets,' also gave advice about injections, baths and diet. To my surprise, in four months from the time I began your treatment I was a well woman and have not had the backache since, and now I put in sixteen hours a day at hard work."

Weak and sick women are invited to consult Dr. Pierce by letter free. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

HILL DIDN'T SEE PRESIDENT.

Denial That Alice Roosevelt Is Engaged to Lieut. Clark.

Oyster Bay, N. Y., July 19.—Arrangements were completed partially Thursday evening for former Senator Hill, who came to Oyster Bay to spend the night with William F. Sheehan, to meet the president at Sagamore Hill, but it was found impossible to fix upon a time that would be convenient to both. Senator Hill returned to New York yesterday without meeting Mr. Roosevelt.

The president passed yesterday morning at Sagamore Hill transacting some routine business with Assistant Secretary Loeb. Early in the day no callers of importance visited Him, although two former members of Mr. Roosevelt's regiment rode out to pay their respects.

The reported engagement of Miss Alice Roosevelt to Lieutenant Robert Sterling Clark, of New York, a son of Mrs. Alfred Corning Clark, is emphatically denied by authority of the president. Miss Roosevelt has not even a personal acquaintance with Lieutenant Clark.

League Takes Hold Temporarily.

Baltimore, July 19.—At a meeting of the board of directors of the American league here yesterday the condition of the affairs of the Baltimore Baseball and Athletic company was formally presented and the franchise declared forfeited. The league has taken the club in hand and will run it until the new company is organized. Wilbert Robinson appeared before the board and after explaining his business relations with McGraw, he was exonerated from any wrong intention in disposing of his stock in the club later he was appointed playing manager of the new team. Harry Goldman was made business manager.

Killed Wife Before Her Babe.

Chicago, July 19.—Because his wife gave evidence that her love for him had waned while he was serving 17 months in the state prison, William Nelson shot her to death here yesterday and then turned his revolver upon himself in an ineffectual attempt to take his own life. His wound was superficial. Their baby, too young to realize that a crime was being committed, was the only witness to the tragedy.

The widest possible publicity should be given to the fact that summer diarrhoea in children and cholera infantum can always be cured by the judicious use of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. It never fails. When reduced with cold water and sweetened it is pleasant to take, which is very important when a medicine must be given to small children. For sale by Alvin H. Bulger.

ANOTHER STRIKE THREATENED.

Four Railroads at Chicago Accused of Breaking Faith With Freight Handlers.

Chicago, July 19.—Another strike of the freight handlers of Chicago may be called Sunday night. President Curran, of the Freight Handlers union, has issued a call for a mass meeting of all the freight handlers in the city to be held at that time to take action on the refusal of four railroads to reinstate all the old men.

Mr. Curran said last night that he regretted having to take this step but was compelled to do so. He declared that when the settlement was made it was agreed with Frederick W. Job, chairman of the state board of arbitration that all the old men were to be taken back when the strike was declared off. This, he says, the Santa Fe, Panhandle, Northwestern and Illinois Central railroads have not done, and unless they shall do so before the mass meeting Sunday night another walkout will be ordered.

JEFFRIES WORKED TOO HARD.

Trainer Delaney So Admitted—Fell Asleep Being Rubbed Down.

Oakland, Cal., July 19.—Rumors were flying thick and fast round town yesterday to the effect that Champion Jeffries was sick at his quarters as a result of overtraining. This gave rise to the report that Jeffries was out of condition, and that he was laid up for repairs. It was pointed out that the champion is away below his normal weight. Trainer Delaney admits that Jeffries has worked too hard.

Jeffries arose at 1 o'clock yesterday and showed up at the gymnasium at 2 o'clock. He said:

"I am not sick. I was tired after being at the theater last night. I have cut out my work today and will just take gymnasium exercises. I'll be ready for the fight."

Jeffries fell asleep Thursday while being rubbed down.

Bank Teller Sentenced to Prison.

New York, July 19.—Harry G. Bell the receiving teller of the River bank who was Thursday convicted of thefts from the bank, said to have aggregated $20,000, was yesterday sentenced to not more than six nor less than four years in the state's prison, at hard labor.

MISS ROSE OWENS,
No. 720 Seventeenth St., WASHINGTON, D. C.

"If every suffering woman has the same experience with Wine of Cardui that I had, your medicine will be most popular. About a year ago I began to have a worn out tired feeling with lassitude, pains in the back and head which kept increasing every month. I felt that I needed something, but to get the right medicine was the trouble. I finally decided on your Wine of Cardui and only needed to take three bottles when I was fully recovered."

WHEN Miss Rose Owens, who has a responsible position in the Government service at Washington, D. C., decided to try Wine of Cardui, she made a wise choice. Over a million women have been relieved of female weakness by this same Wine of Cardui. It is not a strong medicine but may be taken every day in the year by any woman with benefit. It does not force results, but corrects derangements of the menstrual organs. It strengthens the nervous system, gives tone to the bodily functions, acts directly on the genital organs, and is the finest tonic for women known to the science of medicine.

If you are a suffering woman we would say to you that Wine of Cardui seldom fails to completely cure any case of female ills. We say emphatically, it never fails to benefit. Every day hundreds of sufferers are writing to our Ladies' Advisory Department. The letters are opened by persons competent to give advice. Mrs. Jones was cured by following the advice which was freely given her by the Ladies' Advisory Department. Miss Owens was cured without advice by just buying a $1.00 bottle of Wine of Cardui from her druggist and taking this great medicine in the privacy of her home. No doctor's examination, treatment or advice is necessary. You have read what these two cured women have written. Is this not enough to lead you to determine to be rid of suffering?

August 13, 1900, Mrs. W. H. Jones, of Cameron, Mo., writes:

"I suffered terribly at monthly periods for three years. I would sometimes go for seven months with no flow at all. Now I have my health back again and am expecting to be confined in January. I cannot praise your medicine enough."

WINE of CARDUI A million suffering women have found relief in Wine of Cardui.

A REVOLVER AT HIS HEAD

A STORE DOOR SMASHED IN

SUSPECTED MEN ARRESTED.

Another daring holdup and attempted robbery was committed in the heart of the city last night shortly after 11 o'clock. Those charged with the crime, Charles Hutton and Robert Cooley, were arraigned before the mayor this morning, but were not given a chance to plead, witnesses having given notice that they will not be ready to testify until this evening.

The men were read charges of drunkenness and disorderly conduct, to which both pleaded guilty. Hutton also pleaded guilty to a charge of carrying concealed weapons.

They were arrested by Officers Dawson and Dunn at the instance of Homer Fairbanks, who runs a confectionery store at 337 West Market street. Very much excited and with cold sweat dripping from his brow, Fairbanks found the officers in the Diamond and unfolded his tale. He stated that two men had smashed in the rear of his store and when he arrived on the scene, having been apprised of the fact by a neighbor who saw the whole performance, one of them drew a revolver and pointed it at his face.

Having no weapon Fairbanks was compelled to let the men escape. He gave a pretty good description of the men to the police and they immediately set to work upon the case. In a very short time they corralled the suspects. Going to the Smoky row district they saw a gang of fellows standing on the corner of Second street and Broadway. Among the gang were two men that answered the description. They were arrested at once and given cells in the city jail.

Several times while en route to the jail Hutton attempted to throw away his revolver and after arriving he tried to dispose of it in a sink. He finally threw it under Mayor Davidson's desk.

Officer Dawson saw every attempt, but said not a word. He found the weapon quickly enough when he searched the man.

From the evidence produced at the hearing the mayor feels satisfied that a charge of housebreaking and burglary cannot be proven against the couple, but thinks that probably other evidence of an incriminating nature will be presented this evening.

Cooley and Hutton each have shady reputations, and it is the desire of the mayor to give them a heavy sentence. To Cooley he said: "Young man, I think we have got you where we want you, and if we have we certainly will set the screws to you."

Cooley has been in durance vile upon several occasions. He is not more than 21 years of age. As to Hutton the mayor can no but one thing. He is out on parole from the Mansfield reformatory. If convicted he will make his home there once more.

Chief Thompson issued orders to the police this morning to arrest all bums and suspicious looking persons found on the streets. The order is the outcome of recent holdups and robberies.

HUTTON'S ATTEMPT TO GET OUT OF JAIL

CLIMBED ON TOP OF THE CELLS AND REMOVED BRICKS.

Was Detected at His Work And Locked in More Securely.

Had Charles Hutton, one of the pair arrested last night for alleged robbery, and who pleaded guilty to a charge of drunkenness and disorder, and also to a charge of carrying concealed weapons, been unmolested for 30 minutes longer, he would now be on the outside of the jail walls and probably many miles away from the city.

Officer Dunn frustrated the well laid plans of the young desperado. The officer had dropped into the city hall to make his report before going on duty this afternoon, when a lad told him that Hutton was trying to break jail. He went at once to the jail door and was very much surprised at finding that the report was true. Hutton had climbed to the covering of the cells and without the least trouble had removed at least 20 bricks from the wall, over a window facing eastward. In a very short time he would have had enough removed to have allowed him to escape.

Health Officer Burgess states that he heard the fellow at work, but thought he would let him continue until an officer arrived. Several now claim that they heard the noise produced by the falling bricks. Through kindness to the prisoner Chief Thompson had allowed him the privilege of the cell ways and therefore he was only locked in by the outside door. If he had gained the outside of his apartment he could have dropped into the women's cell room, where his confederate, Cooley, lies in a cell. Escape would have been easy had he fallen there.

The windows are not barred and he would only have had to hoist the windows. The officials are exceedingly pleased over Officer Dunn's timely arrival. They will not again allow a man the freedom of the cell ways.

NEW CODE BILL

HON. I. B. CAMERON THINKS THERE WILL BE A GOOD ONE.

Believes the Outcome of Legislation Will Satisfy the People.

Cleveland, July 19.—State Treasurer I. B. Cameron was in Cleveland yesterday. "What do you think will be the outcome of the special session?" he was asked.

"A municipal code bill for the state," said, "is a question on which therehe said he, "is a question on which there is a great diversity of opinion, and it will of course take some time to talk over the various propositions and exchange ideas. It seems to me, however, that the outcome of the session will be the enactment of a code which will not only be satisfactoy to those who favor the board plan, but also to those who favor the federal plan. It will probably be argued that the adoption of a code with the board plan of government will give color to the argument that Coxism has been forced upon every municipality of the state.

"I think it will be possiole to draw a bill which will make mandatory the election of a mayor, city council, police judge, and probably a city solicitor, leaving the question of other officers to the councils of the respective cities. Each city may then legislate for its own needs, so far as public officers are concerned. The small cities will not require as many officials as the larger cities, so that the various city councils may act according to their own requirements."

Man Who Is Alleged to Have Defrauded Curnan Seen at New Cumberland.

James Goodman, the man, who, it is alleged, under false pretenses, obtained $173 worth of merchandise, a horse and wagon, from the general store on Fourth street owned by Geo. L. Curnan, who is now sick in a Pittsburg hospital, has been heard from. H. D. Hipple, the salesman, who let Goodman have the stuff, states that the police of New Cumberland, telephoned that they had seen the fellow. They made no arrest, however, and Mr. Curnan is as far in the hole as at the beginning.

Mr. Hipple also states that Goodman is well known in the county, his home being in Wellsville, where his father now lives. The story, put forward by him when working his game on Hipple, that he was going to marry a young woman of wealth in the city, is given no credence. The young lady tnat he mentioned denies the statement strongly.

John Prudence Weds, But Stays a Prisoner Till Costs Are Paid.

Lisbon, July 19.—(Special)—John Prudence and Nora Halfhill, both of East Liverpool, were married by Mayor George Farrell in the county jail yesterday. Prudence is still in jail on a charge preferred by the woman.

As soon as Prudence can get money to pay the costs he will be released.

Licensed to Marry.

LOWER FREIGHT RATES DESIRED

SANITARY PLANTS FULL

From a Staff Correspondent.

Trenton, N. J. July 19.—Because of several acts passed by the last New Jersey legislature which have not met with the approval of the labor masses, the Sanitary Pressers' union No. 45, National Brotherhood of Operative Potters, at its last meeting passed a resolution deciding to support only those political parties having the referendum clause in their platforms.

Similar action is being taken by the other labor unions throughout New Jersey, and the resolution of the sanitary workers will likely be taken up by those labor organization affiliated with the Central Labor Union. As a matter of fact, the labor unions are not in sympathy with the present state administration. While no acts have been enacted which have a direct bearing upon the sanitary trade, there exists in other parts of the state, labor conditions which cannot be duplicated anywhere in the east, principally among the silk workers of Paterson and in the glass mills at Minatala.

The weight the labor vote carries in this city was evidenced last fall when through the Central Labor union all the local labor organizations united in defeating Mayor Frank O. Briggs, because of his refusal to sign a resolution requiring none but union labor to be employed on city work.

There is a movement on foot among the labor unions of New Jersey, in which the potters are seated, to take a prominent part to secure better legislation for union labor from the state law-making body.

What reforms will be asked have not been brought to light, and it is probable that they will be kept under cover until after the state convention of the Allied Trades Council of New Jersey, which meets here in August.

Legislation by referendum will give the masses the right of a second veto in all important acts which are construed to one section of the state and at the same time found objectionable by the residents of another.

The eastern manufacturers have followed the example of the western pottery owners and are making a fight with the Pennsylvania Railroad company for cheaper freight rates to the west.

The cost of shipping a crate of ware to the west is said to be about 25 per cent greater than that charged the western manufacturers to send a similar amount to the Atlantic seaboard.

This condition has resulted in failure, by the local potteries to a good foothold in the west and at the same time allowing the western potters to sell to the New York market and even make shipments abroad at a profit. The line of pottery in which the local plants do not fear competition is in the sanitary trade, which, in the east, is gradually pushing out the manufacturer of general ware.

Emmet Barr, well known as an insurance solicitor, who has resided in this city for some years, is in trouble. The following dispatch from Pittsburg explains why:

"Emmet Barr, of East Liverpool, O., was arrested yesterday at Pomeroy, O., and brought to this city last night by County Detective Robert G. Robinson and Detective William Elmore, to answer charges of conspiracy and false pretense found against him by the last grand jury. Barr and Harry E. Walters, also of East Liverpool, are accused of having conspired to defraud Edith Bell, of Pittsburg, out of $5,000. The prosecuting witness claims that the men, who had an office on Fourth avenue, induced her to accept employment in their offce as stenographer and after she had been there a short time induced her, by false pretense, to invest $5,000 in oil wells.

"She claims that she at first refused to invest, out that later Barr went to southeastern Ohio, and sent a telegram which stated that a good well had been struck on the property on which they desired her to invest. She says the statement made in the telegram was untrue, and that by means of this untrue statement she was led to invest. She claims that Walters was a party to the deception. The defendants claim that the woman took stock in property which proved unproductive of her own free will. Walters was arrested some time ago, and was released on bail."

It is alleged that Barr and Walters instead of using the money in the oil business, used it for their own purposes. Requisition papers were got out for Barr.

HOSPITAL ROOMS TO BE FURNISHED

Many Arguments Advanced in Favor of the Proposed Entertainment—All Elks Thus Far Heard From Are Heartily in Favor or It.

The carnival which East Liverpool lodge of Elks, No. 258, propose to hold at Rock Springs park early in the fall will be of a greater benent to the city and the surrounding territory than the general public would suppose. While the matter has been presented to the many members of the local lodge, at the meeting of the lodge which will be held next Thursday evening, the preliminary arrangements will be made to take the matter in hand and to commence actual work on the affair.

At this meeting the idea will be advanced that, should the affair be a success, and there is no reason to believe that it will not, a certain amount of the profits be set aside for the establishing and furnishing several rooms in the new hospital. This idea, which has been thought of by several prominent members of the order, is a most commendable one, and will meet the approval of the officials of the hospital and also the general public. The idea is to furnish these rooms, which will be known as the "Elks' rooms," but which will be opened to all who may enter the doors for treatment.

The furnishings of these rooms will be the best that money can buy, and no matter how poor a person may be, if he is ill and accepted at the hospital, these rooms that will be furnished by the Elks will be opened to such a person, and as much assistance extended as if he were possessed of unlimited wealth. Other little features will be added to the rooms by the Elks to make them as attractive as possible to the sick. In giving the carnival the Elks have no selfish motives to follow.

So far all the Elks that have been approached with the idea of holding a carnival are apparently in favor of the affair. They claim that additional business will be brought to the city, that the city will be further advertised, and that the best of attractions will be booked for the week of the carnival.

The Elks will back the carnival themselves, and will have no booths for sale at the park. It is not likely that the general public will be asked to contribute to the affair, other than their patronage, and individual help in making the affair a success that it deserves.

And the Ancient Order of Goose Pasturers Had to Show Him.

"Now we'll tell you," said his companions, as they were walking up the railroad track near the depot, the other night, "we will have to be careful along here. Not long ago a band of highwaymen was seen in this locality, and it is possible that they have not left."

The last word was scarcely spoken before the feared gang of bandits made their appearance. It seemed they centered their attack upon one member of the crowd. They yelled, "Hands up." Up they went. They searched him. Then commanded him to travel.

A hare never split the air in as swift a manner. After following him for perhaps 100 yards firing blank cartridges at every step, they ceased the chase, but the man did not. He continued the dead run for fully half an hour, and being a stranger in the city, he made many circles, finally landing near the place he started. He toppled over on the ground and said: "Take my clothes, my knife, my watch, oh, anything I have got, but don't shoot me again."

The gang then approached him and informed him of what the antics meant. He had simply been goose-pastured. The man is a musician and hails from Coshocton.

PROMPT ACTION

Of Brakeman on Runaway Cars Averted Further Accident.

J. D. Lafferty, the brakeman who was on the two runaway cars yesterday on the Horn switch, deserves a great deal of praise for his grit in sticking to the cars, notwithstanding the breaking of the chain on the brake of the forward car, until he reached a point where he saw that further effort was useless and jumped for safety.

Immediately after the derailing of the cars he summoned the flagman of the shifter whom he sent to flag the approaching eastbound passenger and thereby averted further disaster. He himself went up the eastbound track to warn approaching trains if any of the danger. He is commended by railway employes for his prompt action.

County Clerks' Term Law Held Not to Apply to Present Incumbents.

From a Staff Correspondent.

Columbus, July 19.—It seems likely that the county clerks' association will test the ruling of Attorney General Sheets that the bill of Representative Samuel Buell, of Columbiana county, changing the time when county clerks shall assume the duties of their office from the first Monday in August to the first Monday in September, does not affect clerks now in office. If the courts sustain the attorney general's interpretation of the law, then County Clerk-elect James N. Hanley, of East Liverpool, will enter upon his term just six months earlier than expected. It will likewise extend his tenure of office that length of time and will make a corresponding reduction in that of Clerk McNutt.

Secretary of State Laylin will appoint the deputy election supervisors for the different counties of the state between July 21 and August 1. Two appointments are made each year, one from each party. The appointments are made upon recommendation of the county committees of both parties. The names of candidates must be filed with the secretary of state by not later than Monday. No names have yet been sent in from Columbiana county, but it is expected they will be received before the time limit expires. County election boards of supervisors are composed of four members, two Democrats and two Republicans, who are chosen for two years.

Governor Nash has made a positive denial of the story that the extra session of the legislature would be postponed until after the meeting of the Democratic state convention. He declared that the general assembly would meet at the specified date—August 25, not later. By the time the solons get together there will be possibly a score of code bills awaiting their consideration. Representative Stage, of Cleveland, is the latest to announce that he has undertaken the task of preparing a code. His bill will embody features taken from forms of government of cities in different parts of the world. He says it will provide for absolute home rule for all municipalities. The belief obtains that the extra session will last for a longer period than at first imagined. The code will be taken up section by section, which will entail a vast amount of labor.

Deputy Elmer E. Miller, of Canton, of the stationary engineers' department, has prepared a schedule of his office days in the principal cities of his district. He will be in Canton every Monday; Akron, second Saturday of each month; Ashtabula, every Wednesday preceding the fourth Thursday of each month; Youngstown, the fourth Thursday of each month and Friday and Saturday following; East Liverpool and Wednesday, the third Thursday, and Steubenville, the Saturday following in January, March, May, July, September and November. Regular office hours will be from 9 a. m. to 5 p m. Copies of the schedule will be sent to engineers throughout the district.

Mrs. George Buxton, of East Liverpool, is here visiting her husband, the well known pottery salesman. She will return home Monday.

State Treasurer and Mrs. Cameron have returned from an outing at Frankfort, a watering place in Michigan. Judge Rogers, of Younstown, called at the state house today to pay his respects to Mr. Cameron.

New Clock For Court House.

Lisbon, July 19.—(Special)—A new clock has been ordered for the court house tower. The old one, used since 1875, has been out of order for some time. The new clock will strike the hours and automatically regulate three timepieces in the court house.

EAST END

J. B. HOEFGEN'S PROJECT

After a Franchise In Cleveland to Operate Three Cent Fare Railroad.

John B. Hoefgen, interested quite extensively in the East Liverpool railway company, is branching out in street railway matters, and at the next meeting of the Cleveland city council will most likely make a bid for a franchise to operate a street railway in that city, the fares upon which will be but three cents. Mr. Hoefgen only recently placed a bid to run a street railway in Cleveland, and agreed to give a three cent fare. An ordinance was passed by the council of that city, but the courts of Ohio decided that it was illegal to sell franchises to the highest or lowest bidder, as was done by the council of Cleveland, which was all one of those pet schemes of Mayor Tom Johnson's. The ordinance required a deposit of $10,000 with the bid for each route. The routes are over the same territory embraced in the former Hoefgen franchise, which was declared illegal by the courts. Mr. Hoefgen, or the Peoples' Street Railway company will probably be the only bidder for the franchises under these ordinances.

When seen this morning Mr. Healy said that he knew Mr. Hoefgen was after a franchise in the city of Cleveland, but no other person in this city or any connected with the East Liverpool Street Railway company was interested in the project.

CLUE TO MISSING HORSE

Larkins & Ferguson Encouraged by a Report Recived From Beaver Falls Detective.

At last Larkins & Ferguson have a clue to their horse, and they are of the opinion that it will be back in its stable within five days. Although the police have been circulating postal cards about the theft, these cards have not done the work expected. Yesterday a member of the firm went to Beaver county, and while there engaged a detective to work on the case, and this gentleman stated he had seen Allison with the horse, and was of the opinion that he knew the whereabouts of both Allison and the horse. He also guaranteed the firm that he would capture both man and horse within three days.

Allison was in Beaver Falls Thursday, and at that time the detective who is now working on the case thought of arresting him. Action was deferred, but Allison's whereabouts are known to the detective.

A BOXING CONTEST

To Come Off at Beaver Falls In Which East End Talent Is Interested.

East End young men are preparing for a 10-round boxing contest before a Beaver Falls athletic club, on the evening of Aug. 2. The men are well known in the East End. They are A. C. These men have bee npreparing themselves for the coming contest for several weeks, and are now about in condition for the affair.

The bout will be a friendly one, but both men claim they will win, and owing to that fact a good contest can be expected. Quite a number of East End people, friends of the contestants, will witness the bout.

MAGNETISM OF MISERY.

Men Haunt Scenes That Revive Memories of Pain.

Every storm, earthquake or disaster of any kind brings out a curious phase of human nature. Many of those who have seen their houses destroyed or their nearest relatives killed return as soon as possible to the scenes of devastation. In some instances this is explained by the fact that there are mere opportunities of earning a livelihood among old neighbors than among new surroundings. In numerous cases, however, no such business reason operates as an inducement. The magnet is sentiment, not money. As some mourners devote every holiday to visiting graves, so a large fraction of the homeless and bereaved go back to spend the remainder of their days in the scenes that recall calamity and gloom.

It was so after the great London fire, it was so after the Lisbon earthquake, it was so after the yellow fever swept Philadelphia, and in more recent years the Chicago fire, the Mississippi floods, Charleston, Johnstown and other catastrophes confirm the old experience. Apparently the desire to gain new pleasures is no more keen than the wish to revive the memory of old pain Our last storm destroyed much property and many lives, but we will see people choosing homes in sight of the telegraph pole from which the fatal live wire dangled or the flooded stream in which the only son was drowned.—Philadelphia Ledger.

Art of Paper Making.

In the matter of making and using paper we are not in line with the Chinese and other Asiatics, who not only make the finest paper in the world, but apply it to all sorts of uses, making window panes, fans, umbrellas, sandals and even cloaks and other garments of it.

The art of making paper from mulberry bast is said to have been invented in China in the second century B. C. Afterward bamboo shoots, straw, grass and other materials were also used. The manufacture spread to the adjacent countries.

The Arabs learned it in Samarkand, and their learned men carefully kept secret the process by which they made paper for their own use. The crusades made Europe acquainted with the art, and the first paper mill in Germany dates from the twelfth century.

To this day the process of paper making in the east is simple and apparently crude, the fibers being torn apart with the fingers and the pulp pressed in a primitive contrivance.

CUBA'S FIRST MINISTER.

Senor Gonzales Represents New Republic at Washington.

When Senor Gonzales de Quesada, the minister from Cuba, presented his credentials to President Roosevelt a few days ago, the event marked the entry of the new republic as a country into the politics of nations.

Senor Quesada is a native of Cuba and is but thirty-four years of age. He was born at the beginning of the first Cuban insurrection. His parents took sides with the patriots and were exiled. They sought refuge in New York, and in that city young Quesada grew up and was educated.

For several years prior to and during the war for freedom Senor Quesada was secretary of the unrecognized legation from the republic, which then existed only in name.

During these years he became a personal friend of Mr. Roosevelt, who welcomed him warmly when he received him as the minister of the new republic.

KINGLY HONORS.

How Edward VII. Remembered Some of His Old Friends.

In the list of honors conferred by King Edward VII. and intended to be one of the features of his coronation appear the names of several men who are widely known in this country. Perhaps no one of those who have received these convincing evidences of royal friendship is better known in the United States than Sir Thomas Lipton, who has been raised by royal decree from the rank of knight to that of baronet.

The rank of baronet is a dignity or degree of honor next below that of baron and precedes all orders of knighthood except that of the Garter. It is the lowest degree of honor in England that is hereditary. Baronets have the title "Sir" before their Christian names, and their surnames are followed by their title of dignity, usually expressed "Bart."

Sir Thomas Lipton, therefore, who has previously been a knight, will in the future write his name "Sir Thomas Lipton, Bart." Wives of baronets are addressed as lady or madam. The sons have no title except esquire. Baronets are commoners and not entitled to a seat in the house of lords.

Two other names honored by King Edward which are well known in this country are those of the novelists Dr. Conan Doyle and Gilbert Parker. Both of these gentlemen have been raised to the dignity of "knight" and hereafter are entitled to write "Sir" before their names. The title of knight is not hereditary and perishes with the bearer.

Sir Arthur Conan Doyle, the novelist, is a Scotchman by birth, and Edinburgh is the place of his nativity. His father was an artist, and his grandfather was a famous caricaturist. Sir Conan was educated as a physician and practiced his profession from 1882 to 1890, when he gave up medicine to devote his time to literature and travel.

Sir Conan has written many successful novels, and his name is well known wherever English is read and spoken. His famous character, Sherlock Holmes, is familiar to all readers of fiction. Sir Conan has just passed his forty-third birthday.

Sir Gilbert Parker, novelist and dramatist, is a Canadian. He has been an extensive traveler in northern Canada and the south sea islands. He is a poet, has written several plays and is the author of numerous successful novels. Since 1900 he has been a member of parliament, representing Gravesend. Sir Gilbert is forty years old.

A Woman's Kiss.

The story of Ingeborg Vinding and Poul Vendelbo Lovenorn is well known in Denmark. Poul Vendelbo, a poor student, went one day on the ramparts around Copenhagen and walked with two rich noblemen who, like himself, had matriculated at the university.

They happened to notice a singularly beautiful woman sitting at the window of one of the adjacent houses. One of the noblemen then said half mockingly to Vendelbo, "Now, if you could get a kiss from that lady, Poul, we would defray the expenses of that tour abroad which you are so anxious to make."

Vendelbo took him at his word, went up to the beautiful lady and told her how his whole future depended possibly on her. She then drew him toward the window and in the view of the noblemen gave him the kiss he craved. He then went abroad and, returning at last as Adjutant General Lovenorn, paid the fair lady a visit. She was Ingeborg Vinding, and she had made a clever man's fortune by a kiss.

Origin of Kilts.

It will doubtless surprise many Scotchmen to learn that the kilt as at present worn is only a modern fancy costume and is not of Scottish origin at all.

The honor of its invention is due to two Englishmen—an army tailor who accompanied General Wade's forces to Scotland in 1719 and Thomas Rawlinson, overseer of some iron works in Glengarry's country. For more than a century previously, indeed, the tartan plaid had been the common garb of the highlanders, but it was all in one piece, wound in folds around the body, leaving the knees bare.

Prior to the adoption of the tartan, which probably took place about the close of the fifteenth century, the long, loose saffron colored skirt, the real "garb of old Gaul," was the highland dress.—London Mail.

He Sleeps.

"Has your husband a good ear for music?" asked Mrs. Oldgirl of Mrs Newed.

"I am afraid not," replied Mrs Newed. "He seems to think everything he hears played in church is a lullaby."—Cincinnati Commercial Tribune.

JUST TWO INNINGS SETTLED THE GAME

In That Time the Junctions Made Six Runs, Which Was Enough.

A TERRIFFIC ONSLAUGHT

By the Pittsburgers at the Start From Which East Liverpool Did Not Fully Recover—Some Clever Playing on Both Sides.

The Junctions, of Pittsburg, won the game in West End park yesterday afternoon in the first two innings. They bunched eight hits and pretty ones at that, and made just one more run than the locals scored in the entire game.

After getting such an avalanche piled upon them before the game had fairly started it a wonder indeed that East Liverpool managed to pull out of the melee with as many runs as it was finally credited with. Patterson seemed as if he had gone so far into the air that he could not be drawn to his feet, but he eventually spruced up and for several innings pitched a model game.

With only seven of their team on the ground, the others not arriving until the street car from the depot hove in sight, the visitors started the game. They had great luck notwithstanding that the first man up struck out. He was followed by Fohl, who smashed one for two bases. The next gentleman worked a scare game on Patterson and was allowed to walk. Nichols landed safely on one and scored Fohl. Buchener got first on an error of Berry, and Glassburner scored Taylor when he dropped one far out into right field.

They followed it up in the second by a terrible onslaught. Five clean hits and four runs were the record for the inning. When the locals went to the bat they were a little uneasy. Komer, the man who pitched 20 innings for the Fairbanks a few weeks ago, was the cause of their low spirits. He understands the art of putting them over and the locals knew it. They used him in great style, though. He went traveling around in the air upon several occasions and not only allowed seven hits, but game five men bases on balls. His greatest trouble lies in the fact that he cannot keep his feet when the opposing team gets a few hits. Under the excellent totorship of Manager Matthews he will, however, come out some day and make a record for himself.

It fell once more to the lot of the locals to have the men who furnished the features. Maag did it. His record was three hits, two runs and two assists. The way he skinned the bases was a pretty sight. If any man ever earned a run he did when he passed over the plate for the first time.

Berry did not do as well as he might. In the first inning he made an unexcusable error, but he was all right thereafter and held his own.

Webb should never have entered the game. He was badly crippled and was not able to cover any portion of the ground. To his lameness is credited his wild throws to Berry.

An Estimate of Cost of Building And Equipping Salineville Pottery.

W. H. Deidrick, of the Sevres Pottery company, with his stenographer, is very busy these days on the purchasing of equipments for the Dresden China company's plant.

Work on the new Salinevillle shop is progressing rapidly, but just now the work of getting the city water to the plant is the leading question with the company and the city water works officials.

A conservative estimate of the probable cost of the pottery when it is equipped is about $70,000. One contract for moulds alone will cost $1,700 and that does not include the many other moulds that are needed. Many machines are also needed in order to pulverize the raw material so that it can be handled by the clay workers. The drying rooms alone will consume the entire contents of three cars of pipe ranging from 1 inch to 2½ inches. This does not include the sprinkling system. Then there is the engine and boiler, office fixtures and many other things that go to make up the plant.

The company will make ware suitable for hotel, boarding house and general utility trade; though it is expected to make a limited number of fancy patterns for the trade.

M. E. MISKALL.

A PASTOR WHO WAS BEFRIENDED BY AN EMPEROR SAVED BY PE-RU-NA.

Rev. H. Stubenvoll, of Elkhorn, Wis., is pastor of the Evangelical Lutheran St. John's Church of that place. Rev. Steubenvoll is the possessor of two bibles presented to him by Emperor William of Germany. Upon the fly leaf of one of the bibles the Emperor has written in his own handwriting a text.

This honored pastor in a recent letter to the Peruna Medicine Co., of Columbus, O., says concerning their famous catarrh remedy, Peruna:

The Peruna Medicine Co., Columbus, O.:

Gentlemen: "I had hemorrhages of the lungs for a long time, and all despaired of me. I took Peruna and was cured. It gave me strength and courage, and made healthy, pure blood. It increased my weight, gave me a healthy color, and I feel well. It is the best medicine in the world. If everyone kept Peruna in the house it would save many from death every year."

Yours very truly,

REV. H. STUBENVOLL.

Thousands of people have catarrh who would be surprised to know it, because it has been called some other name than catarrh. The fact is, catarrh is catarrh wherever located; and another fact which is of equally great importance, is that Peruna cures catarrh wherever located.

Catarrh is an American disease. Fully one-half of the people are afflicted more or less with it in some form. Previous to the discovery of Peruna, catarrh was considered well nigh incurable. Since the introduction of Peruna to the medical profession thousands of cases are cured annually.

Mr. W. D. Smith, a well-known grocer of Port Huron, Mich., writes:

"By following your instructions and taking Peruna and Manalin I am cured of catarrh. I had catarrh for twelve years and quite a bad cough so I could not sleep nights. I do not have any cough now, and if I feel anything in the throat I take a swallow of Peruna and I am alright."—W. D. Smith.

Suffered Fifteen Years.

C. F. Gerding, Milburn, Neb., writes: "I contracted a heavy cold about fifteen years ago and tried all kinds of patent medicines and drugs recommended for a cold or heavy cough, but found none to help me until I commenced using Peruna. My age is seventy-eight years, and I am better now than I have been for years. I still keep using your great medicine, and am still improving in health. I recommend it to all sufferers with coughs and colds."—C. F. Gerding.

Peruna, The Greatest Remedy Known For Catarrh.

Mr. Chas. H. Stevens, 97 Seventeenth Street, Detroit, Mich., writes: "It affords me great pleasure to testify to the merits of Peruna as a remedy for catarrh. I suffered for some time with chronic nasal catarrh, but after five months' treatment during which time I used seven bottles of Peruna I am pleased to say that I am entirely well, there being not the slightest trace of the catarrh left. Peruna is without doubt the greatest remedy known for catarrh."—Chas. H. Stevens.

Afflicted Since Childhood With Catarrh.

Mr. Elbert S. Richards, Milton, Conn., writes:

"I am near sixty-eight years of age, and have from childhood been afflicted with catarrh in the head, and, for the past four or five years been much afflicted with it in my eyes; they being watery, would materate a good deal, and stick together in the night. My condition was so fully described in your almanac that I decided to try Peruna.

"I am thankful to say that I now consider myself entirely free from catarrh, and only use Peruna occasionally now as a tonic. Accept my sincere thanks for your personal interest in my case.

"My son, 21 years of age, has been using Peruna for a number of weeks for catarrh in the head and has obtained great relief."—Elbert S. Richards.

Mr. Andrew Barrett, 940 N. Kidzie Ave., Chicago, Ill., writes:

"It gives me great pleasure to testify to the merits of such a worthy remedy for catarrh as your Peruna. I had suffered for thirty years from this very disagreeable disease and had tried many so-called remedies but until I used Peruna none had the desired effect.

"I have been connected with the Chicago Police Department for the past twenty-eight years. I can cheerfully recommend Peruna to anyone suffering from catarrh."—Andrew Barrett.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

Address Dr. Hartman, President of The Hartman Sanitarium, Columbus, Ohio.

Wife of the Ruler of India to Visit Her Native Land.

Lady Curzon, wife of the viceroy of India, will be a notable addition to the celebrities at Bar Harbor next month. The vice reine of Great Britain's Indian empire will remain several weeks at the Maine resort, where her mother, Mrs. Levi Leiter, has taken Mossley Hall for the season.

Lady Curzon, it is understood, is much run down by the trying and debilitating climate of India and hopes that the invigorating breezes of Bar Harbor will restore her sufficiently to enable her to rejoin her husband at Calcutta with health enough to admit of her remaining with him in India during the balance of his term as viceroy.

It will be Lady Curzon's first visit to the United States since her marriage, and Mrs. Leiter is making elaborate preparations to entertain her during her sojourn at Bar Harbor. Lord Curzon will not accompany his wife, as he is debarred by statute from leaving India so long as he continues to hold his office as viceroy.

Lady Curzon was formerly Miss Mary Leiter of Chicago. Her father, Levi Leiter, made a vast fortune in the dry goods trade in company with Marshall Field and Potter Palmer and later increased it by judicious investments in Chicago real estate.

Miss Mary Victoria Leiter was married to George Curzon in Washington in 1895. She was then in her twenty-eighth year. In 1898 Lord Curzon was appointed viceroy of India, which is the greatest gift the British government has to bestow.

As vice queen of 300,000,000 of people the American girl became at once a power in the most exclusive society of the world. The courts of Calcutta and Simla are far more magnificent than St. James or any other in Europe. The viceroy of India ranks as a ruler, and his wife is second only to the ladies of the royal family of England.

The actual stipend of the viceroy of India is 20,000 rupees a month, and his allowances are countless. The pay of the viceroy is five times greater than that of the prime minister of England, and his sway extends from the shores of Arabia to the borders of western China.

Why Fire Makes Us Blush.

When one stands before a hot fire the face becomes red, as we all know. This result is the effect of the action of radiated heat on the nerves controlling the small blood vessels of the skin. These tiny vessels are normally in a state of moderate contraction. Under exposure to heat they relax and become distended with blood. The same process, under the mysterious connection of the vasomotor nerve system with mental impressions, produces ordinary blushing. In regard to exposure to direct heat the reddening of the skin, together with the uncomfortably warm feeling accompanying it, may be looked upon as one of the useful little "danger signals" with which we are surrounded.

Persons who from any cause have lost their susceptibility, as is the case in some forms of paralysis, may expose a limb to heat until serious injury results. The reason that the face chiefly flushes is that, in the ordinary position near a fire, it is most directly exposed to the rays of heat, while most of the body is shielded by clothing; that the nerves of the face are particularly sensitive in this respect and that the skin there is more abundantly furnished with blood vessels.

Some Nautical Facts.

A knot is 6,080 feet long. The distance from New York to Liverpool is 3,064 nautical miles by the northern track and 3,139 by the southern track. The former course is taken by vessels bound for New York, the latter by vessels bound for Liverpool. From Liverpool to New York the distances are respectively 3,039 and 3,109 miles.

In estimating records the points taken on either side are Sandy Hook and Daunt's rock, Queenstown harbor. The first light sighted on the British coast is the Bull, Cow and Calf, Ireland, and on the American coast either Nantucket or Fire island.

WILL WED A SOLDIER.

Mrs. McKinley's Niece Betrothed to Major Hartzel.

Miss Mary Barber, whose engagement to Major Ralph Hartzel of Denver was recently announced, is the favorite niece of Mrs. McKinley.

Miss Barber is the daughter of Mrs. Marshall P. Barber, only sister of Mrs. McKinley, and lives in the old Saxton homestead at Canton, O. She is petite, with slender, well formed figure. Her eyes and hair are dark brown. Miss Barber was much at the White House during McKinley's presidency. It was Miss Barber who christened the battleship Ohio at San Francisco on the occasion of McKinley's visit to the coast.

The fact that the United States made a pretty good bargain when it purchased Alaska for $7,000,000 or $8,000,000 is conclusively shown by recent statistics issued by the treasury department. There is said to be $50,000,000 of American capital invested in enterprises in that territory, and the amount is growing. Gold is by no means the only Alaskan product of importance. The fishery interests are enormous. They produce $50,000,000 annually and furs another $50,000,000. The agricultural possibilities are growing, and the development of the mineral industries on a scientific and practical scale is only beginning. Alaska will probably never become a rich country; but it has already helped a large number of Americans to become rich.

Oleomargarine is not understood to be an injurious substance, but impure milk kills thousands. The legislation against deception in oleomargarine is well conceived, and now let legislators protect the milk supply. This advice is timely at all seasons; but more so than ever in the hot season when the use of preservatives is resorted to, to keep milk as long as possible.

The decision of the western coal miners not to strike is a wise one. The deplorable state in which the eastern strikers find themselves is not calculated to encourage others to imitate them. Their grievances are many and well based, but the chances of securing a redress by refusing to work do not appear encouraging.

Colonel Lamont declines to be the Democratic candidate for governor of New York this year. Mr. Lamont was in Mr. Cleveland's cabinet long enough to know that politics is an arduous profession and he does not care to follow it for the fun of the thing.

When Mr. Bryan heads an article "The Republican Tariff Dilemma" he fails to enlarge upon the surplus of $92,000,000, with a resulting removal of the remaining war taxes, amounting to $70,000,000. He rambles off into the usual free trade platitudes.

Immigrants are coming in faster than ever. The increase last year was more than 160,000 over the preceding year. Italy and Austria-Hungary continue to lead the list. That is not encouraging.

Protection has not created trusts, but it has created prosperity. As for the trust, it thrives equally as well in countries which have no protective tariff.

Germany is threatened with a meat famine, and prejudice against American beef and pork is hastening it.

SURPRISED THE CAPTAIN

A Pleasant Birthday Party at the Home of S. of V. Officer.

Captain George Obney, of Garfield camp, No. 3, S. of V., was 41 years old yesterday, and the members of the camp upon learning this, called upon Mrs. Obney, at her home near Ralston crossing, and told her that she would have to tell her husband to take a trip to the city Friday evening, but that she must also tell him not to remain away longer than an hour. Mrs. Obney obeyed orders and so did Capt. Obney.

When the coast was clear a large number of the members of the camp, who has assembled at the hall in the Exchange block early in the evening, went to the home of their captain, and proceeded to have a good time. It was not long afterward that the captain came home, and he was surprised to see his home filled with his officers and privates. The boys wanted him to be surprised. They had an excellent time during the remainder of the evening, and also a fine luncheon. The captain, during the evening, said that he would never forget the day that he was 41.

PAIR OF TROUSERS STOLEN

The Thief Captured With the Garments Hidden Under His Coat.

Much excitement prevailed this afternoon in the Diamond in frot of Steinfeld & Viney's clothing store when Chief Thompson arrested a man from West Virginia, who gave his name as Stephen Wise. He was drunk and entered the store stating that he wanted to buy a pair of trousers. He was shown an assortment, and was left examining them by the clerk. In a few minutes he started to leave the store, but the clerk detected a pair of the trousers hidden under his coat.

He could give no explanation and an officer was telephoned for. Whereupon the chief responded to the call and landed the rustic gentleman in the city pail. A charge of drunkenness and larceny is booked against him.

WITH THE WORKMEN IN THE CLAY PLANTS

(Special Correspondence.)

New Castle, Pa., July 19.—Owing to the large stock of ware now on hand, the officials of the Shenango Pottery company have decided not to start their pottery for two weeks yet. It was expected that this shop would resume shortly after the Fourth.

The New Castle pottery is unusually busy at this time. In order that all orders may be filled promptly a number of new men have been put to work in the clay shops.

John Munro, a well known mould maker and modeler of this city, has resumed work after a prolonged illness. He spent the past few weeks at Tiffin for the benefit of his health, which is much improved.

Samuel Dobbs has returned to New Castle from East Liverpool, where he has been visiting friends for several days.

Ralph Wood is visiting at East Liverpool, his former home.

Samuel Coventry is spending a few weeks with his old friends at East Liverpool. He is expected back to New Castle in a day or so.

At the last meeting of local union No. 57 of this city, seven new members were initiated. The membership of this local, although young, is increasing rapidly.

Here are some of the latest arrivals at the sanitary shop: Samuel Hooper, of Trenton; Gus Peggendene, of Wheeling; William Crutchley, Moses Heath, of England. This shop is running steady and orders seem to be plentiful.

No conclusion was reached last evening, at a joint conference in the rooms of the Potters' club, between a committee composed of George Smith, general secretary of kilnmen's local No. 9; Richard Herbert, Frank Thornbury, Arthur Owen and Andrew Brannon, of No. 9, and Joseph G. Lee, Samuel M. Ferguson, Daniel E. McNicol, Con Cronin and B. F. Harker, representing the Western Manufacturing Potters' association. The conference was for the purpose of settling, if possible, a dispute that the kilnmen have had with the manufacturers for years, it is said, over the matter of placing flat ware in the first ring in the biscuit kilns. It is the desire that when flat ware is placed in the first ring of a biscuit kiln, the kilnmen shall be paid one-fourth more than if the ring were filled with saggers containing hollow ware. The meeting was filled with harmony, but no results were reached. Another session will be held by the joint committees on Monday evening at the same place.

An official of the Smith-Phillips company today announced that if the company did not receive any more orders for weeks there were enough on the books at the present time to keep the big factory in operation for three months in all departments. This related to straight ware only, to say nothing of the orders that have been received for novelties. This is encouraging news for the employes of that plant, although this firm has been operating the works quite steadily since it assumed the management of the factory.

Routine business was all that was looked after at the meeting of kilnmen's local No. 9 last evening in Brotherhood hall. The attendance was large, there being about 200 kilnmen present. This local at its last meeting received a report from National Secretary T. J. Duffy relating to the work accomplished at the recent general conference between committees representing the Brotherhood and the manufacturers.

Monroe Patterson, treasurer of the Wellsville China company, stated yesterday that he was dissatisfied with the way the employes of the plant are working. The hot weather and cheap rate excursions have decimated the number of active pottery workers in Wellsville and according to Mr. Patterson the Wellsville pottery is losing money and will continue until more help is obtained.

The first ware has been packed at the Laughlin No. 3. This was done under the direction of Fred Pennington last Monday, who is employed at plant No. 2, under Wash Williams. Only a few casks were sent out, to help fill an order from No. 2 plant, but it will only be a short time until this department at the No. 3 factory will be running full time.

The walls of the new Sebring pottery are about one-third way up. William Greene, of New Castle, is the contractor on construction and Scott Hickock, of Sebring, has charge of the brick work. It will be an experimental three-kiln plant for china ware and make a specialty of table ware. They expect to compete it by the first of next year.

Some rapid work is being done on the completion of the East Liverpool Brick Manufacturing company's plant. The stone for the erection of the new kilns is already on the ground, and the work of construction will begin at the earliest possible moment. The kilns will be of modern design and as large as any along the valley.

Thirty per cent of the ware made in the clay shop is lost by breakage before it reaches the warehouse, said a manufacturer recently. Since that time steps have been taken by some of the manufacturers to have the ware handled more carefully, and some interesting news is expected on this matter soon.

While the East Liverpool pottery started operations the first of the week the plant is again idle. A steam pipe burst a day or so ago and the plant was compelled to shut down until the necessary repairs could be made. Operations are expected to be resumed by Monday.

The New Castle China company is building two new kilns, a glost and a biscuit kiln. It is authoritatively stated that if the New Castle plants prove a success there will be large additions to their capacities, as the companies have plenty of capital to invest in operating.

W. H. Schuyler, of Pittsburg, of the Crockery and Glass Journal, New York, was in East Liverpool yesterday. He finds the potteries busy and the manufacturers in a cheerful mood, and better prepared for fall trade than in any previous year. He also reports a good business coming in.

The Union, which has been idle for a few weeks, will resume operations in full Monday. Such was the statement of Manager Joseph Manor today. The plant would have been started ere this but for the repairs now being completed on account of the non-arrival of materials.

Arthur Savage, who for years has been connected with the Cleveland & Pittsburg railroad in this city, first as yard master and later as cashier, has resigned his position. He is now connected with the Sevres company in a clerical position.

George Wittingham, an expert engraver of Beaver Falls, was in the city today visiting numerous potteries and looking after work in his particular line. He reports some striking new designs.

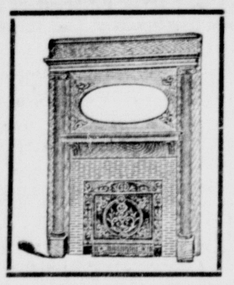

Dave Knight, warehouseman at the Goodwin pottery, accompanied by his wife and children, left yesterday for Beaver Falls, where they will remain several days visiting friends.

At a meeting held last evening by Packers' local No. 5 the new officers elected last month were installeld. No other business was transacted other than of a routine nature.

The American China company is rushed with orders, although all departments are not yet on in full since the loaf on the Fourth.

Kilndrawers' local No. 17 will meet this evening in Brotnerhood hall.

An Unexpected Result.

"Up in a little mining town in Pennsylvania," said a Keystone state congressman, "there was a political mass meeting at which the principal speakers were a Democrat named Kennedy and a Republican spellbinder named Plummer. It was arranged that Kennedy should speak first. 'At one point in my speech,' Kennedy said to Plummer, 'I am going to say that before the war I was a Whig, but then I became a Democrat. I want you to ask me why I did so. It will give me a fresh start, and then I can talk for an hour.'

"At the proper moment Kennedy made his statement, and Plummer, who had gone down in the crowd, interrupted him. 'I want to know,' he said in a loud voice, 'why you became a Democrat?'

"At that moment a muscular miner hit him a tremendous blow with his fist. 'I'll show you,' he said, 'that you can't break up a Democratic speaker here.'

When Quality Can be the Only Argument.

When different makes of the same article sell for the same price, then quality is the only argument that can usually influence your trade.

The price of soda water, good, bad and indifferent is the same all over town, so that we can't talk about that, but we believe we have a most convincing argument when you consider quality. Our Grape Phosphate seems to be the most convincing convincer we have.

THRILLING ESCAPE

Large Quantity of Nitroglycerine Went Off, Causing Mineature Volcano.

A thrilling escape from death was had by a number of well drillers on the Weston farm, southeast of Wellsville, this week, and the particulars have just reached this city.

Oil had been struck at several points, and a larger well whch was expected to be a gusher was in process of drilling. The work was completed, and by Tuesday afternoon all was in readiness to shoot the well. There were 20 quarts of nitroglycerine on the ground, to be used in the operation. The explosive was lowered to the bottom in lots of 40 quarts each, a stout cord being used for the purpose.

The first 40 quarts had been safely placed, and a large crowd had gathered around the well to watch the work. When the second lot was being lowered the cord broke, and the lives of all were in imminent danger.

"Run for your lives," was the command, instantly obeyed, and 30 persons took shelter at a safe distance.

In less than 10 seconds' time the ground shook, and with a reverberating roar, which was plainly heard in Wellsville, an immense column of rock, dirt and smoke was thrown to a great height. Mount Pelee itself could not have looked more forbidding. The oil did not appear, and the owners of the well were disappointed.

The shaft is now partly filled up by the explosion, which took place several hundred feet from the bottom. The drillers say the well would have been a big producer if the right quantity of nitroglycerine had been exploded properly.

The other 40 quarts of the stuff was above ground, close to the well's opening, and yet did not explode. Had it done so many would have been instantly killed.

The report and smoke were seen Tuesday evening by persons in Wellsville, but nobody knew the cause.

CONCO'S MILK FAMINE

Peculiar State of Affairs Because Ingram's Cows Wandered Away.

A peculiar state of affairs exists in the village of Congo. The entire population are dependent for their milk supply on cows belonging to a family named Ingram. The cows recently strayed, and the lacteal fluid has been an unknown quantity ever since. The Ingrams hunted high and low for the wandering cattle, and at length found them on the farm of Al McDonald, southeast of Chester.

The situation in Chester amounted to a milk famine, and the Ingrams lost no time in bringing back the cattle. Mr. McDonald claimed the animals had been subsisting off his crops, and claimed his right to milk them. Before things had quieted down, much ill feeling was created.

By Deputy Miller as Applicant for Stationary Engineers' Licenses.

District Examiner of Stationary Engineers Elmer E. Miller, who conducted an examination in Wellsville yesterday, went to Steubenville on the Greenwood last night. Mr. Miller is the examiner of the Fifth district, with headquarters at Canton. He was to have been in East Liverpool Thursday, but was delayed by other business matters. East Liverpool applicants took the examination in Wellsville. The list of questions was the same to all, and the were required to attain a rating of 70 per cent in order to get a license.

All who passed the previous examination were entitled to a renewal upon payment of one dollar. Several applicants who were examined were unsuccessful, but Mr. Miller did not disclose their names. Seven persons were examined. They were: J. A. Forner, Lewis H. Morse, George W. Wright, N. P. Kerr, N. F. Warden, Michael McNamee and Chalres Flowers. They range in age from 19 to 65 years, and come from Wellsville, Salineville and East Liverpool. One applicant was unable to write the answers to questions, and his little daughter stood by his side and wrote what her father dictated.

Within a few days the men will receive word from Columbus announcing success or failure, as the case may be.

A Troublesome Sewer.

Considerable trouble exists on account of a defective private sewer which runs from the Goetz building to the Ohio river, crossing Main and Front streets. The sewer was built before Wellsville's present system was installed. The pipe enters the river under the C. & P. tracks, but was recently broken when the grade of the railroad was altered. The surrounding neighborhood was flooded, and rendered in a very unsanitary condition. The railroad people became tired of the delay, and this week workmen, armed with a barrel of cement stopped up the leak. This work was not done in the right shape, and the nuisance again became noticeable. A second attempt to close up the break was successful. The board of health has decided to give notice that the use of the sewer must cease.

Too Big a Bonus.

Mayor Fogo lately received a letter from W. T. Dempsey, of Beaver Falls, asking him to take up consideration of an offer to locate a trousers factory in Wellsville. The promoters of the factory wanted a tract of land 50x100 feet, a cash bonus of $5,000, and they would endeavor to locate the factory here. Mr. Dempsey asked Mayor Fogo to bring the matter up before the board of trade. The mayor said today the latter had seen fit to turn the offer down. It was thought the concern wanted too large a bonus.

The Flyer Engine.

Engine No. 603 now hauls train 335, leaving Wellsville at 7:35, west bound. No. 603 is known among the local railroad men as the "flyer." This engine is one of the largest ever built, and before being placed on its present run, was used to haul the C. & P. flyer, making the run from Cleveland to Pittsburg, 150 miles, in three hours, counting numerous stops.

A Government Engineer.

Raymond DeFreese, of Troy, one of the engineering corps of the United States geological survey, is registered at the Metropole. Mr. De Freese is on the Ohio side of the river running a few lines which will conclude the survey in this section. He attended the Ohio State college and Adelbert college, having graduated from the latter.

A Disappointed Kentuckian.

At the time when John G. Carlisle was senator from Kentucky his speeches were widely printed and attracted a great deal of attention. One day when the senate was in session a mountaineer from the wildest wilds of Kentucky presented himself at the door and asked to see Senator Carlisle. The visitor wore homespun and leather boots and was travel stained and dusty. He explained that he had read Mr. Carlisle's speeches and considered them great, and had walked more than a hundred miles in order to see the senator from his state. Mr. Carlisle was busy at the time, and the clerk informed the visitor that he could not be disturbed. The farmer looked disappointed and seemed reluctant to depart. Finally he asked if he might be taken where he could just catch a glimpse of the great man he had walked so far to see. The request was granted, and Mr. Carlisle was pointed out to him. After a brief scrutiny the farmer turned to the attendant:

"Reads a heap better'n he looks," he remarked sententiously, and prepared to walk back home.—New York Times.

He Swung the Lantern.

A southern senator was at one time counsel for a small railroad. At a point on the line where it crossed a prominent highway they had an old negro watchman, whose duties consisted in warning travelers of the approach of trains. One night a farmer's wagon was struck, causing a bad accident. The railroad company was of course sued for damages, and at the trial the old darky was the chief witness for his employers. He answered the questions put to him in a clear, direct manner. Among them was the query as to whether he surely swung his lantern across the road when he saw the train coming, to which he replied:

"'Deed I did, sah."

The railroad company won the suit, and the senator took occasion later to compliment his witness on his excellent testimony. The old fellow was profuse in thanks, but before they parted bluntly said:

"Lordy, Marse John, I sho' was skeered when dat lawyer gin to ax me 'bout de lantern. I was afeared he was goin' to ax if it was lit or not, 'cause de oil in it done give out some time before de axdent."

Breaking a Will.

A wealthy woman named Silva died at Lisbon and left her entire property to a rooster. She was a fervid spiritualist, a believer in the transmigration of souls, and imagined that the soul of her dead husband had entered the rooster. She caused a special fowlhouse to be built and ordered her servants to pay extra attention to their "master's" wants. The disgust of her relatives over the will caused the story to become public, and a lawsuit might have followed had not one of the heirs adopted the simple expedient of having the wealthy rooster killed, thus becoming himself the next of kin.

A Great Work of Art.

It was Apelles who visited the studio of Protogenes in Rome and, finding the artist absent, drew a thin colored line in such a way that the Roman knew that only his Grecian brother could have done it. But, not to be outdone, Protogenes drew a thinner line upon that of Apelles, and when this was seen Apelles drew a third line upon that of Protogenes. This panel was then looked upon as the greatest work of art, so says the story, in the palace of the Cæsars.

He wants to feel reasonably sure that he is doing so where he has a reasonable chance of receiving fair returns for his money.

WHAT ARE THE CHANCES IN CHESTER, W. VA.?

A little over two years ago there was no such a town on the map. Today it is one of the busiest little cities in the great Ohio valley, with a population of 3,000 and growing at a rapid rate. In its location and its sorroundings, its present condition and future prospects it has the making of a great and prosperous city. Some of those who invested in Chester property at the start have realized as high as 100 per cent. on their money. These profits have not been the result of years of waiting, but of merely a few months.

Investigate For Yourself.

You will find that Chester is situated in almost the northern point of the Panhandle of West Virginia. It is reached by a branch of the Panhandle rail road, connecting with the main line at New Cumberland Junction some 18 miles southward. This line is shortly to be extended up the Ohio river to a connection with the main line of the Ft. Wayne Railroad and the great Pennsylvania system, reaching Pittsburg and the great eastern centers.

What are the Advantages?

A FEW OF THEM ARE LEVEL, STREETS PAVED, SEWERED AND ADORNED WITH FLAGSTONE SIDEWALKS, SEWERAGE AND BEAUTIFUL SHADE TREES; A SYSTEM OF WATER WORKS WHICH FURNISHES PURE, FILTERED WATER, ADEQUATE TO THE NEEDS OF ALL POLICE AND FIRE PROTECTION; A DOUBLE TRACK STREET RAILWAY WHICH IS EQUAL TO ANY IN THE COUNTRY. NATURAL GAS, CHEAP AND ABUNDANT. MANUFACTURING PLANTS:— A MODEL TIN PLATE MILL, FURNISHING EMPLOYMENT TO 800 PERSONS; TWO LARGE POTTERIES, EMPLOYING MORE THAN 400 PERSONS EACH, WITH OTHER INDUSTRIES ABOUT TO BE ESTABLISHED.

In addition there are good stores and all the minor industries of a prosperous city. There are also good schools good churshes and good society. The scenery is unmatched for attractiveness in all the Ohio valley. Thousands of persons flock to the neighboring pleasure resort, the Famous Rock Springs Park, daily during the summer and strangers invariably go away voting it one of the pleasantest spots along the river.

Better Opportunities

Are presented for the realization of profits. Why? Land is still cheap, compared with the prices charged in other towns of the same size. Chester is not a boom town. It's growth, although rapid, has been substantial and along conservative lines. It is both a manufacturing town and a city of homes. Hundreds of new houses were erected last season; the same record will be repeated this year, probably on a greater scale.

THE CITY OF EAST LIVERPOOL!

The great pottery manufacturing center, with 20,000 inhabitants and growing faster than any other town in all the Ohio Valley, is directly opposite Chester, and connected with it by a new iron bridge which is crossed by street cars, vehicles of all sorts and by pedestrians. The center of East Liverpool, O., is less than a mile away and hundreds of persons who work or have business in East Liverpool find Chester a more agreeable place for residence. Taxes are not high, and the advantages are all that could be asked. None of these statements are overdrawn. Some of the most desirable property in this thrifty and beautiful spot is shortly to be sold at auction. There will be bargains for those who seek them. At sales of this character no one can have an advantage. Lots will be sold to the highest bidders; those who buy will know what they are getting and if they see no bargain in the property offered they are not asked or expected to bid. We do not desire to have customers unless they are satisfied.

to enable you to have a share in the advantages and the profits. You can start with a few dollars now and you will not need to wait long to double your money.

CHOICE LOTS FREE

with every 100 lots sold, one lot will be given away absolutely free, to some one person among those who have made purchases of one or more of the lots at this sale. One purchaser stands as good a chance as an other of securing this prize, it matters not whether he has purchased one lot or ten. A committee of reputable citizens will be selected and they will decide to whom the prize lots shall fall.

Choice New Property

will be offered at the coming sale—not lots which have been hawked about, vainly seeking a purchaser. There are over 800 of these lots which are now offered for the first time; everyone of them desirable either as residence property or as a location for business.

A Hatching Egg.

"An egg in the process of hatching," says an expert, "is remarkably sensitive to vibration. Half the failures that amateurs encounter in hatching out chicks by the incubator method are due to lack of precaution in providing against the effect of vibration on the eggs. The rumble of a train or the passage of a wagon along the street will spoil a whole incubator full of eggs if the faintest vibratory wave reaches the apparatus. Even such a little thing as the banging of a door in some other part of the house will destroy the chances of hatching out a brood where care has not been taken to place the incubator beyond the reach of such disturbances. A thunder storm always gives breeders a scare, as thousands of eggs may be spoiled by a sudden heavy thunderclap. To sneeze or cough in the vicinity of the incubators will sometimes work a disastrous result."—New York Tribune.

Editorial Pleasantries.

Two editors quarreled, and one referred to the other's early career in his paper.

"As for our contemporary," he wrote, "what can we expect from a man who was five years ago hawking from door to door with a donkey, and an ill conditioned beast at that?"

His rival did not deny it, but in his next issue appeared the following:

"Our contemporary says that five years ago we were 'hawking from door to door with a donkey, and an ill conditioned beast at that.' He is quite right. We were so occupied. But we are surprised to find the donkey has such a good memory."

Pugilistic Giants In Frisco Ready For Bout July 25

BOB FITZSIMMONS and Jim Jeffries are in fine fettle for their fight, which occurs July 25 in Frisco at the San Francisco Athletic club. Both men are confident, as is generally the case with pugilists before a bout, and both claim that they were never in better condition for a world's championship battle.

Jeff says:

"I am about ready to enter the ring. By the day of the fight I will be 'fit' as a fiddle and ready to defend my championship title successfully. There's no doubt in my mind that Fitzsimmons will make a great bid to regain his lost laurels, but he'll fail. My training since I came here has been very hard. I amble through a course of work every day that would stagger a longshoreman. From now on I'll add to my schedule and will soon be doing two days' work in one. It's a big thing, though, to hold the championship, and I don't intend to lose it through being caught out of shape."

Fitz says:

"Until a few days ago I have been satisfied to go along with easy training, but good, hard systematic work is now in order. I am in fine shape—never was better—and feel ready and able to put up a harder and faster fight than I ever did. My light training has done me a lot of good, and very little polishing off will put me on edge. Skaggs Springs is one of the best places I ever struck for getting ready for a hard battle. The California air is fine, and the trips over the mountains which I take daily are great stuff. They are rather strenuous at first, but when you get used to them they are the real thing. I am down to about the weight I will enter the ring at and as strong as a bull."

Fitz has arranged a schedule which calls for any amount of work. Every minute of the day is mapped out, and the ex-champion says he sticks to the time table even closer than an express train does to its running schedule. Boxing is the chief feature of the work and will be to within a day or two of the fight. Fitz has "Soldier Tom" Wilson and George Dawson for sparring partners, and if he hands them any more under the new schedule than they have been receiving during the past few weeks they will be objects of pity.

While the Cornishman may not be of a cruel nature, he certainly is of an inventive turn of mind, and he practices new punches of all kinds on his partners as well as old ones. Of course, to get the proper effect Fitz has to let these wallops go with a good deal of speed, and they usually are felt.

On his road work Fitz is always accompanied by Mrs. Fitzsimmons and Bob junior in a carriage. Mrs. Fitzsimmons sets the pace, and Bob lumbers along. The pace is usually pretty hot, but Bob has yet to complain or call a halt. The roads are not such as an ordinary runner would fancy, either, being mostly up hill. When Fitz first tried to run, he complained that the work was all up hill. According to Bob, he would start out and run five miles up hill. Then he naturally expected to have things easy on the trip home and was looking for a chance to roll along with the brakes on.

Things were not as he thought, however, and the run back was as hard as the trip out.

Of course, like horse races and elections, prizefights are never decided until the last minute of the fray, but in the present instance there seems to be no reasonable chance of victory for the Cornishman. Fitzsimmons is a clever boxer, a determined stayer and a phenomenally hard hitter, but the giant Jim Jeffries is a Gibraltar of pugilists that neither Fitzsimmons nor any other heavyweight can successfully storm. Fitz will enter the ring of the San Francisco Athletic club at about 170 pounds. Jeff will carry with him about 215 pounds of well trained avoirdupois and, having had the experience of a fight with the long, lean Bob, should have no fear as to the result.

Jeffries should win inside of fifteen rounds. Fitz is an old man now, and, despite his remarkably preserved stamina and physique, he is not likely to stay longer than that. Naturally Bob's unexcelled ring generalship will serve to prolong the battle, but Jeff has made a deliberate study of his rival's style and will be prepared for almost anything that may occur.

As Jim's contemplated plan of action is understood, he is to play a waiting game until the tenth round. By holding himself on the defensive during the opening part of the bout he hopes to tire Bob, thus taking the edge from his terrific jabs and jolts. Then Jim will start in to "do business," and he calculates that five rounds of strong offensive work will bring the end, and in his favor.

Bob also has become a convert to the waiting style of fighting, and he intends to keep away from Jim's powerful paws until an opening presents itself. Fitz is a master of defense and understands perfectly the science of holding himself well covered without placing himself in a position where he will be unable to take advantage of possible openings, and it is this accomplishment which makes or mars a pugilist. Many men can guard themselves, many can open up telling attacks, but few there are that combine these elements without sacrificing to some extent one or the other. The successful human fighting machine must be versatile.

In the meantime the training operations on the slope are going merrily on. Bob is varying the monotony of routine work by chopping wood, feeding chickens, milking the cows and picking daffodils, while the boiler maker finds supreme enjoyment in building hencoops and talking for publication. But then this latter feature has long been a part of a pugilist's stock in trade, and Jim is not to be blamed for following precedent.

Corbett says if he ever gets a chance at James J. Jeffries again he proposes fighting on quite another tack from that on which he fought the boiler maker before. Jim says that the secret of Jeffries' success has been in his famous "crouch," which has kept all the big fellows from getting to him. Corbett says the only way to cure Jeffries of this habit is to assume the same position and fight him back in his own kind. Corbett proposes digging a subway through which to reach the big fellow, but the chances are that before he has spaded out more than a dozen cartloads Jeffries will have him tucked away in his little blankets dreaming of the good old days when John L. thought he was still a youngster.

Willie Reid, a pupil of Mike Donovan, instructor at the New York Athletic club, is out with a challenge to fight Hughey McGovern. Reid is only sixteen years of age, and his father is willing to bet $1,000 that he can defeat the brother of the former champion. What Mr. Reid, Sr., should do is to send his son to school instead of trying to make a pug out of him. He has undoubtedly read in the papers as to how the majority of them have turned out.

Hugo and the Barber.

When Victor Hugo lived in Paris, in the Place Royale, he used to be shaved by a barber named Brassier. A friend of the poet asked the barber one day if he was busy. "I hardly know which way to turn," was the reply. "We have to dress the hair of thirty ladies for soirees and balls." And M. Brassier showed the list to his friend. A few days after the friend returned and inquired about the thirty ladies. "Ah, monsieur," said the barber sadly, "I was not able to attend half the number, and I have lost many good customers through M. Victor Hugo." It appears that the poet when about to be shaved was suddenly inspired and seized the first piece of paper he could find to write a poem. Hugo hastily left the shop with his unfinished verses, on the back of which were the names and addresses of the thirty ladies, many of whom waited in vain for their coiffeur.

Billy Rice and a Pin.

Billy Rice, negro minstrel, used to tell the story of a man who picked up a pin as he was leaving the office of a great merchant, after an unsuccessful quest for work.

The merchant, seeing the man's action from the window, called him back and gave him employment, which kindness he repaid by becoming owner of the entire business in an incredibly short time.

Billy used to end his story by saying that he tried that scheme once when he was looking for work, dropping a pin carefully on the floor as he entered. He stated his wants to the proprietor, who not only had no employment to offer him, but remarked to his partner as Rice picked up the pin:

"Say, if that fellow's so small as to steal a pin off the floor, how much do you think he'd leave in my till?"

BROKE WORLD'S RECORD

WELL KNOWN COUPLE DANCED FOUR HOURS CONTINUOUSLY.

Made a Wager With the Piano Player, And He Lost, But Dancers Kept on Whirling.

The world's record at dancing was broken in this city at Columbian park last evening. In the past the record for a dance has been two hours and 35 minutes, but the record is four houds and 15 minutes.

During the dance at Columbian park last evening Charles Shenkel made a wager with the dancers that he could play the piano longer than any couple could dance. The wager at first went unheeded, but soon Joseph Cassidy, of this city, and Miss Bessie Golden, of Wellsville, took the piano player at his word, and at 9:15 o'clock the dance, which proved to be a record breaker, commenced.

The couple danced and the piano player furnished the music until it seemed that his fingers would not stand the strain. Finally it was seen that the piano player was giving out, and that was shortly after 4 o'clock. However, the dancers continued to dance, and at 1:30 o'clock time was called, they having danced continuously for four hours and 15 minutes.

Phelps Will Contest.

Canton, July 19.—Wallace H. Phelps, who secured 21 of the 132 Stark county delegates to the Republican congressional convention to be held in Salem, announced that he would contest the third ward at Canton. Phelps claims that three ballots were taken from the box in precinct A, which was overwhelmingly for Grant, and deposited in the box at precinct B, which Grant carried by a vote of 36 to Phelps 35.

W. F. Dorff, of Third street, national organizer of the C. I. U. of N. A., coopers, left this morning for Sebring, where he will organize a new local of the coopers. He reports the coopers throughout the country becoming generally organized, the East Liverpool local having increased to 71 in membership. The headquarters of the national organization are at Canton.

NOWLING ARRESTED

His Plea Not Guilty—Numerous Arrests Are to Follow.

A. K. Nowling, the leader of the park orchestra, was arrested this morning on a warrant sworn out by E. S. Good, for laboring on Sunday. He was arrigned before Squire Johnston and pleaded not guilty. He was released on his own recognizance, for his apeparance Monday morning at 9 o'clock.

This is the first of the cases instituted against park officials and employes. The wararnts are out for Messrs. Smith and Maxwell, of the park company, Young, Page, and five other musicians; William Dorff and Jesse Good, ticket seller and collector.

The park officials will be represented by competent counsel, and will probably carry up the cases to the circuit court of Hancock county.

Mr. Nowling informed a News Review reporter this morning that his orchestra had a contract with the park management for playing six days a week. Their services on Sunday, therefore, were gratitious, and they were not amenable to the law. Mr. Nowling will be represented by strong legal talent, and will also carry the case to the circuit court.

The other cases will he heard as soon as the warrants are served, which are all now in the hands of Constable Allison. It is probable that the defendants will all plead not guilty.

Mr. Good said in Nowling's case he was not ready to present his proofs this morning to Squire Johnston, and the justice was therefore privileged to release Nowling on his own recognizance.

The hearings promise to be interesting.

Bakers' Outing.

The employes of the Ward-Mackey company's mammoth bakery came in on a special train of nine coaches over the New Cumberland branch, this morning. They number about 500, and are accompanied by their wives and families, which brings the number up to about 1 000 people. They are enjoying themselves both at the park and in the city.

Interested In Pure Food.

The retail grocers of West Virginia are in sesison at Wheeling, and are proposing legislation looking to the enactment of pure food laws in the state by the legislature as well as the creating of an office for a state commisisoner to look after food products.

On a Summer Tour.

Thomas Hutton, of Albany, N. Y., who is visiting in West Virginia, stopped in Chester today. He has three Filpino monkeys, brought from the islands by returning soldiers. Mr. Hutton is on a summer tour, and will visit the resorts of the state.

Blinded by a Bee.

Many Get Vaccinated.

Quite a number of Chester citizens have been vaccinated, and many others are going through the ordeal. However, the fear from an epidemic of smallpox is past.

CHESTER NOTES.

Mr. Enoch Riley has started a news route to Lawrenceville.

Fitzpatrick, the smallpox patient, is improving rapidly. It has been 10 days since the discovery of the case, and there have been no new developments.

The lawn fete at the Asbury M. E. church last night, in the grove adjoining, was a social and financial success. Sixteen dollars was the amount cleared.

Council No. 81, Jr. O. U. A. M., will initiate a candidate next Wednesday night. The order is quite prosperous at the present time, having a membership of 56.

Jesse Phillips, of Hammondsville, has moved to Chester and is now living on Third street. He was married just a short time ago to Miss Lucy Scott, of Brilliant.

Mrs. J. E. Hartman, of Hammondsville, accompanied by her little girl and Miss Ruby Hartman, the latter of Pittsburg, have been visiting Mr. Hartman, who is employed in the Chester mill.

Stewart & Hopper brought in a well in the Nichol farm yesterday good for five barrels. Campbell & Co. have already located a new well on the Campbell farm. Both are in the Hooks-town field.

All of the sanitary plants are busy and the orders now awaiting to be filled give every prospect for steady employment for the men until the first of next year at the least.

The old Hart Brewer pottery on Greenwood avenue, which is controlled by Messrs. Phillips & Gruesser, will shortly begin to manufacture sanitary ware. The plant in the past was devoted exclusively to general ware.

Alexander Turford, who was the selling agent of the old Egyptian pottery, before it passed into the hands of Former Tax Receiver C. Harry Baker and City Treasurer W. J. B. Stokes, has associated himself with Messrs. Phillips & Gruesser and will have charge of the selling department.

The sanitary men will begin work in about two weeks.

The Elite pottery, which has recently been erected by Messrs. Page, Diehl and Benson, will enter the sanitary field in a week or so.

In spite of the handicap because of the shortage of coal with which to fire the kilns, most of the general ware plants are well stocked with orders and promise to be busy for some time to come. This is particularly true with the Mercer, Crescent and Cook potteries.

The Glasgow pottery is suffering because of lack of coal, and since the coal strike began little ware has been made at the three plants of the Greenwood Pottery company. This firm manufactures a grade of ware which cannot be fired with soft coal.

19TH YEAR. NO. 169. EAST LIVERPOOL, SATURDAY, JULY 19, 1902. TWO CENTS.

MAKING THE OHIO NAVIGABLE AT ALL SEASONS OF THE YEAR

WHAT NEW DAM WILL LOOK LIKE.

Great improvements are in progress under the auspices and at the expense of the United States government, on the Ohio river from Pittsburg to its junction with the Mississippi at Cairo. When they are completed the Ohio will be navigable at all times, save when closed by ice, by all river steamers, as the stream will then be virtually a series of deep water pools, or levies, connected by locks of ample size to permit the passage of all steamers and tows, now plying the river at what is n ow known to river men as coal boat stage of water.

The much desired and long sought result will be reached by the construction of a series of dams combined with locks at such intervals on the river as to enable those government officials in charge of them to keep the stream navigable for all types of river crafts. To construct these dams and locks the general government will expend vast sums of money and will also expend a considerable sum annually in manning and maintaining them. One of these costly improvements will be located at Walker, near the city, unless present plans are changed, and it is not likely that they will be.

Believing that the details of river improvements, which will be of very great commercial advantage to this and other cities, have been obtained from Captain W. E. Craighill, United States Engineer. He gives also minute particulars as to the construction of the unique dams and locks, by the construction and operation of which so happy a result is reached.

A reporter called upon Capt. Craighill at his office at Wheeling, and was most courteously received by him. The captain first produced an accurate map of the Ohio river from the head of navigation to the river's junction with the Mississippi. Every minutia of the river's topography is shown on this map, or rather series of hundreds of maps—for it is necessarily in atlas form. Every island, every pool and shallow, every turn and bend of the serpentine stream, every important town, city or village upon its banks, all its channels and all its intricacies are clearly set forth and delineated on this masterfully drawn map of the Ohio. It was the result of years of labor by expert surveyors and draughtsmen. Some idea of its extent can be formed from the fact that the map is drawn on a scale of about four inches to the mile.

Then the captain showed the reporter hundreds of photographs delineating all phases of the work in progress on the dams and locks on the Ohio and Kanawha rivers—for he has entire charge of the government improvements on both streams, and three of these, which will give to the reader a fairly clear understanding of the manner in which the great river is to be bound and made to subserve the intrests of commerce, are reproduced in connection with this article.

The first dam and lock to be completed was that located at Davis island, below Pittsburg, which resulted in the formation of the deep water stretch of the river now officially designated "the Pittsburg pool." It is here that it is now possible to hold millions of bushels of coal on coal barges and coal boats in perfect safety in deep water—caused by the construction of the dam—until a barge or coal boat stage is reached in the river below the dam, when they are rushed down the river to Cincinnati and other points in immense tows, as high as sixteen barges or boats being brought down by one steamer.

Six miles below Beaver, Pa., another dam and lock is rapidly nearing completion, and this will create a stretch of deep water to be popularly known as the Beaver river pool, including the mouth of that stream within its limits. This, to the government officials will be known as dam No. 6.

Between 6 and No. 1, dams and locks—always a lock at one end of these dams—Nos. 2, 3, 4 and 5 are in process of construction, and when completed will, with 1 and 6, give continuous deep water from Pittsburg almost to the Pennsylvania state line.

Dam No. 7, for which an appropriation has been made, but upon which work has not yet begun, will be located near Smith's Ferry, just within the borders of Pennsylvania.

Dam No. 8, to be located at Walker, below East Liverpool, and an appropriation having been made, work will soon be inaugurated on it.

Dam No. 9 will be located just above Kingston, W. Va., and dam No. 10 just above Steubenville, O. No appropriation has yet been made for their construction, but it will be done at an early date.

Dam No. 11 is to be constructed a short distance below Steubenville, and as an appropriation has been made for it by congress, construction work will soon begin.

The next dam in the chain of navigation improvements will be located a short distance above Sisters, near Wheeling. No appropriation has yet been made for its construction, but this will be made doubtless at the next session of congress. It will be known as dam No. 12.

The next dam in the series, No. 13, is now in progress of construction. It is located at McMechen, and when completed, five years hence, will work changes of vast importance to Wheeling and the other towns above. What is now a fickle, ever-varying stream, flowing past the city's wharves, will be as by the touch of the magician's wand, transformed into a lake, whose waters shall ever be navigable to all river crafts, pleasure yachts of every kind, and through which the waters of the Ohio will glide all but currentless, yet keeping it every fresh.

These dams, known as Chancine witcket dams, are all constructed on the same plan, which is of French origin. Each consists of three divisions. The stone abutment at one side of the stream, a commodious lock at the opposite or channel side, and the dam proper between these. The latter is far from being a dam as the term is ordinarily used. It consists of a series of movable sections or "wickets," each 4 feet in width and 15 feet in length, hung about the middle cross section and held in any desired position by a steel prop attached to it just above the center.

These wickets can be raised to a very nearly perpendicular position, partly lowered, or depressed until they lie flat upon the bed of the stream. In a flood emergency they will turn one-fourth of a circle on their centers lying horizantal, or parallel with the end of the river, thus allowing the water to pass below and over them and present but a trifling resistance to the passage of the flood waters between the walls of the lock at one end of the dam and the abutment.

The action of the wicket system will be better understood by looking carefully at the illustration marked "B," published in connection with this article.

In it is shown in the foreground the abutment wall, then a large unmber of wickets lying flat upon the bottom of the river. Next is seen a wicket in the flood emergency position, while beyond them may be seen five wickets in position for forming part of the dam.

Back of these wickets forming the dam, is constructed, as will be seen in illustration "A," a narrow tramway, or "service bridge," to be exact, the track of which is considerably higher than the top of the dam when wickets are at their highest point. This tramway is of skeleton steel construction, consisting of as many sections as there are wickets in the dam, and they can be folded down upon the bed of the stream, as will be seen in illustration "B," where they are shown in both upright and horizontal positions.

In the construction of these dams the first step is the construction of temporary or coffer dams both above and below the line on which the permanent dam is to be constructed. These are clearly shown in illustration "A."

The dam at McMechen, known by the government engineers as "No. 13, Ohio river," may be taken as a specimen of these government works. It is of special interest to Wheeling and its sister cities of Benwood, Bellaire, Bridgeport and Martin's Ferry. When completed it will give perpetual deep water, and splendid yachting opportunities from McMechen to a point one-half mile below Burlington. The largest boats can "go about" without difficulty, and there will be a charming permanency to the river which has never been known or enjoyed before.

The total cost of the dam will be about $950,000. Construction of the lock was begun last year. The coffer dam is already completed. There were unexpected difficulties in securing a good foundation, and for this reason the contract had to be supipemented, causing some delay. Everything is now in shape, and work will progress steadily until completion. Captain Craighill stated yesterday to a reporter that the McMechen dam would be completed in five years.

The lock at the dam will be of enormous proportions. Its length is to be 600 feet between gates and its width 100 fet in the clear. It will accommodate at one time a steamer with bages carying 12,000 tons of coal—enough to load an ocean steamer. It will have no swinging gates, but at each end is a massive sliding door which can be rolled back into a slot or opening in the land walls of the lock when steamers are to pass in or out. There are also sluice gates for the admission of water to or its exit from the lock.

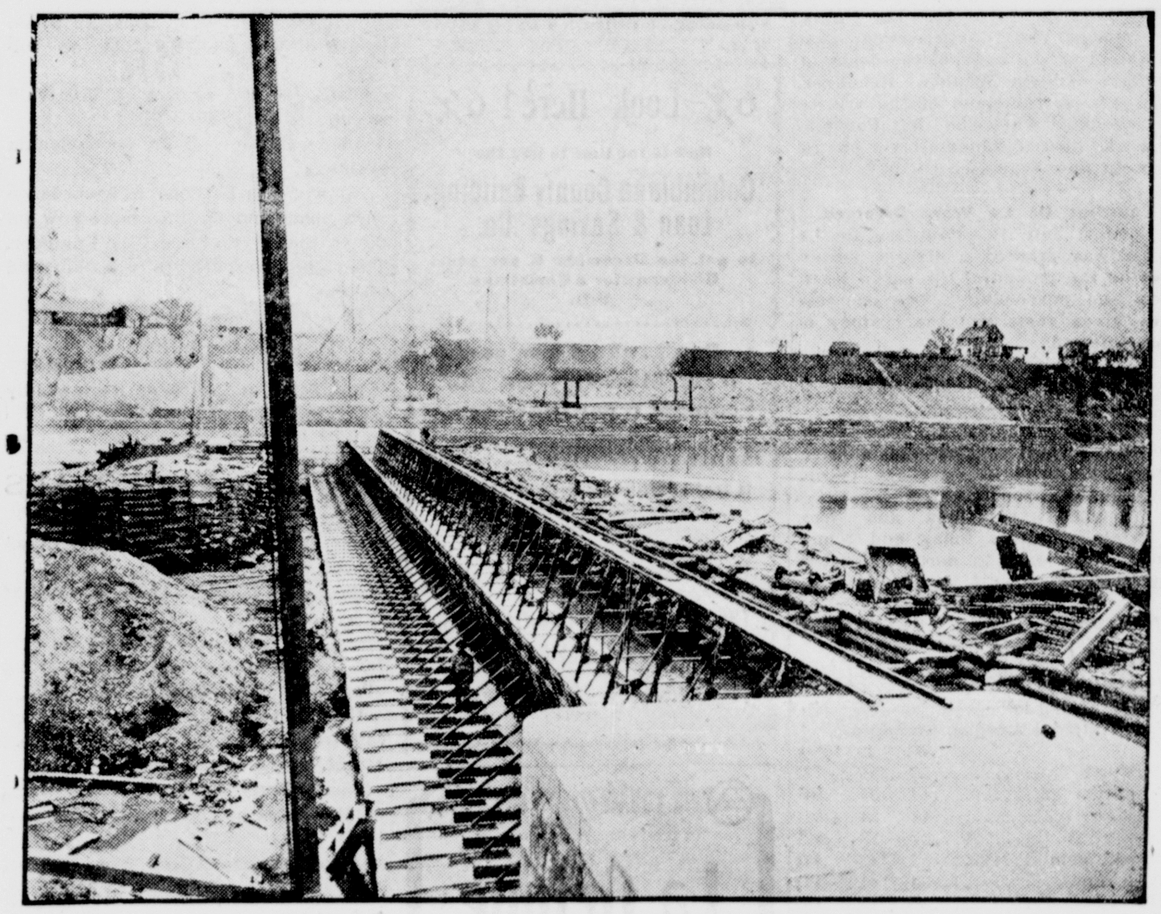

The lock will be first completed. Then, what is known as the "navigation pass" portion of the dam. This extends 600 feet into the river from the river walls of the lock and the upper surface of its bed, or base is four feet lower than that of the balance of the dam. It is the channel for vessels when the stage of water is such as to render use of the lock unnecessary and cause the wickets of the entire dam to be lowered to bed of stream, as shown in illustration "B." Between this and the balance of the dam which is designated as the "weir," a massive stone and cement abutment is constructed.

Then the balance of the bed of the dam is constructed, terminating at a massive abutment of masonry and concrete.

The massive wickets are of oak, those of the navigation pass being 14 feet by 4 feet, and those of the balance of the dam, known as the weir, four feet shorter. The steel sections of the tramway are next put in place, he enormously heavy and massive doors are placed in the great lock, the coffer dams are removed, and the lock and dam will be ready for operation.

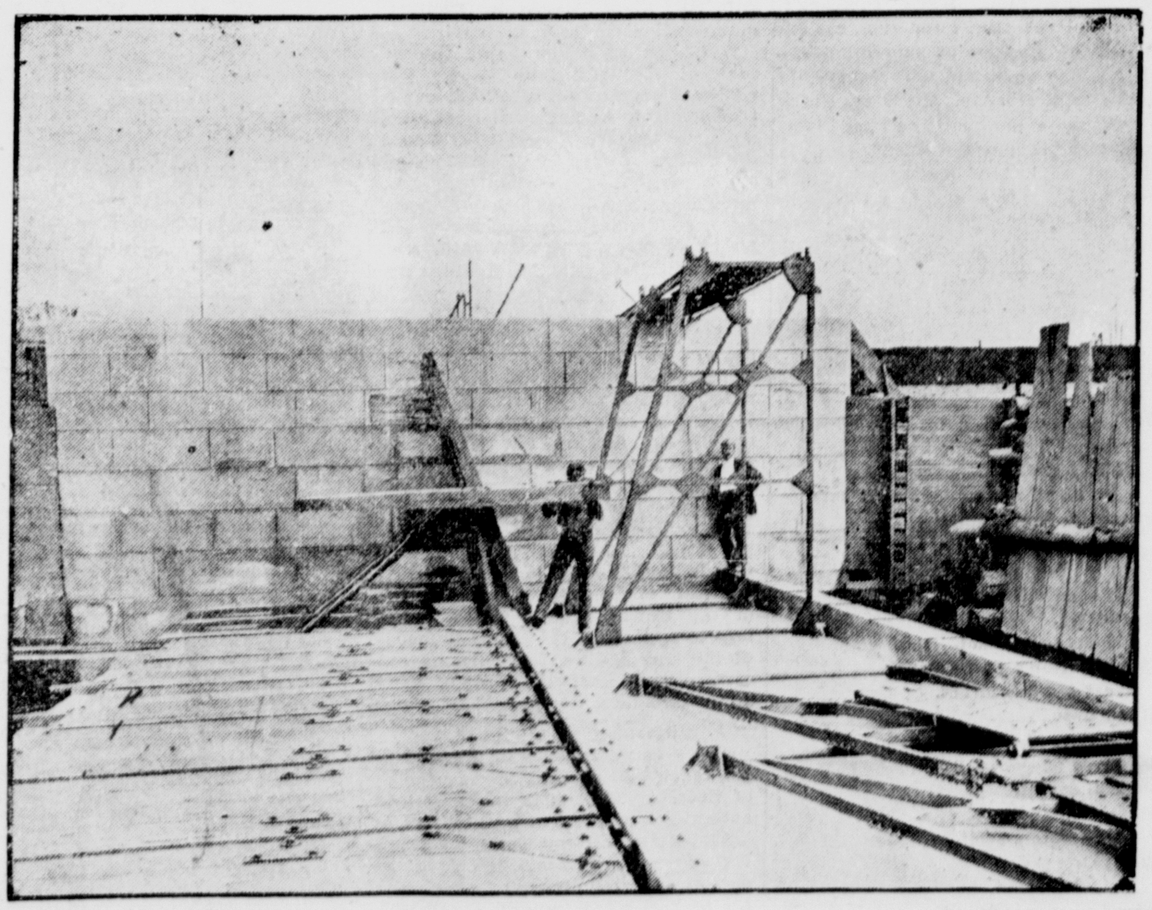

The dimension of the No. 13, the McMechen dam, are as follows: Width of navigation pass, 600 feet; balance of the dam, technically known as the "weir," 400 feet; total width of the dam proper from abutment to river wall of lock, 1,000 feet; extreme perpendicular height of dam 13.8 feet; wickets in navigation pass, 15 feet long; in weir 11 feet, the bed of the pass being four feet lower than that of the head of the weir. The wickets are inclined at an angle of 20 degrees from the perpedicular thus presenting an angle of 110 degrees to the pressure of the water above.

The height of the service bridge on which the cars carrying the engine and the "winch" for lowering or raising the wickets run is 2 1-2 feet higher than the top of the dam, for evident reasons.

The wall of the lock and the wall of the abutment extends 20 feet above the bed of the dam or five feet above its top.

All the improvements on the Ohio river, also those on the Kanawha are in charge of Captain W. E. Craighill, U. S. engineer, who is now a citizen of Wheeling, residing at 1209 Chapline street. His headquarters are at 1050 Main street. He is a very pleasant and obliging gentleman. Graduating with honor from West Point, in the class of '85 with the rank of lieutenant, he performed much important service with the United States Engineer corps in river and harbor work. He took an active part later in the Spanish-American war, and saw much hard service in the Philippines as major of the Fortieth Volunteer infantry, of which Col. E. A. Godwin, of West Virginia, was in command, of whom Captain Craighill said yesterday: "Col. Goodwin is a man for whom I have the highest regard, he is a splendid soldier and a thorough gentleman."

While in the Philippines Captain Craighill planned and inaugurated the improvement of Manila harbor, which are now being carried on. He also was in active service during the war in China, where he was on General Chaffee's staff. He is familiar with the character of the Moros and says of them: "The Moro is bad—like a rattle snake, but civilization and civilized troops will easily conquer him." He returned from Manila in September, 1901, and was then placed in charge of all government improvements on the Ohio and Kanawha rivers, an oppointment on which this city may justly congratulate itself.

In the office here is also Assistant U. S. Engineer Charles Humphreys, who has immediate charge of the construction on the McMechen dam, and who will have charge of No. 11, to be put in at Steubenville.

S. G. Campbell, also at Wheeling, is chief government inspector of construction.

The contractors on the McMechen dam are Sheridan & Kirk, originally from Kentucky, but now residing at McMechen.

When dams are completed and begin to be operated it is necessary that those in charge be in constant communication with points at headwaters of the river and on its tributaries, hence each dam is connected with these points by a special telephone line, and either night or day, when a message is received announcing a freshet in a tribuatary above a dam in its pool the men in charge at once begin lowering the wickets and tramway sections. This is often dangerous work, particularly at night time in stormy weather. In case of a mere tributary freshet the dam is raised again as soon as the flood has run out. Where it is a general flood then all dams from the head of the river down are lowered.

The wickets on the weir section of the dam—meaning all of it except the navigation pass—are being continually raised and lowered to keep the water at an even stage and avoid violent charges with consequent dangerous currents, and to prevent the stranding of boats along the banks.

Records will be kept of all boats passing either way on the river so that those in charge at the locks always have accurate information as to location of all boats on the river. In passing the locks packets have right of way over freight and tow boats.

Appropriations have been made for dams Nos. 18 and 19. The former is located just below Marietta and the latter near Parkersburg.

Bids for the work on the navigation pass at dam No. 5, located just above Rochester, were opened at Captain Craighill's office on Tuesday, July 15.

The illustrations are from dams now in process of construction on the Kanawha river, but they are exactly the style to be erected at McMechen and other Ohio river points.

Vatican Organ Said It Was Reached In Philippine Friars' Matter.

U. S. INITIATIVE ENDS HAPPILY.

Foundation Reached For Further Negotiations Between an Apostolic Delegate and the Governor of Philippines, at Manila.

Rome, July 19.—Observatore Romano (organ of the vatican) yesterday published an official note as follows:

"The initiative of the government of the United States, with the object of arriving at an understanding with the holy see about religious questions in the Philippines, in which it showed frankness and fine political tact, has reached a happy ending after negotiations conducted on both sides in a spirit of conciliation and friendly deference. The general lines of a common accord have been drawn up to the mutual satisfaction of the parties concerned and in conformity with the proposals made to the holy see in a memorandum. These general lines will serve as a basis for further negotiations, as regards details to be conducted and brought to a conclusion at Manila between an apostolic delegate and the governor of the Philippines."

Rampolla Sent Note to Taft.

Rome, July 19.—A note from the vatican was presented to Governor Taft last night, signed by Cardinal Rampolla, which said in part:

"I hasten to acknowledge the receipt of the letter by which you kindly communicated to me the cablegram from Secretary Root answering my note of July 9, which explained the counter project of the vatican for the regulation of religious affairs in the Philippines. While thanking you for this important communication, I am happy to assure you that the holy see has learned with the liveliest satisfaction the high consideration in which Mr. Root, in the name of the government of the United States, holds the fitness of the measures which the vatican, independently of the solution of any economic question designed taking to ameliorate the religious situation in the archipelago and to co-operate in the pacification of the people under American sovereignty. The measures are indicated in my memorandum of June 21 and my letter of July 9. These declarations of Mr. Root do honor to the deep political wisdom of the government of the United States, which knows how to appreciate the happy influence of the holy see for the religious and civil elevation of the people, especially Catholics.

Pleasing to the Pope.

"With equal satisfaction the pontiff has taken into account the assurances of Secreary Root that the American authorities in the Philippines and at Washington will put forth all possible efforts to maintain the good understanding happily established with the authorities of the Catholic church. On his part the pontiff will not fail to give the apostolic delegate, soon to be sent to the Philippines, the most precise instructions according to my former notes.

"The main lines for future negotiations, indicated in the notes, having been accepted by Secretary Root, the representative of the vatican in the archipelago will enter into relations with the authorities in the Philippines on the four points indicated by Mr Root at the end of his cablegram.

"The holy see does not doubt that mutual confidence, combined with the action of its representative and that of the American government, will easily produce a happy solution of the pending questions, inaugurating for that noble country a new era of peace and true progress."

Pope to Receive Taft Monday.

Governor Taft was informed last night that the pope had fixed July 21 for his farewell audience.

Governor Taft will start Saturday for Vallombrosa, near Florence, where he will stay with his family until Monday, when he will return for his his audience with the pope.

London, July 19.—The Rome correspondent of the Dail Chronicle says the pope is intensely displeased at the way in which the commission of cardinals has conducted the negotiations with Judge Taft in the matter of the friars in the Philippines. "I learn from an authoritative source," says the correspondent, "that besides annulling the procedure of the commission of cardinals, the pope has summarily dissolved it, expressing his view that the American demands were reasonable, and signifying his readiness to treat with Judge Taft personally.

STOCK MARKET EXPERIENCED

Another Day of Animation, Friday. Large Capital Pursued Its Operations With Confidence.

New York, July 19.—Yesterday was another animated day in the stock market, with aggregate sales of over 1,000,000 shares. The strength and variety of the market had no new development to account for them, but the large capital which has embarked upon the project of putting up price and inviting an outside following pursued their operations with apparently unabated confidence.

The leaders of yesterday's market were Pennsylvania and affiliated railroads. Southern Railway was brought into the movement in a way to make it appear that closer relations than those now existing might be in prospect between the two properties. The apparent determination of the coal miners' convention not to make their strike general was given as a reason for the aggressive buying of Pennsylvania and all the seaboard soft coal carriers, and there was in addition a circumstantial assertion that Pennsylvania had secured control of Reading.

"NO STRIKE" CHEERED

Delegates Applauded Mitchell When He Told Them to Get Rid of Idea.

AN ASSESSMENT IS LIKELY.

It May Be 10 Per Cent or More—The Matter Referred to a Commitee Yesterday Afternoon, Who Were to Report This Morning.

Indianapolis, July 19.—At the conclusion of a secret session, which lasted the entire afternoon yesterday, the recommendations of President Mitchell for the management of the anthracite strike were referred to a special committee, which is to report back to the convention this morning. This committee consists of President Mitchell, Vice President Lewis, Secretary Wilson, and the president of each district which is taking part in the convention. There was little doubt that the committee will urge the adoption of the recommendations and fix the rate of assessment at 10 per cent or higher.

Lewis Spoke on Haskins' Amendment.

At the opening of the executive session Vice President Lewis took the floor and delivered an energetic speech on the amendment offered by Delegate Haskins, in the morning, to the effect that the fund to be raised in aid of the anthracite miners be extended to all of the striking miners where their strike has been sanctioned by the general organization. He declared that he thought all the miners should be taken care of in like manner. He also warned the convention that it would be necessary for the convention to so word its recommendations as to avoid the laws of Pennsylvania, which, he said, might cause trouble when an attempt should be made to collect the assessments of the men through the check offices by bringing an injunction to restrain alleged conspiracy.

President Mitchell then took the floor to speak for the adoption of the recommendations made in his speech of Thursday. In part he told the convention that the strikes in West Virginia and elsewhere were being protected by the general organization under assessments of the union, but that the assessment which was under discussion was necessary for the support of the anthracite strike alone, and should not be diverted from its purpose.

Told Them Not to Think of Strike.

Mr. Mitchell assured that the strike in the Pittsburg district and all other strikes would be looked after without splitting up the fund for the anthracite men, and again urged the men to dismiss from their minds the idea of a general strike. His remarks were greeted with enthusiastic cheers.

President Dolan, of district number 5, Pittsburg, secured the floor to explain conditions in his district. He had said in the morning session that his district had not received aid, that the aid it had received had been insufficient, and President Mitchell had rejoined that the district had received from the national organization the exact sum which the officers of the district had said would be necessary to win the district. Mr. Dolan made a long explanation of the manner in which the money had been expended and told of the conditions in the district surrounding Pittsburg. When Mr. Dolan had concluded several delegates made short speeches, asking the convention to hasten matters. A vote was then taken on the Haskins amendment and it was voted down by a decisive majority. This left before the convention the original motion for the adoption of the recommendations of the president. A number of amendments were then offered, all relating to the manner in which the assessment should be made.

One by Mr. Ryan, of Illinois, favored 10 per cent of the net earnings of the members of the union; another, by Vice President Lewis, ten per cent of the gross earnings, and a third, by Secretary Wilson, suggested that in some districts the assessment should be made on the percentage basis, and in others on the basis of $1 per week.

Committee to Consider Matter.

These were all pending when Secretary Wilson offered an amendment, that the matter be referred to a committee consisting of the three highest officers of the national organization, and the presidents of the districts represented in the convention. This prevailed and an adjournment was taken until 10 o'clock this morning.

At the conclusion of the session, Secretary Wilson said:

"It will cost $500,000 weekly to support the men now on strike in the various districts. An assessment of $1 a week will bring in $250,000 a week, an assessment of 10 per cent per week upon each member of the union will result in about the same sum. This will leave us $250,000 to raise each week from outside sources and from the promises an offers that have been made us, we are confident we will be able to do this."

Birds Made a Sieve.

In the mountains of Tennessee a stranger came upon a man who was shoveling coal upon a wooden sieve. Upon inquiry how on earth he got such a curious thing the old man replied:

"Stranger, I don't think you'll b'leeve me if I tell you."

"Oh, yes, certainly," said the man; "I will believe you."

"Waal," said the mountaineer, "it war this way: About five years ago I lived down on the side of the mountain whar woodpeckers and other kind o' birds is powerful thick. That 'ar thing"—pointing to the sieve—"war my door to my cabin. It 'ud mock any bird that flies. I'd jest sit thar some summer evenin' and jest move it, and every bird came that war imitated.

"Howsumever, one day I left my cabin to go huntin' and went preamblin' down the mountain. Waal, some wind come along and made that 'ar door imitate a woodpecker. First one come and then a whole pile o' the critters. They lit in on the door, and when I come it war jest like you see it."

The man thanked him and moved on.

"I declar'," said the mountaineer, "I don't b'leeve he thought I war tellin' the truth." And he resumed shoveling coal.—New York Herald.

Thoughtless, Selfish.

Thoughtlessness of others is nothing more than downright selfishness, which is the curse of humanity. The man who on leaving an elevated train pauses at the head of the stairs to light his cigar is selfish. He incommodes all who are behind him. The woman who insists on passing up or down the stairs ahead of the eager crowd, slowly, indifferent to the haste of others, must be an awful thing at home. He who pauses to tie his shoe regardless of the interruption of traffic is a brute in his family. I see all these things a dozen times a day and wonder what kind of lives such persons lead in the family circle. One of the common evidences of thoughtlessness is seen in those who stand in the middle of the sidewalk to chat while multitudes are forced to deflect or make an offset in order to pass them. The more I see of men the greater is my respect for asses, dogs and mules.—New York Press.

A Roman Dinner.

A Roman dinner at the house of a wealthy man consisted chiefly of three courses. All sorts of stimulants to the appetite were first served up, and eggs were indispensable to the first course. Among the various dishes we may instance the guinea hen, pheasant, nightingale and the thrush as birds most in repute. The Roman gourmands held peacocks in great estimation, especially their tongues. Macrobius states that they were first eaten by Hortensius, the orator, and acquired such repute that a single peacock was sold for 50 denarii, the denarius being equal to about eightpence halfpenny of our money.—Chambers' Journal.

Figuratively Speaking.

"Well," said young Graftsky, "I've soldiered half of the afternoon, and I guess I might as well round it out by loafing the other half."

"Yes," said his friend, J. Wise, Jr., "but the rounding out will be a lot easier than squaring yourself with the boss afterward."—Los Angeles Herald.

Brain Food Nonsense.

Another ridiculous food fad has been branded by the most competent authorities. They have dispelled the silly notion that one kind of food is needed for brain, another for muscles, and still another for bones. A correct diet will not only nourish a particular part of the body, but it will sustain every other part. Yet, however good your food may be, its nutriment is destroyed by indigestion or dyspepsia. You may prepare for their appearance or prevent their coming by taking regular doses of Green's August Flower, the favorite medicine of the healthy millions. A few doses aids digestion, stimulates the liver to healthy action, purifies the blood, and makes you feel buoyant and vigorous. You can get the reliable remedy at Charles F. Craig's.

ROOT PRAISED THE GUARDSMEN.

So Did Generals With Him, After Pennsylvanians Marched Passed Them.

Gettysburg, Pa., July 19.—Secretary of War Elihu Root and a party of regular army officers yesterday visited the famous battlefield where the entire division of the national guard of Pennsylvania, numbering more than 5,000 men, has been in camp this week. The secretary was honored with a "march past." Accompanying Mr. Root were Adjutant General Corbin, Brigadier Generals Wood, Bates and Randolph, Colonel Carter, Major Dunn and Lieutenant Clark. The party were escorted to division headquarters by the First City Troop and the Sheridan Troop. Upon their arrival at headquarters they were welcomed by Governor Stone and Major General Miller. Battery B fired a salute in honor of the secretary. The visitors were driven through the camp and after luncheon the entire division paraded past the Washington officials. Secretary Root and the army officers complimented the national guard commanders upon the fine soldierly appearance and the good discipline of the men. The party left camp at 7 o'clock last night.

The breaking up of the camp began yesterday afternoon. The regiments having the farthest to travel were the first to go. The Fifteenth and Eighteenth regiments struck their canvass early in the afternoon, and the former command left for home before 6 o'clock. Other regiments were to leave during last night. The First brigade was to depart this morning and the Third during the day.

COMPANIES CAN CONSOLIDATE.

Opinion Filed by Dauphin County, Pa., Court.

Harrisburg, July 19.—The Dauphin county court filed an opinion yesterday morning deciding that electric light and gas companies chartered under the general corporation act of 1874 may consolidate. The question arose in the case of a bill filed by the commonwealth at the instance of the attorney general to enjoin the Huntingdon Gas company and the Huntingdon Electric Light company from consolidating.

OUTLOOK IMPROVED.

So Dun's Review Says of Industries--Due to Brighter Labor Situation.

IMPROVEMENT IN AGRICULTURE.

Prospects For Active Trade Decidedly Encouraging—Financial Conditions Are Sound—Less Failures Than Same Period Last Year.

New York, July 19.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s Weekly Review of Trade, issued today, said in part:

Settlement of numerous labor controversies and prospect of early agreements as to other struggles have greatly improved the industrial outlook, while agricultural conditions steadily improve. As these have been the only unfavorable influences for some months, the prospects for active trade are decidedly encouraging. Preparations for unusually heavy fall sales are being made and confidence grows stronger. Mills and furnaces that have been idle on account of the usual overhauling resumed as rapidly as needed repairs could be made. Financial conditions are sound, the mid-year dividend distributions producing no stringency, and speculation has been heavy for the season, both in securities and staples.

Pig Iron Commands Full Prices.

Pig iron continues to command full prices, supplies falling below requirements, and furnace deliveries failing to fill contracts. Scarcity of fuel is still the principal drawback, while car and motive power shortage are additional causes of delay. New orders are reported for distant delivery running about a year ahead. Prices are fully maintained for the raw material, but billets weakened slightly because of foreign selling. Importations have reached a considerable aggregate, and more are expected. Structural material is still the feature, new business being offered in great bulk. Railway needs do not diminish, despite the enormous amount of work already placed, and agricultural implement makers are fully employed. A general advance in prices of machine tools has occurred, averaging nearly 10 per cent. It was expected that mills and foundries would resell pig iron, owing to the high premiums obtainable, but this factor has had no appreciable effect as yet, most consumers requiring all the material received.

New lines of light weight woolens and worsteds have opened at unchanged prices, and the increased activity of mills has aroused more interest in the raw material, which tends to advance.

Crop Prospects Continued Favorable

Crop prospects have continued favorable, and with the removal of speculative influences there was a gradual decline in prices. Cotton rules steady, the outlook for a liberal crop being balanced by the strong statistical position.

Failures for the week number 213 in the United States, against 193 last year, and 20 in Canada, against 31 last year.

NAME WAS THOMAS NOT SMITH.

Principal In Elopement Tragedy at Columbus Was a Married Man. Girl Left Note at Home.

Washington, Pa., July 19.—The news of the tragic death of John Thomas, at Columbus, O., who had given the name of Smith, and the illness of Maggie Canan, created quite a sensation here. Both parties were well known in this section. Thomas was a married man, and last spring made himself notorious by attempting to commit suicide by taking carbolic acid while in company with a young woman on the outskirts of the town.

Thomas told the Canan girl that his name was Smith, and he was so known by the parents of the girl. He had been calling on her for some time, and on Tuesday evening the couple had gone buggy riding. On Wednesday morning he came around to the Canan home, and while the family were in another part of the house the girl and Thomas drove away.

This was the last the parents saw of the girl. When she did not return Wednesday evening they were much worried about her. Thursday morning they made a search and found a note that she had gone to get married and would write to them Sunday.

Coronation to Occur Aug. 9.

London, July 19.—An official notification was issued yesterday morning that by the king's command the coronation of King Edward and Queen Alexandra will take place Aug. 9. Rehearsals of the procession from Buckingham palace to Westminster abbey took place yesterday morning and the officials of the various state departments concerned in the abbey ceremony are again busy with preparations for the crowning.

Honors Shown Andrew Carnegie.

BACKACHE

Is only one of many distressing symptoms which point to the presence of womanly diseases. If women thoroughly understood the relation of the local womanly health to the general health, they would understand that backache, headache, nervousness, sideache, dizziness, faintness and similar feminine ailments, cannot be cured until the womanly health is established.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription cures diseases peculiar to women. It establishes regularity, dries the drains which weaken women, heals inflammation and ulceration, and cures female weakness. In curing these local diseases, it cures the ailments which they cause; backache, headache, sideache, dizziness, faintness, nervousness, and other ills peculiarly feminine.

"I wrote you for advice February 4th, 1896," writes Mrs. Loma Halstead, of Claremore, Cherokee Nat., Ind. Ter. "I was racking with pain from the back of my head down to my heels. Had hemorrhage for weeks at a time, and was unable to sit up for ten minutes at a time. You answered my letter, advised me to use your valuable medicines, viz., Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, 'Golden Medical Discovery,' and 'Pleasant Pellets,' also gave advice about injections, baths and diet. To my surprise, in four months from the time I began your treatment I was a well woman and have not had the backache since, and now I put in sixteen hours a day at hard work."

Weak and sick women are invited to consult Dr. Pierce by letter free. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

HILL DIDN'T SEE PRESIDENT.

Denial That Alice Roosevelt Is Engaged to Lieut. Clark.

Oyster Bay, N. Y., July 19.—Arrangements were completed partially Thursday evening for former Senator Hill, who came to Oyster Bay to spend the night with William F. Sheehan, to meet the president at Sagamore Hill, but it was found impossible to fix upon a time that would be convenient to both. Senator Hill returned to New York yesterday without meeting Mr. Roosevelt.

The president passed yesterday morning at Sagamore Hill transacting some routine business with Assistant Secretary Loeb. Early in the day no callers of importance visited him, although two former members of Mr. Roosevelt's regiment rode out to pay their respects.

The reported engagement of Miss Alice Roosevelt to Lieutenant Robert Sterling Clark, of New York, a son of Mrs. Alfred Corning Clark, is emphatically denied by authority of the president. Miss Roosevelt has not even a personal acquaintance with Lieutenant Clark.

League Takes Hold Temporarily.

Baltimore, July 19.—At a meeting of the board of directors of the American league here yesterday the condition of the affairs of the Baltimore Baseball and Athletic company was formally presented and the franchise declared forfeited. The league has taken the club in hand and will run it until the new company is organized. Wilbert Robinson appeared before the board and after explaining his business relations with McGraw, he was exonerated from any wrong intention in disposing of his stock in the club. Later he was appointed playing manager of the new team. Harry Goldman was made business manager.

Killed Wife Before Her Babe.

Chicago, July 19.—Because his wife gave evidence that her love for him had waned while he was serving 17 months in the state prison, William Nelson shot her to death here yesterday and then turned his revolver upon himself in an ineffectual attempt to take his own life. His wound was superficial. Their baby, too young to realize that a crime was being committed, was the only witness to the tragedy.

The widest possible publicity should be given to the fact that summer diarrhoea in children and cholera infantum can always be cured by the judicious use of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. It never fails. When reduced with cold water and sweetened it is pleasant to take, which is very important when a medicine must be given to small children. For sale by Alvin H. Bulger.

ANOTHER STRIKE THREATENED.

Four Railroads at Chicago Accused of Breaking Faith With Freight Handlers.

Chicago, July 19.—Another strike of the freight handlers of Chicago may be called Sunday night. President Curran, of the Freight Handlers union, has issued a call for a mass meeting of all the freight handlers in the city to be held at that time to take action on the refusal of four railroads to reinstate all the old men.

Mr. Curran said last night that he regretted having to take this step but was compelled to do so. He declared that when the settlement was made it was agreed with Frederick W. Job, chairman of the state board of arbitration that all the old men were to be taken back when the strike was declared off. This, he says, the Santa Fe, Panhandle, Northwestern and Illinois Central railroads have not done, and unless they shall do so before the mass meeting Sunday night another walkout will be ordered.

JEFFRIES WORKED TOO HARD.

Trainer Delaney So Admitted—Fell Asleep Being Rubbed Down.

Oakland, Cal., July 19.—Rumors were flying thick and fast round town yesterday to the effect that Champion Jeffries was sick at his quarters as a result of overtraining. This gave rise to the report that Jeffries was out of condition, and that he was laid up for repairs. It was pointed out that the champion is away below his normal weight. Trainer Delaney admits that Jeffries has worked too hard.

Jeffries arose at 1 o'clock yesterday and showed up at the gymnasium at 2 o'clock. He said:

"I am not sick. I was tired after being at the theater last night. I have cut out my work today and will just take gymnasium exercises. I'll be ready for the fight."

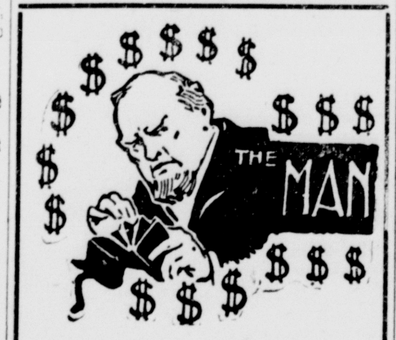

Jeffries fell asleep Thursday while being rubbed down.

Bank Teller Sentenced to Prison.

New York, July 19.—Harry G. Bell, the receiving teller of the River bank, who was Thursday convicted of thefts from the bank, said to have aggregated $20,000, was yesterday sentenced to not more than six nor less than four years in the state's prison, at hard labor.

MISS ROSE OWENS,
No. 720 Seventeenth St., WASHINGTON, D. C.

"If every suffering woman has the same experience with Wine of Cardui that I had, your medicine will be most popular. About a year ago I began to have a worn out tired feeling with lassitude, pains in the back and head which kept increasing every month. I felt that I needed something, but to get the right medicine was the trouble. I finally decided on your Wine of Cardui and only needed to take three bottles when I was fully recovered."

Miss Rose Owens.

WHEN Miss Rose Owens, who has a responsible position in the Government service at Washington, D. C., decided to try Wine of Cardui, she made a wise choice. Over a million women have been relieved of female weakness by this same Wine of Cardui. It is not a strong medicine but may be taken every day in the year by any woman with benefit. It does not force results, but corrects derangements of the menstrual organs. It strengthens the nervous system, gives tone to the bodily functions, acts directly on the genital organs, and is the finest tonic for women known to the science of medicine.

If you are a suffering woman we would say to you that Wine of Cardui seldom fails to completely cure any case of female ills. We say emphatically, it never fails to benefit. Every day hundreds of sufferers are writing to our Ladies' Advisory Department. The letters are opened by persons competent to give advice. Mrs. Jones was cured by following the advice which was freely given her by the Ladies' Advisory Department. Miss Owens was cured without advice by just buying a $1.00 bottle of Wine of Cardui from her druggist and taking this great medicine in the privacy of her home. No doctor's examination, treatment or advice is necessary. You have read what these two cured women have written. Is this not enough to lead you to determine to be rid of suffering?

August 13, 1900, Mrs. W. H. Jones, of Cameron, Mo., writes:

"I suffered terribly at monthly periods for three years. I would sometimes go for seven months with no flow at all. Now I have my health back again and am expecting to be confined in January. I cannot praise your medicine enough."

WINE of CARDUI A million suffering women have found relief in Wine of Cardui.

A REVOLVER AT HIS HEAD

A STORE DOOR SMASHED IN

SUSPECTED MEN ARRESTED.

Another daring holdup and attempted robbery was committed in the heart of the city last night shortly after 11 o'clock. Those charged with the crime, Charles Hutton and Robert Cooley, were arraigned before the mayor this morning, but were not given a chance to plead, witnesses having given notice that they will not be ready to testify until this evening.

The men were read charges of drunkenness and disorderly conduct, to which both pleaded guilty. Hutton also pleaded guilty to a charge of carrying concealed weapons.

They were arrested by Officers Dawson and Dunn at the instance of Homer Fairbanks, who runs a confectionery store at 337 West Market street. Very much excited and with cold sweat dripping from his brow, Fairbanks found the officers in the Diamond and unfolded his tale. He stated that two men had smashed in the rear of his store and when he arrived on the scene, having been apprised of the fact by a neighbor who saw the whole performance, one of them drew a revolver and pointed it at his face.

Having no weapon Fairbanks was compelled to let the men escape. He gave a pretty good description of the men to the police and they immediately set to work upon the case. In a very short time they corralled the suspects. Going to the Smoky row district they saw a gang of fellows standing on the corner of Second street and Broadway. Among the gang were two men that answered the description. They were arrested at once and given cells in the city jail.

Several times while en route to the jail Hutton attempted to throw away his revolver and after arriving he tried to dispose of it in a sink. He finally threw it under Mayor Davidson's desk.

Officer Dawson saw every attempt, but said not a word. He found the weapon quickly enough when he searched the man.

From the evidence produced at the hearing the mayor feels satisfied that a charge of housebreaking and burglary cannot be proven against the couple, but thinks that probably other evidence of an incriminating nature will be presented this evening.

Cooley and Hutton each have shady reputations, and it is the desire of the mayor to give them a heavy sentence. To Cooley he said: "Young man, I think we have got you where we want you, and if we have we certainly will set the screws to you."

Cooley has been in durance vile upon several occasions. He is not more than 21 years of age. As to Hutton the mayor can no but one thing. He is out on parole from the Mansfield reformatory. If convicted he will make his home there once more.

Chief Thompson issued orders to the police this morning to arrest all bums and suspicious looking persons found on the streets. The order is the outcome of recent holdups and robberies.

HUTTON'S ATTEMPT TO GET OUT OF JAIL

CLIMBED ON TOP OF THE CELLS AND REMOVED BRICKS.

Was Detected at His Work And Locked in More Securely.

Had Charles Hutton, one of the pair arrested last night for alleged robbery, and who pleaded guilty to a charge of drunkenness and disorder, and also to a charge of carrying concealed weapons, been unmolested for 30 minutes longer, he would now be on the outside of the jail walls and probably many miles away from the city.

Officer Dunn frustrated the well laid plans of the young desperado. The officer had dropped into the city hall to make his report before going on duty this afternoon, when a lad told him that Hutton was trying to break jail. He went at once to the jail door and was very much surprised at finding that the report was true. Hutton had climbed to the covering of the cells and without the least trouble had removed at least 20 bricks from the wall, over a window facing eastward. In a very short time he would have had enough removed to have allowed him to escape.

Health Officer Burgess states that he heard the fellow at work, but thought he would let him continue until an officer arrived. Several now claim that they heard the noise produced by the falling bricks. Through kindness to the prisoner Chief Thompson had allowed him the privilege of the cell ways and therefore he was only locked in by the outside door. If he had gained the outside of his apartment he could have dropped into the women's cell room, where his confederate, Cooley, lies in a cell. Escape would have been easy had he fallen there.

The windows are not barred and he would only have had to hoist the windows. The officials are exceedingly pleased over Officer Dunn's timely arrival. They will not again allow a man the freedom of the cell ways.

NEW CODE BILL

HON. I. B. CAMERON THINKS THERE WILL BE A GOOD ONE.

Believes the Outcome of Legislation Will Satisfy the People.

Cleveland, July 19.—State Treasurer I. B. Cameron was in Cleveland yesterday. "What do you think will be the outcome of the special session?" he was asked.

"A municipal code bill for the state," said, "is a question on which therehe said he, "is a question on which there is a great diversity of opinion, and it will of course take some time to talk over the various propositions and exchange ideas. It seems to me, however, that the outcome of the session will be the enactment of a code which will not only be satisfactoy to those who favor the board plan, but also to those who favor the federal plan. It will probably be argued that the adoption of a code with the board plan of government will give color to the argument that Coxism has been forced upon every municipality of the state.

"I think it will be possible to draw a bill which will make mandatory the election of a mayor, city council, police judge, and probably a city solicitor, leaving the question of other officers to the councils of the respective cities. Each city may then legislate for its own needs, so far as public officers are concerned. The small cities will not require as many officials as the larger cities, so that the various city councils may act according to their own requirements."

Man Who Is Alleged to Have Defrauded Curnan Seen at New Cumberland.

James Goodman, the man, who, it is alleged, under false pretenses, obtained $173 worth of merchandise, a horse and wagon, from the general store on Fourth street owned by Geo. L. Curnan, who is now sick in a Pittsburg hospital, has been heard from. H. D. Hipple, the salesman, who let Goodman have the stuff, states that the police of New Cumberland, telephoned that they had seen the fellow. They made no arrest, however, and Mr. Curnan is as far in the hole as at the beginning.

Mr. Hipple also states that Goodman is well known in the county, his home being in Wellsville, where his father now lives. The story, put forward by him when working his game on Hipple, that he was going to marry a young woman of wealth in the city, is given no credence. The young lady that he mentioned denies the statement strongly.

MARRIED IN JAIL

Lisbon, July 19.—(Special)—John Prudence and Nora Halfhill, both of East Liverpool, were married by Mayor George Farrell in the county jail yesterday. Prudence is still in jail on a charge preferred by the woman.

As soon as Prudence can get money to pay the costs he will be released.

Licensed to Marry.

LOWER FREIGHT RATES DESIRED

SANITARY PLANTS FULL

From a Staff Correspondent.

Trenton, N. J. July 19.—Because of several acts passed by the last New Jersey legislature which have not met with the approval of the labor masses, the Sanitary Pressers' union No. 45, National Brotherhood of Operative Potters, at its last meeting passed a resolution deciding to support only those political parties having the referendum clause in their platforms.

Similar action is being taken by the other labor unions throughout New Jersey, and the resolution of the sanitary workers will likely be taken up by those labor organization affiliated with the Central Labor Union. As a matter of fact, the labor unions are not in sympathy with the present state administration. While no acts have been enacted which have a direct bearing upon the sanitary trade, there exists in other parts of the state, labor conditions which cannot be duplicated anywhere in the east, principally among the silk workers of Paterson and in the glass mills at Minatala.

The weight the labor vote carries in this city was evidenced last fall when through the Central Labor union all the local labor organizations united in defeating Mayor Frank O. Briggs, because of his refusal to sign a resolution requiring none but union labor to be employed on city work.

There is a movement on foot among the labor unions of New Jersey, in which the potters are seated, to take a prominent part to secure better legislation for union labor from the state law-making body.

What reforms will be asked have not been brought to light, and it is probable that they will be kept under cover until after the state convention of the Allied Trades Council of New Jersey, which meets here in August.

Legislation by referendum will give the masses the right of a second veto in all important acts which are construed to one section of the state and at the same time found objectionable by the residents of another.

The eastern manufacturers have followed the example of the western pottery owners and are making a fight with the Pennsylvania Railroad company for cheaper freight rates to the west.

The cost of shipping a crate of ware to the west is said to be about 25 per cent greater than that charged the western manufacturers to send a similar amount to the Atlantic seaboard.

This condition has resulted in failure, by the local potteries to a good foothold in the west and at the same time allowing the western potters to sell to the New York market and even make shipments abroad at a profit. The line of pottery in which the local plants do not fear competition is in the sanitary trade, which, in the east, is gradually pushing out the manufacturer of general ware.

Many Arguments Advanced in Favor of the Proposed Entertainment—All Elks Thus Far Heard From Are Heartily in Favor of It.

The carnival which East Liverpool lodge of Elks, No. 258, propose to hold at Rock Springs park early in the fall will be of a greater benent to the city and the surrounding territory than the general public would suppose. While the matter has been presented to the many members of the local lodge, at the meeting of the lodge which will be held next Thursday evening, the preliminary arrangements will be made to take the matter in hand and to commence actual work on the affair.

At this meeting the idea will be advanced that, should the affair be a success, and there is no reason to believe that it will not, a certain amount of the profits be set aside for the establishing and furnishing several rooms in the new hospital. This idea, which has been thought of by several prominent members of the order, is a most commendable one, and will meet the approval of the officials of the hospital and also the general public. The idea is to furnish these rooms, which will be known as the "Elks' rooms," but which will be opened to all who may enter the doors for treatment.

The furnishings of these rooms will be the best that money can buy, and no matter how poor a person may be, if he is ill and accepted at the hospital, these rooms that will be furnished by the Elks will be opened to such a person, and as much assistance extended as if he were possessed of unlimited wealth. Other little features will be added to the rooms by the Elks to make them as attractive as possible to the sick. In giving the carnival the Elks have no selfish motives to follow.

So far all the Elks that have been approached with the idea of holding a carnival are apparently in favor of the affair. They claim that additional business will be brought to the city, that the city will be further advertised, and that the best of attractions will be booked for the week of the carnival.

The Elks will back the carnival themselves, and will have no booths for sale at the park. It is not likely that the general public will be asked to contribute to the affair, other than their patronage, and individual help in making the affair a success that it deserves.

CAME FROM COSHOCTON

And the Ancient Order of Goose Pasturers Had to Show Him.

"Now we'll tell you," said his companions, as they were walking up the railroad track near the depot, the other night, "we will have to be careful along here. Not long ago a band of highwaymen was seen in this locality, and it is possible that they have not left."

The last word was scarcely spoken before the feared gang of bandits made their appearance. It seemed they centered their attack upon one member of the crowd. They yelled, "Hands up." Up they went. They searched him. Then commanded him to travel.

A hare never split the air in as swift a manner. After following him for perhaps 100 yards firing blank cartridges at every step, they ceased the chase, but the man did not. He continued the dead run for fully half an hour, and being a stranger in the city, he made many circles, finally landing near the place he started. He toppled over on the ground and said: "Take my clothes, my knife, my watch, oh, anything I have got, but don't shoot me again."

The gang then approached him and informed him of what the antics meant. He had simply been goose-pastured. The man is a musician and hails from Coshocton.

PROMPT ACTION

Of Brakeman on Runaway Cars Averted Further Accident.

J. D. Lafferty, the brakeman who was on the two runaway cars yesterday on the Horn switch, deserves a great deal of praise for his grit in sticking to the cars, notwithstanding the breaking of the chain on the brake of the forward car, until he reached a point where he saw that further effort was useless and jumped for safety.

Immediately after the derailing of the cars he summoned the flagman of the shifter whom he sent to flag the approaching eastbound passenger and thereby averted further disaster. He himself went up the eastbound track to warn approaching trains if any of the danger. He is commended by railway employes for his prompt action.

County Clerks' Term Law Held Not to Apply to Present Incumbents.

From a Staff Correspondent.

Columbus, July 19.—It seems likely that the county clerks' association will test the ruling of Attorney General Sheets that the bill of Representative Samuel Buell, of Columbiana county, changing the time when county clerks shall assume the duties of their office from the first Monday in August to the first Monday in September, does not affect clerks now in office. If the courts sustain the attorney general's interpretation of the law, then County Clerk-elect James N. Hanley, of East Liverpool, will enter upon his term just six months earlier than expected. It will likewise extend his tenure of office that length of time and will make a corresponding reduction in that of Clerk McNutt.

Secretary of State Laylin will appoint the deputy election supervisors for the different counties of the state between July 21 and August 1. Two appointments are made each year, one from each party. The appointments are made upon recommendation of the county committees of both parties. The names of candidates must be filed with the secretary of state by not later than Monday. No names have yet been sent in from Columbiana county, but it is expected they will be received before the time limit expires. County election boards of supervisors are composed of four members, two Democrats and two Republicans, who are chosen for two years.

Governor Nash has made a positive denial of the story that the extra session of the legislature would be postponed until after the meeting of the Democratic state convention. He declared that the general assembly would meet at the specified date—August 25, not later. By the time the solons get together there will be possibly a score of code bills awaiting their consideration. Representative Stage, of Cleveland, is the latest to announce that he has undertaken the task of preparing a code. His bill will embody features taken from forms of government of cities in different parts of the world. He says it will provide for absolute home rule for all municipalities. The belief obtains that the extra session will last for a longer period than at first imagined. The code will be taken up section by section, which will entail a vast amount of labor.

Deputy Elmer E. Muler, of Canton, of the stationary engineers' department, has prepared a schedule of his office days in the principal cities of his district. He will be in Canton every Monday; Akron, second Saturday of each month; Ashtabula, every Wednesday preceding the fourth Thursday of each month; Youngstown, the fourth Thursday of each month and Friday and Saturday following; East Liverpool and Wednesday, the third Thursday, and Steubenville, the Saturday following in January, March, May, July, September and November. Regular office hours will be from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m. Copies of the schedule will be sent to engineers throughout the district.

Mrs. George Buxton, of East Liverpool, is here visiting her husband, the well known pottery salesman. She will return home Monday.

State Treasurer and Mrs. Cameron have returned from an outing at Frankfort, a watering place in Michigan. Judge Rogers, of Younstown, called at the state house today to pay his respects to Mr. Cameron.

New Clock For Court House.

Lisbon, July 19.—(Special)—A new clock has been ordered for the court house tower. The old one, used since 1875, has been out of order for some time. The new clock will strike the hours and automatically regulate three timepieces in the court house.

EAST LIVERPOOL MEN ARE ACCUSED OF FRAUD

Emmet Barr, well known as an insurance solicitor, who has resided in this city for some years, is in trouble. The following dispatch from Pittsburg explains why:

"Emmet Barr, of East Liverpool, O., was arrested yesterday at Pomeroy, O., and brought to this city last night by County Detective Robert G. Robinson and Detective William Elmore, to answer charges of conspiracy and false pretense found against him by the last grand jury. Barr and Harry E. Walters, also of East Liverpool, are accused of having conspired to defraud Edith Bell, of Pittsburg, out of $5,000. The prosecuting witness claims that the men, who had an office on Fourth avenue, induced her to accept employment in their office as stenographer and after she had been there a short time induced her, by false pretense, to invest $5,000 in oil wells.

"She claims that she at first refused to invest, but that later Barr went to southeastern Ohio, and sent a telegram which stated that a good well had been struck on the property on which they desired her to invest. She says the statement made in the telegram was untrue, and that by means of this untrue statement she was led to invest. She claims that Walters was a party to the deception. The defendants claim that the woman took stock in property which proved unproductive of her own free will. Walters was arrested some time ago, and was released on bail."

It is alleged that Barr and Walters instead of using the money in the oil business, used it for their own purposes. Requisition papers were got out for Barr.

EAST END

After a Franchise In Cleveland to Operate Three Cent Fare Railroad.

John B. Hoefgen, interested quite extensively in the East Liverpool railway company, is branching out in street railway matters, and at the next meeting of the Cleveland city council will most likely make a bid for a franchise to operate a street railway in that city, the fares upon which will be but three cents. Mr. Hoefgen only recently placed a bid to run a street railway in Cleveland, and agreed to give a three cent fare. An ordinance was passed by the council of that city, but the courts of Ohio decided that it was illegal to sell franchises to the highest or lowest bidder, as was done by the council of Cleveland, which was all one of those pet schemes of Mayor Tom Johnson's. The ordinance required a deposit of $10,000 with the bid for each route. The routes are over the same territory embraced in the former Hoefgen franchise, which was declared illegal by the courts. Mr. Hoefgen, or the Peoples' Street Railway company will probably be the only bidder for the franchises under these ordinances.

When seen this morning Mr. Healy said that he knew Mr. Hoefgen was after a franchise in the city of Cleveland, but no other person in this city or any connected with the East Liverpool Street Railway company was interested in the project.

CLUE TO MISSING HORSE

Larkins & Ferguson Encouraged by a Report Recived From Beaver Falls Detective.

At last Larkins & Ferguson have a clue to their horse, and they are of the opinion that it will be back in its stable within five days. Although the police have been circulating postal cards about the theft, these cards have not done the work expected. Yesterday a member of the firm went to Beaver county, and while there engaged a detective to work on the case, and this gentleman stated he had seen Allison with the horse, and was of the opinion that he knew the whereabouts of both Allisen and the horse. He also guaranteed the firm that he would capture both man and horse within three days.

Allison was in Beaver Falls Thursday, and at that time the detective who is now working on the case thought of arresting him. Action was deferred, but Allison's whereabouts are known to the detective.

These men have bee npreparing themselves for the coming contest for several weeks, and are now about in condition for the affair.

The bout will be a friendly one, but both men claim they will win, and owing to that fact a good contest can be expected. Quite a number of East End people, friends of the contestants, will witness the bout.

MAGNETISM OF MISERY.

Men Haunt Scenes That Revive Memories of Pain.

Every storm, earthquake or disaster of any kind brings out a curious phase of human nature. Many of those who have seen their houses destroyed or their nearest relatives killed return as soon as possible to the scenes of devastation. In some instances this is explained by the fact that there are more opportunities of earning a livelihood among old neighbors than among new surroundings. In numerous cases, however, no such business reason operates as an inducement. The magnet is sentiment, not money. As some mourners devote every holiday to visiting graves, so a large fraction of the homeless and bereaved go back to spend the remainder of their days in the scenes that recall calamity and gloom.

It was so after the great London fire, it was so after the Lisbon earthquake, it was so after the yellow fever swept Philadelphia, and in more recent years the Chicago fire, the Mississippi floods, Charleston, Johnstown and other catastrophes confirm the old experience. Apparently the desire to gain new pleasures is no more keen than the wish to revive the memory of old pain. Our last storm destroyed much property and many lives, but we will see people choosing homes in sight of the telegraph pole from which the fatal live wire dangled or the flooded stream in which the only son was drowned.—Philadelphia Ledger.

Art of Paper Making.

In the matter of making and using paper we are not in line with the Chinese and other Asiatics, who not only make the finest paper in the world, but apply it to all sorts of uses, making window panes, fans, umbrellas, sandals and even cloaks and other garments of it.

The art of making paper from mulberry bast is said to have been invented in China in the second century B. C. Afterward bamboo shoots, straw, grass and other materials were also used. The manufacture spread to the adjacent countries.

The Arabs learned it in Samarkand, and their learned men carefully kept secret the process by which they made paper for their own use. The crusades made Europe acquainted with the art, and the first paper mill in Germany dates from the twelfth century.

To this day the process of paper making in the east is simple and apparently crude, the fibers being torn apart with the fingers and the pulp pressed in a primitive contrivance.

CUBA'S FIRST MINISTER.

Senor Gonzales Represents New Republic at Washington.

When Senor Gonzales de Quesada, the minister from Cuba, presented his credentials to President Roosevelt a few days ago, the event marked the entry of the new republic as a country into the politics of nations.

Senor Quesada is a native of Cuba and is but thirty-four years of age. He was born at the beginning of the first Cuban insurrection. His parents took sides with the patriots and were exiled. They sought refuge in New York, and in that city young Quesada grew up and was educated.

For several years prior to and during the war for freedom Senor Quesada was secretary of the unrecognized legation from the republic, which then existed only in name.

During those years he became a personal friend of Mr. Roosevelt, who welcomed him warmly when he received him as the minister of the new republic.

KINGLY HONORS.

How Edward VII. Remembered Some of His Old Friends.

In the list of honors conferred by King Edward VII. and intended to be one of the features of his coronation appear the names of several men who are widely known in this country. Perhaps no one of those who have received these convincing evidences of royal friendship is better known in the United States than Sir Thomas Lipton, who has been raised by royal decree from the rank of knight to that of baronet.

The rank of baronet is a dignity or degree of honor next below that of baron and precedes all orders of knighthood except that of the Garter. It is the lowest degree of honor in England that is hereditary. Baronets have the title "Sir" before their Christian names, and their surnames are followed by their title of dignity, usually expressed "Bart."

Sir Thomas Lipton, therefore, who has previously been a knight, will in the future write his name "Sir Thomas Lipton, Bart." Wives of baronets are addressed as lady or madam. The sons have no title except esquire. Baronets are commoners and not entitled to a seat in the house of lords.

Two other names honored by King Edward which are well known in this country are those of the novelists Dr. Conan Doyle and Gilbert Parker. Both of these gentlemen have been raised to the dignity of "knight" and hereafter are entitled to write "Sir" before their names. The title of knight is not hereditary and perishes with the bearer.

Sir Arthur Conan Doyle, the novelist, is a Scotchman by birth, and Edinburgh is the place of his nativity. His father was an artist, and his grandfather was a famous caricaturist. Sir Conan was educated as a physician and practiced his profession from 1882 to 1890, when he gave up medicine to devote his time to literature and travel.

Sir Conan has written many successful novels, and his name is well known wherever English is read and spoken. His famous character, Sherlock Holmes, is familiar to all readers of fiction. Sir Conan has just passed his forty-third birthday.

Sir Gilbert Parker, novelist and dramatist, is a Canadian. He has been an extensive traveler in northern Canada and the south sea islands. He is a poet, has written several plays and is the author of numerous successful novels. Since 1900 he has been a member of parliament, representing Gravesend. Sir Gilbert is forty years old.

A Woman's Kiss.

The story of Ingeborg Vinding and Poul Vendelbo Lovenorn is well known in Denmark. Poul Vendelbo, a poor student, went one day on the ramparts around Copenhagen and walked with two rich noblemen who, like himself, had matriculated at the university.

They happened to notice a singularly beautiful woman sitting at the window of one of the adjacent houses. One of the noblemen then said half mockingly to Vendelbo, "Now, if you could get a kiss from that lady, Poul, we would defray the expenses of that tour abroad which you are so anxious to make."

Vendelbo took him at his word, went up to the beautiful lady and told her how his whole future depended possibly on her. She then drew him toward the window and in the view of the noblemen gave him the kiss he craved. He then went abroad and, returning at last as Adjutant General Lovenorn, paid the fair lady a visit. She was Ingeborg Vinding, and she had made a clever man's fortune by a kiss.

Origin of Kilts.

It will doubtless surprise many Scotchmen to learn that the kilt as at present worn is only a modern fancy costume and is not of Scottish origin at all.

The honor of its invention is due to two Englishmen—an army tailor who accompanied General Wade's forces to Scotland in 1719 and Thomas Rawlinson, overseer of some iron works in Glengarry's country. For more than a century previously, indeed, the tartan plaid had been the common garb of the highlanders, but it was all in one piece, wound in folds around the body, leaving the knees bare.

Prior to the adoption of the tartan, which probably took place about the close of the fifteenth century, the long, loose saffron colored skirt, the real "garb of old Gaul," was the highland dress.—London Mail.

He Sleeps.

"Has your husband a good ear for music?" asked Mrs. Oldgirl of Mrs Newed.

"I am afraid not," replied Mrs Newed. "He seems to think everything he hears played in church is a lullaby."—Cincinnati Commercial Tribune.

JUST TWO INNINGS SETTLED THE GAME

In That Time the Junctions Made Six Runs, Which Was Enough.

A TERRIFFIC ONSLAUGHT

By the Pittsburgers at the Start From Which East Liverpool Did Not Fully Recover—Some Clever Playing on Both Sides.

The Junctions, of Pittsburg, won the game in West End park yesterday afternoon in the first two innings. They bunched eight hits and pretty ones at that, and made just one more run than the locals scored in the entire game.

After getting such an avalanche piled upon them before the game had fairly started it a wonder indeed that East Liverpool managed to pull out of the melee with as many runs as it was finally credited with. Patterson seemed as if he had gone so far into the air that he could not be drawn to his feet, but he eventually spruced up and for several innings pitched a model game.

With only seven of their team on the ground, the others not arriving until the street car from the depot hove in sight, the visitors started the game. They had great luck notwithstanding that the first man up struck out. He was followed by Fohl, who smashed one for two bases. The next gentleman worked a scare game on Patterson and was allowed to walk. Nichols landed safely on one and scored Fohl. Buchener got first on an error of Berry, and Glassburner scored Taylor when he dropped one far out into right field.

They followed it up in the second by a terrible onslaught. Five clean hits and four runs were the record for the inning. When the locals went to the bat they were a little uneasy. Komer, the man who pitched 20 innings for the Fairbanks a few weeks ago, was the cause of their low spirits. He understands the art of putting them over and the locals knew it. They used him in great style, though. He went traveling around in the air upon several occasions and not only allowed seven hits, but game five men bases on balls. His greatest trouble lies in the fact that he cannot keep his feet when the opposing team gets a few hits. Under the excellent totorship of Manager Matthews he will, however, come out some day and make a record for himself.

It fell once more to the lot of the locals to have the men who furnished the features. Maag did it. His record was three hits, two runs and two assists. The way he skinned the bases was a pretty sight. If any man ever earned a run he did when he passed over the plate for the first time.

Berry did not do as well as he might. In the first inning he made an unexcusable error, but he was all right thereafter and held his own.

Webb should never have entered the game. He was badly crippled and was not able to cover any portion of the ground. To his lameness is credited his wild throws to Berry.

An Estimate of Cost of Building And Equipping Salineville Pottery.

W. H. Deidrick, of the Sevres Pottery company, with his stenographer, is very busy these days on the purchasing of equipments for the Dresden China company's plant.

Work on the new Salinevillle shop is progressing rapidly, but just now the work of getting the city water to the plant is the leading question with the company and the city water works officials.

A conservative estimate of the probable cost of the pottery when it is equipped is about $70,000. One contract for moulds alone will cost $1,700 and that does not include the many other moulds that are needed. Many machines are also needed in order to pulverize the raw material so that it can be handled by the clay workers. The drying rooms alone will consume the entire contents of three cars of pipe ranging from 1 inch to 2½ inches. This does not include the sprinkling system. Then there is the engine and boiler, office fixtures and many other things that go to make up the plant.

The company will make ware suitable for hotel, boarding house and general utility trade; though it is expected to make a limited number of fancy patterns for the trade.

The Meldren & Co. well on the Watson farm, came in yesterday, good for 20 barrels.

WHO WAS BEFRIENDED BY AN EMPEROR

Rev. H. Stubenvoll, of Elkhorn, Wis., is pastor of the Evangelical Lutheran St. John's Church of that place. Rev. Steubenvoll is the possessor of two bibles presented to him by Emperor William of Germany. Upon the fly leaf of one of the bibles the Emperor has written in his own handwriting a text.

This honored pastor in a recent letter to the Peruna Medicine Co., of Columbus, O., says concerning their famous catarrh remedy, Peruna:

The Peruna Medicine Co., Columbus, O.:

Gentlemen: "I had hemorrhages of the lungs for a long time, and all despaired of me. I took Peruna and was cured. It gave me strength and courage, and made healthy, pure blood. It increased my weight, gave me a healthy color, and I feel well. It is the best medicine in the world. If everyone kept Peruna in the house it would save many from death every year."

Yours very truly,

REV. H. STUBENVOLL.

Thousands of people have catarrh who would be surprised to know it, because it has been called some other name than catarrh. The fact is, catarrh is catarrh wherever located; and another fact which is of equally great importance, is that Peruna cures catarrh wherever located.

Catarrh is an American disease. Fully one-half of the people are afflicted more or less with it in some form. Previous to the discovery of Peruna, catarrh was considered well nigh incurable. Since the introduction of Peruna to the medical profession thousands of cases are cured annually.

Mr. W. D. Smith, a well-known grocer of Port Huron, Mich., writes:

"By following your instructions and taking Peruna and Manalin I am cured of catarrh. I had catarrh for twelve years and quite a bad cough so I could not sleep nights. I do not have any cough now, and if I feel anything in the throat I take a swallow of Peruna and I am alright."—W. D. Smith.

Suffered Fifteen Years.

C. F. Gerding, Milburn, Neb., writes: "I contracted a heavy cold about fifteen years ago and tried all kinds of patent medicines and drugs recommended for a cold or heavy cough, but found none to help me until I commenced using Peruna. My age is seventy-eight years, and I am better now than I have been for years. I still keep using your great medicine, and am still improving in health. I recommend it to all sufferers with coughs and colds."—C. F. Gerding.

Peruna, The Greatest Remedy Known For Catarrh.

Mr. Chas. H. Stevens, 97 Seventeenth Street, Detroit, Mich., writes: "It affords me great pleasure to testify to the merits of Peruna as a remedy for catarrh. I suffered for some time with chronic nasal catarrh, but after five months' treatment during which time I used seven bottles of Peruna I am pleased to say that I am entirely well, there being not the slightest trace of the catarrh left. Peruna is without doubt the greatest remedy known for catarrh."—Chas. H. Stevens.

Afflicted Since Childhood With Catarrh.

Mr. Elbert S. Richards, Milton, Conn., writes:

"I am near sixty-eight years of age, and have from childhood been afflicted with catarrh in the head, and, for the past four or five years been much afflicted with it in my eyes; they being watery, would materate a good deal, and stick together in the night. My condition was so fully described in your almanac that I decided to try Peruna.

"I am thankful to say that I now consider myself entirely free from catarrh, and only use Peruna occasionally now as a tonic. Accept my sincere thanks for your personal interest in my case.

"My son, 21 years of age, has been using Peruna for a number of weeks for catarrh in the head and has obtained great relief."—Elbert S. Richards.

Catarrh Thirty Years.

Mr. Andrew Barrett, 940 N. Kidzie Ave., Chicago, Ill., writes:

"It gives me great pleasure to testify to the merits of such a worthy remedy for catarrh as your Peruna. I had suffered for thirty years from this very disagreeable disease and had tried many so-called remedies but until I used Peruna none had the desired effect.

"I have been connected with the Chicago Police Department for the past twenty-eight years. I can cheerfully recommend Peruna to anyone suffering from catarrh."—Andrew Barrett.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

Address Dr. Hartman, President of The Hartman Sanitarium, Columbus, Ohio.

LADY CURZON COMING.

Wife of the Ruler of India to Visit Her Native Land.

Lady Curzon, wife of the viceroy of India, will be a notable addition to the celebrities at Bar Harbor next month. The vice roine of Great Britain's Indian empire will remain several weeks at the Maine resort, where her mother, Mrs. Levi Leiter, has taken Mossley Hall for the season.

Lady Curzon, it is understood, is much run down by the trying and debilitating climate of India and hopes that the invigorating breezes of Bar Harbor will restore her sufficiently to enable her to rejoin her husband at Calcutta with health enough to admit of her remaining with him in India during the balance of his term as viceroy.

It will be Lady Curzon's first visit to the United States since her marriage, and Mrs. Leiter is making elaborate preparations to entertain her during her sojourn at Bar Harbor. Lord Curzon will not accompany his wife, as he is debarred by statute from leaving India so long as he continues to hold his office as viceroy.

Lady Curzon was formerly Miss Mary Leiter of Chicago. Her father, Levi Leiter, made a vast fortune in the dry goods trade in company with Marshall Field and Potter Palmer and later increased it by judicious investments in Chicago real estate.

Miss Mary Victoria Leiter was married to George Curzon in Washington in 1895. She was then in her twenty-eighth year. In 1898 Lord Curzon was appointed viceroy of India, which is the greatest gift the British government has to bestow.

As vice queen of 300,000,000 of people the American girl became at once a power in the most exclusive society of the world. The courts of Calcutta and Simla are far more magnificent than St. James or any other in Europe. The viceroy of India ranks as a ruler, and his wife is second only to the ladies of the royal family of England.

The actual stipend of the viceroy of India is 20,000 rupees a month, and his allowances are countless. The pay of the viceroy is five times greater than that of the prime minister of England, and his sway extends from the shores of Arabia to the borders of western China.

Why Fire Makes Us Blush.

When one stands before a hot fire the face becomes red, as we all know. This result is the effect of the action of radiated heat on the nerves controlling the small blood vessels of the skin. These tiny vessels are normally in a state of moderate contraction. Under exposure to heat they relax and become distended with blood. The same process, under the mysterious connection of the vasomotor nerve system with mental impressions, produces ordinary blushing. In regard to exposure to direct heat the reddening of the skin, together with the uncomfortably warm feeling accompanying it, may be looked upon as one of the useful little "danger signals" with which we are surrounded.

Persons who from any cause have lost their susceptibility, as is the case in some forms of paralysis, may expose a limb to heat until serious injury results. The reason that the face chiefly flushes is that, in the ordinary position near a fire, it is most directly exposed to the rays of heat, while most of the body is shielded by clothing; that the nerves of the face are particularly sensitive in this respect and that the skin there is more abundantly furnished with blood vessels.

Some Nautical Facts.

A knot is 6,080 feet long. The distance from New York to Liverpool is 3,064 nautical miles by the northern track and 3,139 by the southern track. The former course is taken by vessels bound for New York, the latter by vessels bound for Liverpool. From Liverpool to New York the distances are respectively 3,039 and 3,109 miles.

In estimating records the points taken on either side are Sandy Hook and Daunt's rock, Queenstown harbor. The first light sighted on the British coast is the Bull, Cow and Calf, Ireland, and on the American coast either Nantucket or Fire island.

WILL WED A SOLDIER.

Mrs. McKinley's Niece Betrothed to Major Hartzel.

Miss Mary Barber, whose engagement to Major Ralph Hartzel of Denver was recently announced, is the favorite niece of Mrs. McKinley.

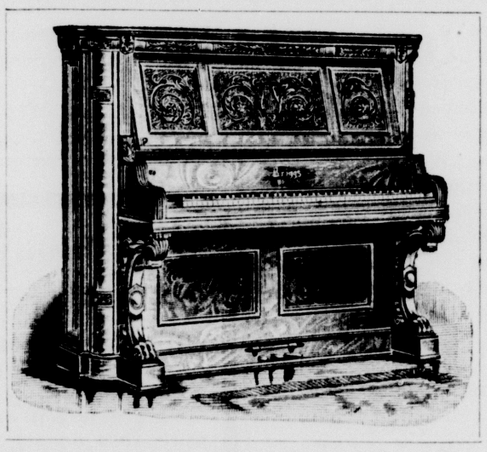

Miss Barber is the daughter of Mrs. Marshall P. Barber, only sister of Mrs. McKinley, and lives in the old Saxton homestead at Canton, O. She is petite, with slender, well formed figure. Her eyes and hair are dark brown. Miss Barber was much at the White House during McKinley's presidency. It was Miss Barber who christened the battleship Ohio at San Francisco on the occasion of McKinley's visit to the coast.

Major Hartzel is a lawyer. During the Spanish war he was commissioned a paymaster in the volunteer army with the rank of major. His brother is secretary of state for Porto Rico.

The fact that the United States made a pretty good bargain when it purchased Alaska for $7,000,000 or $8,000,000 is conclusively shown by recent statistics issued by the treasury department. There is said to be $50,000,000 of American capital invested in enterprises in that territory, and the amount is growing. Gold is by no means the only Alaskan product of importance. The fishery interests are enormous. They produce $50,000,000 annually and furs another $50,000,000. The agricultural possibilities are growing, and the development of the mineral industries on a scientific and practical scale is only beginning. Alaska will probably never become a rich country; but it has already helped a large number of Americans to become rich.

Oleomargarine is not understood to be an injurious substance, but impure milk kills thousands. The legislation against deception in oleomargarine is well conceived, and now let legislators protect the milk supply. This advice is timely at all seasons; but more so than ever in the hot season when the use of preservatives is resorted to, to keep milk as long as possible.

The decision of the western coal miners not to strike is a wise one. The deplorable state in which the eastern strikers find themselves is not calculated to encourage others to imitate them. Their grievances are many and well based, but the chances of securing a redress by refusing to work do not appear encouraging.

Colonel Lamont declines to be the Democratic candidate for governor of New York this year. Mr. Lamont was in Mr. Cleveland's cabinet long enough to know that politics is an arduous profession and he does not care to follow it for the fun of the thing.

When Mr. Bryan heads an article "The Republican Tariff Dilemma" he fails to enlarge upon the surplus of $92,000,000, with a resulting removal of the remaining war taxes, amounting to $70,000,000. He rambles off into the usual free trade platitudes.

Immigrants are coming in faster than ever. The increase last year was more than 160,000 over the preceding year. Italy and Austria-Hungary continue to lead the list. That is not encouraging.

Protection has not created trusts, but it has created prosperity. As for the trust, it thrives equally as well in countries which have no protective tariff.

SURPRISED THE CAPTAIN

Captain George Obney, of Garfield camp, No. 3, S. of V., was 41 years old yesterday, and the members of the camp upon learning this, called upon Mrs. Obney, at her home near Ralston crossing, and told her that she would have to tell her husband to take a trip to the city Friday evening, but that she must also tell him not to remain away longer than an hour. Mrs. Obney obeyed orders and so did Capt. Obney.

When the coast was clear a large number of the members of the camp, who has assembled at the hall in the Exchange block early in the evening, went to the home of their captain, and proceeded to have a good time. It was not long afterward that the captain came home, and he was surprised to see his home filled with his officers and privates. The boys wanted him to be surprised. They had an excellent time during the remainder of the evening, and also a fine luncheon. The captain, during the evening, said that he would never forget the day that he was 41.

PAIR OF TROUSERS STOLEN

The Thief Captured With the Garments Hidden Under His Coat.

Much excitement prevailed this afternoon in the Diamond in frot of Steinfeld & Viney's clothing store when Chief Thompson arrested a man from West Virginia, who gave his name as Stephen Wise. He was drunk and entered the store stating that he wanted to buy a pair of trousers. He was shown an assortment, and was left examining them by the clerk. In a few minutes he started to leave the store, but the clerk detected a pair of the trousers hidden under his coat.

He could give no explanation and an officer was telephoned for. Whereupon the chief responded to the call and landed the rustic gentleman in the city pail. A charge of drunkenness and larceny is booked against him.

WITH THE WORKMEN IN THE CLAY PLANTS

(Special Correspondence.)

New Castle, Pa., July 19.—Owing to the large stock of ware now on hand, the officials of the Shenango Pottery company have decided not to start their pottery for two weeks yet. It was expected that this shop would resume shortly after the Fourth.

The New Castle pottery is unusually busy at this time. In order that all orders may be filled promptly a number of new men have been put to work in the clay shops.

John Munro, a well known mould maker and modeler of this city, has resumed work after a prolonged illness. He spent the past few weeks at Tiffin for the benefit of his health, which is much improved.

Samuel Dobbs has returned to New Castle from East Liverpool, where he has been visiting friends for several days.

Ralph Wood is visiting at East Liverpool, his former home.

Samuel Coventry is spending a few weeks with his old friends at East Liverpool. He is expected back to New Castle in a day or so.

At the last meeting of local union No. 57 of this city, seven new members were initiated. The membership of this local, although young, is increasing rapidly.

Here are some of the latest arrivals at the sanitary shop: Samuel Hooper, of Trenton; Gus Peggendene, of Wheeling; William Crutchley, Moses Heath, of England. This shop is running steady and orders seem to be plentiful.

No conclusion was reached last evening, at a joint conference in the rooms of the Potters' club, between a committee composed of George Smith, general secretary of kilnmen's local No. 9; Richard Herbert, Frank Thornbury, Arthur Owen and Andrew Brannon, of No. 9, and Joseph G. Lee, Samuel M. Ferguson, Daniel E. McNicol, Con Cronin and B. F. Harker, representing the Western Manufacturing Potters' association. The conference was for the purpose of settling, if possible, a dispute that the kilnmen have had with the manufacturers for years, it is said, over the matter of placing flat ware in the first ring in the biscuit kilns. It is the desire that when flat ware is placed in the first ring of a biscuit kiln, the kilnmen shall be paid one-fourth more than if the ring were filled with saggers containing hollow ware. The meeting was filled with harmony, but no results were reached. Another session will be held by the joint committees on Monday evening at the same place.

An official of the Smith-Phillips company today announced that if the company did not receive any more orders for weeks there were enough on the books at the present time to keep the big factory in operation for three months in all departments. This related to straight ware only, to say nothing of the orders that have been received for novelties. This is encouraging news for the employes of that plant, although this firm has been operating the works quite steadily since it assumed the management of the factory.

Routine business was all that was looked after at the meeting of kilnmen's local No 9 last evening in Brotherhood hall. The attendance was large, there being about 200 kilnmen present. This local at its last meeting received a report from National Secretary T. J. Duffy relating to the work accomplished at the recent general conference between committees representing the Brotherhood and the manufacturers.

Monroe Patterson, treasurer of the Wellsville China company, stated yesterday that he was dissatisfied with the way the employes of the plant are working. The hot weather and cheap rate excursions have decimated the number of active pottery workers in Wellsville and according to Mr. Patterson the Wellsville pottery is losing money and will continue until more help is obtained.

The first ware has been packed at the Laughlin No. 3. This was done under the direction of Fred Pennington last Monday, who is employed at plant No. 2, under Wash Williams. Only a few casks were sent out, to help fill an order from No. 2 plant, but it will only be a short time until this department at the No. 3 factory will be running full time.

The walls of the new Sebring pottery are about one-third way up. William Greene, of New Castle, is the contractor on construction and Scott Hickock, of Sebring, has charge of the brick work. It will be an experimental three-kiln plant for china ware and make a specialty of table ware. They expect to compete it by the first of next year.

Some rapid work is being done on the completion of the East Liverpool Brick Manufacturing company's plant. The stone for the erection of the new kilns is already on the ground, and the work of construction will begin at the earliest possible moment. The kilns will be of modern design and as large as any along the valley.

Thirty per cent of the ware made in the clay shop is lost by breakage before it reaches the warehouse, said a manufacturer recently. Since that time steps have been taken by some of the manufacturers to have the ware handled more carefully, and some interesting news is expected on this matter soon.

While the East Liverpool pottery started operations the first of the week the plant is again idle. A steam pipe burst a day or so ago and the plant was compelled to shut down until the necessary repairs could be made. Operations are expected to be resumed by Monday.

The New Castle China company is building two new kilns, a glost and a biscuit kiln. It is authoritatively stated that if the New Castle plants prove a success there will be large additions to their capacities, as the companies have plenty of capital to invest in operating.

W. H. Schuyler, of Pittsburg, of the Crockery and Glass Journal, New York, was in East Liverpool yesterday. He finds the potteries busy and the manufacturers in a cheerful mood, and better prepared for fall trade than in any previous year. He also reports a good business coming in.

The Union, which has been idle for a few weeks, will resume operations in full Monday. Such was the statement of Manager Joseph Manor today. The plant would have been started ere this but for the repairs now being completed on account of the non-arrival of materials.

Arthur Savage, who for years has been connected with the Cleveland & Pittsburg railroad in this city, first as yard master and later as cashier, has resigned his position. He is now connected with the Sevres, company in a clerical position.

George Wittingham, an expert engraver of Beaver Falls, was in the city today visiting numerous potteries and looking after work in his particular line. He reports some striking new designs.

Dave Knight, warehouseman at the Goodwin pottery, accompanied by his wife and children, left yesterday for Beaver Falls, where they will remain several days visiting friends.

At a meeting held last evening by Packers' local No. 5 the new officers elected last month were installeld. No other business was transacted other than of a routine nature.

The American China company is rushed with orders, although all departments are not yet on in full since the loaf on the Fourth.

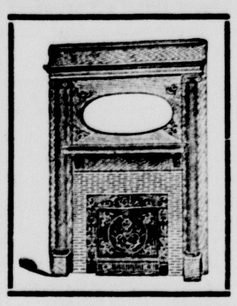

Kilndrawers' local No. 17 will meet this evening in Brotnerhood hall.

is never appreciated quite so much as on a hot day before our Soda Fountain. Then and there, it is a joy not to be denied. Our Soda Water is very popular, and steadily gaining in popularity because it represents a rare combination of choice materials, perfect equipment and expert skill in preparing, mixing and serving. That is a good deal to say in one breath, but come and taste the soda drinks, all flavors, and see for yourself how good they are.....

An Unexpected Result.

"Up in a little mining town in Pennsylvania," said a Keystone state congressman, "there was a political mass meeting at which the principal speakers were a Democrat named Kennedy and a Republican spellbinder named Plummer. It was arranged that Kennedy should speak first. 'At one point in my speech,' Kennedy said to Plummer, 'I am going to say that before the war I was a Whig, but then I became a Democrat. I want you to ask me why I did so. It will give me a fresh start, and then I can talk for an hour.'

"At the proper moment Kennedy made his statement, and Plummer, who had gone down in the crowd, interrupted him. 'I want to know,' he said in a loud voice, 'why you became a Democrat?'

"At that moment a muscular miner hit him a tremendous blow with his fist. 'I'll show you,' he said, 'that you can't break up a Democratic speaker here.'

When Quality Can be the Only Argument.

When different makes of the same article sell for the same price, then quality is the only argument that can usually influence your trade.

The price of soda water, good, bad and indifferent is the same all over town, so that we can't talk about that, but we believe we have a most convincing argument when you consider quality. Our Grape Phosphate seems to be the most convincing convincer we have.

THRILLING ESCAPE

Large Quantity of Nitroglycerine Went Off, Causing Mineature Volcano.

A thrilling escape from death was had by a number of well drillers on the Weston farm, southeast of Wellsville, this week, and the particulars have just reached this city.

Oil had been struck at several points, and a larger well whch was expected to be a gusher was in process of drilling. The work was completed, and by Tuesday afternoon all was in readiness to shoot the well. There were 20 quarts of nitroglycerine on the ground, to be used in the operation. The explosive was lowered to the bottom in lots of 40 quarts each, a stout cord being used for the purpose.

The first 40 quarts had been safely placed, and a large crowd had gathered around the well to watch the work. When the second lot was being lowered the cord broke, and the lives of all were in imminent danger.

"Run for your lives," was the command, instantly obeyed, and 30 persons took shelter at a safe distance.

In less than 10 seconds' time the ground shook, and with a reverberating roar, which was plainly heard in Wellsville, an immense column of rock, dirt and smoke was thrown to a great height. Mount Pelee itself could not have looked more forbidding. The oil did not appear, and the owners of the well were disappointed.

The shaft is now partly filled up by the explosion, which took place several hundred feet from the bottom. The drillers say the well would have been a big producer if the right quantity of nitroglycerine had been exploded properly.

The other 40 quarts of the stuff was above ground, close to the well's opening, and yet did not explode. Had it done so many would have been instantly killed.

The report and smoke were seen Tuesday evening by persons in Wellsville, but nobody knew the cause.

Peculiar State of Affairs Because Ingram's Cows Wandered Away.

A peculiar state of affairs exists in the village of Congo. The entire population are dependent for their milk supply on cows belonging to a family named Ingram. The cows recently strayed, and the lacteal fluid has been an unknown quantity ever since. The Ingrams hunted high and low for the wandering cattle, and at length found them on the farm of Al McDonald, southeast of Chester.

The situation in Chester amounted to a milk famine, and the Ingrams lost no time in bringing back the cattle. Mr. McDonald claimed the animals had been subsisting off his crops, and claimed his right to milk them. Before things had quieted down, much ill feeling was created.

By Deputy Miller as Applicant for Stationary Engineers' Licenses.

District Examiner of Stationary Engineers Elmer E. Miller, who conducted an examination in Wellsville yesterday, went to Steubenville on the Greenwood last night. Mr. Miller is the examiner of the Fifth district, with headquarters at Canton. He was to have been in East Liverpool Thursday, but was delayed by other business matters. East Liverpool applicants took the examination in Wellsville. The list of questions was the same to all, and the were required to attain a rating of 70 per cent in order to get a license.

All who passed the previous examination were entitled to a renewal upon payment of one dollar. Several applicants who were examined were unsuccessful, but Mr. Miller did not disclose their names. Seven persons were examined. They were: J. A. Forner, Lewis H. Morse, George W. Wright, N. P. Kerr, N. F. Warden, Michael McNamee and Chalres Flowers. They range in age from 19 to 65 years, and come from Wellsville, Salineville and East Liverpool. One applicant was unable to write the answers to questions, and his little daughter stood by his side and wrote what her father dictated.

Within a few days the men will receive word from Columbus announcing success or failure, as the case may be.

A Troublesome Sewer.

Considerable trouble exists on account of a defective private sewer which runs from the Goetz building to the Ohio river, crossing Main and Front streets. The sewer was built before Wellsville's present system was installed. The pipe enters the river under the C. & P. tracks, but was recently broken when the grade of the railroad was altered. The surrounding neighborhood was flooded, and rendered in a very unsanitary condition. The railroad people became tired of the delay, and this week workmen, armed with a barrel of cement stopped up the leak. This work was not done in the right shape, and the nuisance again became noticeable. A second attempt to close up the break was successful. The board of health has decided to give notice that the use of the sewer must cease.

Too Big a Bonus.

Mayor Fogo lately received a letter from W. T. Dempsey, of Beaver Falls, asking him to take up consideration of an offer to locate a trousers factory in Wellsville. The promoters of the factory wanted a tract of land 50x100 feet, a cash bonus of $5,000, and they would endeavor to locate the factory here. Mr. Dempsey asked Mayor Fogo to bring the matter up before the board of trade. The mayor said today the latter had seen fit to turn the offer down. It was thought the concern wanted too large a bonus.

The Flyer Engine.

Engine No. 603 now hauls train 335, leaving Wellsville at 7:35, west bound. No. 603 is known among the local railroad men as the "flyer." This engine is one of the largest ever built, and before being placed on its present run, was used to haul the C. & P. flyer, making the run from Cleveland to Pittsburg, 150 miles, in three hours, counting numerous stops.

A Government Engineer.

Raymond DeFreese, of Troy, one of the engineering corps of the United States geological survey, is registered at the Metropole. Mr. De Freese is on the Ohio side of the river running a few lines which will conclude the survey in this section. He attended the Ohio State college and Adelbert college, having graduated from the latter.

Audience Too Small.

The Grand Theater Stock company, a traveling crowd of Thespians, which were billed for a three night stand at the opera house, were forced to leave town on account of the small attendance greeting them at the opening performance.

W. L. Clark, 84 years old and one of the oldest and best known editors of the Ohio valley, is slowly improving from injuries he received last week by falling from a chair. It was feared for a time that his leg was broken, but it was only badly bruised.

Died of Consumption.

Mrs. C. O. Erwin and Mrs. Clyde Stuffell went to Salineville yesterday, being called there by the death of their sister, Miss Susie Stevens. Miss Stevens was known to scores of Wellsville people. She was a sufferer from consumption.

There is talk of a special council meeting Monday night, to hear the report of the citizens' committee. Up to that time its findings will remain unknown to any one save a few who are on the inside of the situation.

A Disappointed Kentuckian.

At the time when John G. Carlisle was senator from Kentucky his speeches were widely printed and attracted a great deal of attention. One day when the senate was in session a mountaineer from the wildest wilds of Kentucky presented himself at the door and asked to see Senator Carlisle. The visitor wore homespun and leather boots and was travel stained and dusty. He explained that he had read Mr. Carlisle's speeches and considered them great, and had walked more than a hundred miles in order to see the senator from his state. Mr. Carlisle was busy at the time, and the clerk informed the visitor that he could not be disturbed. The farmer looked disappointed and seemed reluctant to depart. Finally he asked if he might be taken where he could just catch a glimpse of the great man he had walked so far to see. The request was granted, and Mr. Carlisle was pointed out to him. After a brief scrutiny the farmer turned to the attendant:

"Reads a heap better'n he looks," he remarked sententiously, and prepared to walk back home.—New York Times.

He Swung the Lantern.

A southern senator was at one time counsel for a small railroad. At a point on the line where it crossed a prominent highway they had an old negro watchman, whose duties consisted in warning travelers of the approach of trains. One night a farmer's wagon was struck, causing a bad accident. The railroad company was of course sued for damages, and at the trial the old darky was the chief witness for his employers. He answered the questions put to him in a clear, direct manner. Among them was the query as to whether he surely swung his lantern across the road when he saw the train coming, to which he replied:

"'Deed I did, sah."

The railroad company won the suit, and the senator took occasion later to compliment his witness on his excellent testimony. The old fellow was profuse in thanks, but before they parted bluntly said:

"Lordy, Marse John, I sho' was skeered when dat lawyer gin to ax me 'bout de lantern. I was afeared he was goin' to ax if it was lit or not, 'cause de oil in it done give out some time before de axdent."

Breaking a Will.

A wealthy woman named Silva died at Lisbon and left her entire property to a rooster. She was a fervid spiritualist, a believer in the transmigration of souls, and imagined that the soul of her dead husband had entered the rooster. She caused a special fowlhouse to be built and ordered her servants to pay extra attention to their "master's" wants. The disgust of her relatives over the will caused the story to become public, and a lawsuit might have followed had not one of the heirs adopted the simple expedient of having the wealthy rooster killed, thus becoming himself the next of kin.

A Great Work of Art.

It was Apelles who visited the studio of Protogenes in Rome and, finding the artist absent, drew a thin colored line in such a way that the Roman knew that only his Grecian brother could have done it. But, not to be outdone, Protogenes drew a thinner line upon that of Apelles, and when this was seen Apelles drew a third line upon that of Protogenes. This panel was then looked upon as the greatest work of art, so says the story, in the palace of the Cæsars.

Beginning at 10 a. m. and 2 p. m.

When A Man Invests IN A LOT OR IN A HOME

He wants to feel reasonably sure that he is doing so where he has a reasonable chance of receiving fair returns for his money.

WHAT ARE THE CHANCES IN CHESTER, W. VA.?

A little over two years ago there was no such a town on the map. Today it is one of the busiest little cities in the great Ohio valley, with a population of 3,000 and growing at a rapid rate. In its location and its sorroundings, its present condition and future prospects it has the making of a great and prosperous city. Some of those who invested in Chester property at the start have realized as high as 100 per cent. on their money. These profits have not been the result of years of waiting, but of merely a few months.

Investigate For Yourself.

You will find that Chester is situated in almost the northern point of the Panhandle of West Virginia. It is reached by a branch of the Panhandle rail road, connecting with the main line at New Cumberland Junction some 18 miles southward. This line is shortly to be extended up the Ohio river to a connection with the main line of the Ft. Wayne Railroad and the great Pennsylvania system, reaching Pittsburg and the great eastern centers.

What are the Advantages?

A FEW OF THEM ARE LEVEL, STREETS PAVED, SEWERED AND ADORNED WITH FLAGSTONE SIDEWALKS, SEWERAGE AND BEAUTIFUL SHADE TREES; A SYSTEM OF WATER WORKS WHICH FURNISHES PURE, FILTERED WATER, ADEQUATE TO THE NEEDS OF ALL POLICE AND FIRE PROTECTION; A DOUBLE TRACK STREET RAILWAY WHICH IS EQUAL TO ANY IN THE COUNTRY. NATURAL GAS, CHEAP AND ABUNDANT. MANUFACTURING PLANTS:— A MODEL TIN PLATE MILL, FURNISHING EMPLOYMENT TO 800 PERSONS; TWO LARGE POTTERIES, EMPLOYING MORE THAN 400 PERSONS EACH, WITH OTHER INDUSTRIES ABOUT TO BE ESTABLISHED.

In addition there are good stores and all the minor industries of a prosperous city. There are also good schools good churshes and good society. The scenery is unmatched for attractiveness in all the Ohio valley. Thousands of persons flock to the neighboring pleasure resort, the Famous Rock Springs Park, daily during the summer and strangers invariably go away voting it one of the pleasantest spots along the river.

Better Opportunities

Are presented for the realization of profits. Why? Land is still cheap, compared with the prices charged in other towns of the same size. Chester is not a boom town. It's growth, although rapid, has been substantial and along conservative lines. It is both a manufacturing town and a city of homes. Hundreds of new houses were erected last season; the same record will be repeated this year, probably on a greater scale.

THE CITY OF EAST LIVERPOOL!

The great pottery manufacturing center, with 20,000 inhabitants and growing faster than any other town in all the Ohio Valley, is directly opposite Chester, and connected with it by a new iron bridge which is crossed by street cars, vehicles of all sorts and by pedestrians. The center of East Liverpool, O., is less than a mile away and hundreds of persons who work or have business in East Liverpool find Chester a more agreeable place for residence. Taxes are not high, and the advantages are all that could be asked. None of these statements are overdrawn. Some of the most desirable property in this thrifty and beautiful spot is shortly to be sold at auction. There will be bargains for those who seek them. At sales of this character no one can have an advantage. Lots will be sold to the highest bidders; those who buy will know what they are getting and if they see no bargain in the property offered they are not asked or expected to bid. We do not desire to have customers unless they are satisfied.

to enable you to have a share in the advantages and the profits. You can start with a few dollars now and you will not need to wait long to double your money.

CHOICE LOTS FREE

with every 100 lots sold, one lot will be given away absolutely free, to some one person among those who have made purchases of one or more of the lots at this sale. One purchaser stands as good a chance as an other of securing this prize, it matters not whether he has purchased one lot or ten. A committee of reputable citizens will be selected and they will decide to whom the prize lots shall fall.

Choice New Property

will be offered at the coming sale—not lots which have been hawked about, vainly seeking a purchaser. There are over 800 of these lots which are now offered for the first time; everyone of them desirable either as residence property or as a location for business.

A Hatching Egg.

"An egg in the process of hatching," says an expert, "is remarkably sensitive to vibration. Half the failures that amateurs encounter in hatching out chicks by the incubator method are due to lack of precaution in providing against the effect of vibration on the eggs. The rumble of a train or the passage of a wagon along the street will spoil a whole incubator full of eggs if the faintest vibratory wave reaches the apparatus. Even such a little thing as the banging of a door in some other part of the house will destroy the chances of hatching out a brood where care has not been taken to place the incubator beyond the reach of such disturbances. A thunder storm always gives breeders a scare, as thousands of eggs may be spoiled by a sudden heavy thunderclap. To sneeze or cough in the vicinity of the incubators will sometimes work a disastrous result."—New York Tribune.

Editorial Pleasantries.

Two editors quarreled, and one referred to the other's early career in his paper.

"As for our contemporary," he wrote, "what can we expect from a man who was five years ago hawking from door to door with a donkey, and an ill conditioned beast at that?"

His rival did not deny it, but in his next issue appeared the following:

"Our contemporary says that five years ago we were 'hawking from door to door with a donkey, and an ill conditioned beast at that.' He is quite right. We were so occupied. But we are surprised to find the donkey has such a good memory."

Pugilistic Giants In Frisco Ready For Bout July 25

BOB FITZSIMMONS and Jim Jeffries are in fine fettle for their fight, which occurs July 25 in Frisco at the San Francisco Athletic club. Both men are confident, as is generally the case with pugilists before a bout, and both claim that they were never in better condition for a world's championship battle.

Jeff says:

"I am about ready to enter the ring. By the day of the fight I will be 'fit' as a fiddle and ready to defend my championship title successfully. There's no doubt in my mind that Fitzsimmons will make a great bid to regain his lost laurels, but he'll fail. My training since I came here has been very hard. I amble through a course of work every day that would stagger a longshoreman. From now on I'll add to my schedule and will soon be doing two days' work in one. It's a big thing, though, to hold the championship, and I don't intend to lose it through being caught out of shape."

Fitz says:

"Until a few days ago I have been satisfied to go along with easy training, but good, hard systematic work is now in order. I am in fine shape—never was better—and feel ready and able to put up a harder and faster fight than I ever did. My light training has done me a lot of good, and very little polishing off will put me on edge. Skaggs Springs is one of the best places I ever struck for getting ready for a hard battle. The California air is fine, and the trips over the mountains which I take daily are great stuff. They are rather strenuous at first, but when you get used to them they are the real thing. I am down to about the weight I will enter the ring at and as strong as a bull."

Fitz has arranged a schedule which calls for any amount of work. Every minute of the day is mapped out, and the ex-champion says he sticks to the time table even closer than an express train does to its running schedule. Boxing is the chief feature of the work and will be to within a day or two of the fight. Fitz has "Soldier Tom" Wilson and George Dawson for sparring partners, and if he hands them any more under the new schedule than they have been receiving during the past few weeks they will be objects of pity.

While the Cornishman may not be of a cruel nature, he certainly is of an inventive turn of mind, and he practices new punches of all kinds on his partners as well as old ones. Of course, to get the proper effect Fitz has to let these wallops go with a good deal of speed, and they usually are felt.

On his road work Fitz is always accompanied by Mrs. Fitzsimmons and Bob junior in a carriage. Mrs. Fitzsimmons sets the pace, and Bob lumbers along. The pace is usually pretty hot, but Bob has yet to complain or call a halt. The roads are not such as an ordinary runner would fancy, either, being mostly up hill. When Fitz first tried to run, he complained that the work was all up hill. According to Bob, he would start out and run five miles up hill. Then he naturally expected to have things easy on the trip home and was looking for a chance to roll along with the brakes on.

Things were not as he thought, however, and the run back was as hard as the trip out.

Of course, like horse races and elections, prizefights are never decided until the last minute of the fray, but in the present instance there seems to be no reasonable chance of victory for the Cornishman. Fitzsimmons is a clever boxer, a determined stayer and a phenomenally hard hitter, but the giant Jim Jeffries is a Gibraltar of pugilists that neither Fitzsimmons nor any other heavyweight can successfully storm. Fitz will enter the ring of the San Francisco Athletic club at about 170 pounds. Jeff will carry with him about 215 pounds of well trained avoirdupois and, having had the experience of a fight with the long, lean Bob, should have no fear as to the result.

Jeffries should win inside of fifteen rounds. Fitz is an old man now, and, despite his remarkably preserved stamina and physique, he is not likely to stay longer than that. Naturally Bob's unexcelled ring generalship will serve to prolong the battle, but Jeff has made a deliberate study of his rival's style and will be prepared for almost anything that may occur.

As Jim's contemplated plan of action is understood, he is to play a waiting game until the tenth round. By holding himself on the defensive during the opening part of the bout he hopes to tire Bob, thus taking the edge from his terrific jabs and jolts. Then Jim will start in to "do business," and he calculates that five rounds of strong offensive work will bring the end, and in his favor.

Bob also has become a convert to the waiting style of fighting, and he intends to keep away from Jim's powerful paws until an opening presents itself. Fitz is a master of defense and understands perfectly the science of holding himself well covered without placing himself in a position where he will be unable to take advantage of possible openings, and it is this accomplishment which makes or mars a pugilist. Many men can guard themselves, many can open up telling attacks, but few there are that combine these elements without sacrificing to some extent one or the other. The successful human fighting machine must be versatile.

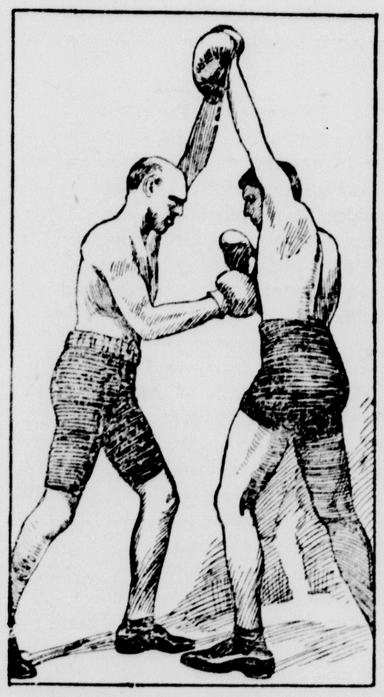

In the meantime the training operations on the slope are going merrily on. Bob is varying the monotony of routine work by chopping wood, feeding chickens, milking the cows and picking daffodils, while the boiler maker finds supreme enjoyment in building hencoops and talking for publication. But then this latter feature has long been a part of a pugilist's stock in trade, and Jim is not to be blamed for following precedent.

Corbett says if he ever gets a chance at James J. Jeffries again he proposes fighting on quite another tack from that on which he fought the boiler maker before. Jim says that the secret of Jeffries' success has been in his famous "crouch," which has kept all the big fellows from getting to him. Corbett says the only way to cure Jeffries of this habit is to assume the same position and fight him back in his own kind. Corbett proposes digging a subway through which to reach the big fellow, but the chances are that before he has spaded out more than a dozen cartloads Jeffries will have him tucked away in his little blankets dreaming of the good old days when John L. thought he was still a youngster.

Willie Reid, a pupil of Mike Donovan, instructor at the New York Athletic club, is out with a challenge to fight Hughey McGovern. Reid is only sixteen years of age, and his father is willing to bet $1,000 that he can defeat the brother of the former champion. What Mr. Reid, Sr., should do is to send his son to school instead of trying to make a pug out of him. He has undoubtedly read in the papers as to how the majority of them have turned out.

Hugo and the Barber.

When Victor Hugo lived in Paris, in the Place Royale, he used to be shaved by a barber named Brassier. A friend of the poet asked the barber one day if he was busy. "I hardly know which way to turn," was the reply. "We have to dress the hair of thirty ladies for soirees and balls." And M. Brassier showed the list to his friend. A few days after the friend returned and inquired about the thirty ladies. "Ah, monsieur," said the barber sadly, "I was not able to attend half the number, and I have lost many good customers through M. Victor Hugo." It appears that the poet when about to be shaved was suddenly inspired and seized the first piece of paper he could find to write a poem. Hugo hastily left the shop with his unfinished verses, on the back of which were the names and addresses of the thirty ladies, many of whom waited in vain for their coiffeur.

Billy Rice and a Pin.

Billy Rice, negro minstrel, used to tell the story of a man who picked up a pin as he was leaving the office of a great merchant, after an unsuccessful quest for work.

The merchant, seeing the man's action from the window, called him back and gave him employment, which kindness he repaid by becoming owner of the entire business in an incredibly short time.

Billy used to end his story by saying that he tried that scheme once when he was looking for work, dropping a pin carefully on the floor as he entered. He stated his wants to the proprietor, who not only had no employment to offer him, but remarked to his partner as Rice picked up the pin:

"Say, if that fellow's so small as to steal a pin off the floor, how much do you think he'd leave in my till?"

BROKE WORLD'S RECORD

WELL KNOWN COUPLE DANCED FOUR HOURS CONTINUOUSLY.

Made a Wager With the Piano Player, And He Lost, But Dancers Kept on Whirling.

The world's record at dancing was broken in this city at Columbian park last evening. In the past the record for a dance has been two hours and 35 minutes, but the record is four houds and 15 minutes.

During the dance at Columbian park last evening Charles Shenkel made a wager with the dancers that he could play the piano longer than any couple could dance. The wager at first went unheeded, but soon Joseph Cassidy, of this city, and Miss Bessie Golden, of Wellsville, took the piano player at his word, and at 9:15 o'clock the dance, which proved to be a record breaker, commenced.

The couple danced and the piano player furnished the music until it seemed that his fingers would not stand the strain. Finally it was seen that the piano player was giving out, and that was shortly after 4 o'clock. However, the dancers continued to dance, and at 4:30 o'clock time was called, they having danced continuously for four hours and 15 minutes.

Cassidy is a well known pottery printer, while Miss Golden is employed in the decorating department of the Wallace & Chetwynd's pottery.

Phelps Will Contest.

Canton, July 19.—Wallace H. Phelps, who secured 21 of the 132 Stark county delegates to the Republican congressional convention to be held in Salem, announced that he would contest the third ward at Canton. Phelps claims that three ballots were taken from the box in precinct A, which was overwhelmingly for Grant, and deposited in the box at precinct B, which Grant carried by a vote of 36 to Phelps 35.

He reports the coopers throughout the country becoming generally organized, the East Liverpool local having increased to 71 in membership. The headquarters of the national organization are at Canton.

NOWLING ARRESTED

His Plea Not Guilty—Numerous Arrests Are to Follow.

A. K. Nowling, the leader of the park orchestra, was arrested this morning on a warrant sworn out by E. S. Good, for laboring on Sunday. He was arrigned before Squire Johnston and pleaded not guilty. He was released on his own recognizance, for his apeparance Monday morning at 9 o'clock.

This is the first of the cases instituted against park officials and employes. The wararnts are out for Messrs. Smith and Maxwell, of the park company, Young, Page, and five other musicians; William Dorff and Jesse Good, ticket seller and collector.

The park officials will be represented by competent counsel, and will probably carry up the cases to the circuit court of Hancock county.

Mr. Nowling informed a News Review reporter this morning that his orchestra had a contract with the park management for playing six days a week. Their services on Sunday, therefore, were gratitious, and they were not amenable to the law. Mr. Nowling will be represented by strong legal talent, and will also carry the case to the circuit court.

The other cases will be heard as soon as the warrants are served, which are all now in the hands of Constable Allison. It is probable that the defendants will all plead not guilty.

Mr. Good said in Nowling's case he was not ready to present his proofs this morning to Squire Johnston, and the justice was therefore privileged to release Nowling on his own recognizance.

The hearings promise to be interesting.

Bakers' Outing.

The employes of the Ward-Mackey company's mammoth bakery came in on a special train of nine coaches over the New Cumberland branch, this morning. They number about 500, and are accompanied by their wives and families, which brings the number up to about 1 000 people. They are enjoying themselves both at the park and in the city.

Interested In Pure Food.

The retail grocers of West Virginia are in sesison at Wheeling, and are proposing legislation looking to the enactment of pure food laws in the state by the legislature as well as the creating of an office for a state commisisoner to look after food products.

On a Summer Tour.

Thomas Hutton, of Albany, N. Y., who is visiting in West Virginia, stopped in Chester today. He has three Filpino monkeys, brought from the islands by returning soldiers. Mr. Hutton is on a summer tour, and will visit the resorts of the state.

Blinded by a Bee.

Many Get Vaccinated.

Quite a number of Chester citizens have been vaccinated, and many others are going through the ordeal. However, the fear from an epidemic of smallpox is past.

CHESTER NOTES.

J. F. McDonald left for Chicago today on a business trip.

Mr. Enoch Riley has started a news route to Lawrenceville.

Fitzpatrick, the smallpox patient, is improving rapidly. It has been 10 days since the discovery of the case, and there have been no new developments.

The lawn fete at the Asbury M. E. church last night, in the grove adjoining, was a social and financial success. Sixteen dollars was the amount cleared.

Council No. 81, Jr. O. U. A. M., will initiate a candidate next Wednesday night. The order is quite prosperous at the present time, having a membership of 56.

Jesse Phillips, of Hammondsville, has moved to Chester and is now living on Third street. He was married just a short time ago to Miss Lucy Scott, of Brilliant.

Mrs. J. E. Hartman, of Hammondsville, accompanied by her little girl and Miss Ruby Hartman, the latter of Pittsburg, have been visiting Mr. Hartman, who is employed in the Chester mill.

Stewart & Hopper brought in a well in the Nichol farm yesterday good for five barrels. Campbell & Co. have already located a new well on the Campbell farm. Both are in the Hooks-town field.

All of the sanitary plants are busy and the orders now awaiting to be filled give every prospect for steady employment for the men until the first of next year at the least.

The old Hart Brewer pottery on Greenwood avenue, which is controlled by Messrs. Phillips & Gruesser, will shortly begin to manufacture sanitary ware. The plant in the past was devoted exclusively to general ware.

Alexander Turford, who was the selling agent of the old Egyptian pottery, before it passed into the hands of Former Tax Receiver C. Harry Baker and City Treasurer W. J. B. Stokes, has associated himself with Messrs. Phillips & Gruesser and will have charge of the selling department.

The sanitary men will begin work in about two weeks.

The Elite pottery, which has recently been erected by Messrs. Page, Diehl and Benson, will enter the sanitary field in a week or so.

In spite of the handicap because of the shortage of coal with which to fire the kilns, most of the general ware plants are well stocked with orders and promise to be busy for some time to come. This is particularly true with the Mercer, Crescent and Cook potteries.

The Glasgow pottery is suffering because of lack of coal, and since the coal strike began little ware has been made at the three plants of the Greenwood Pottery company. This firm manufactures a grade of ware which cannot be fired with soft coal.

19TH YEAR. NO. 169. EAST LIVERPOOL, SATURDAY, JULY 19, 1902. TWO CENTS.

MAKING THE OHIO NAVIGABLE AT ALL SEASONS OF THE YEAR

WHAT NEW DAM WILL LOOK LIKE.

Great improvements are in progress under the auspices and at the expense of the United States government, on the Ohio river from Pittsburg to its junction with the Mississippi at Cairo. When they are completed the Ohio will be navigable at all times, save when closed by ice, by all river steamers, as the stream will then be virtually a series of deep water pools, or levies, connected by locks of ample size to permit the passage of all steamers and tows, now plying the river at what is n ow known to river men as coal boat stage of water.

The much desired and long sought result will be reached by the construction of a series of dams combined with locks at such intervals on the river as to enable those government officials in charge of them to keep the stream navigable for all types of river crafts. To construct these dams and locks the general government will expend vast sums of money and will also expend a considerable sum annually in manning and maintaining them. One of these costly improvements will be located at Walker, near the city, unless present plans are changed, and it is not likely that they will be.

Believing that the details of river improvements, which will be of very great commercial advantage to this and other cities, have been obtained from Captain W. E. Craighill, United States Engineer. He gives also minute particulars as to the construction of the unique dams and locks, by the construction and operation of which so happy a result is reached.

A reporter called upon Capt. Craighill at his office at Wheeling, and was most courteously received by him. The captain first produced an accurate map of the Ohio river from the head of navigation to the river's junction with the Mississippi. Every minutia of the river's topography is shown on this map, or rather series of hundreds of maps—for it is necessarily in atlas form. Every island, every pool and shallow, every turn and bend of the serpentine stream, every important town, city or village upon its banks, all its channels and all its intricacies are clearly set forth and delineated on this masterfully drawn map of the Ohio. It was the result of years of labor by expert surveyors and draughtsmen. Some idea of its extent can be formed from the fact that the map is drawn on a scale of about four inches to the mile.

Then the captain showed the reporter hundreds of photographs delineating all phases of the work in progress on the dams and locks on the Ohio and Kanawha rivers—for he has entire charge of the government improvements on both streams, and three of these, which will give to the reader a fairly clear understanding of the manner in which the great river is to be bound and made to subserve the intrests of commerce, are reproduced in connection with this article.

The first dam and lock to be completed was that located at Davis island, below Pittsburg, which resulted in the formation of the deep water stretch of the river now officially designated 'the Pittsburg pool." It is here that it is now possible to hold millions of bushels of coal on coal barges and coal boats in perfect safety in deep water—caused by the construction of the dam—until a barge or coal boat stage is reached in the river below the dam, when they are rushed down the river to Cincinnati and other points in immense tows, as high as sixteen barges or boats being brought down by one steamer.

Six miles below Beaver, Pa., another dam and lock is rapidly nearing completion, and this will create a stretch of deep water to be popularly known as the Beaver river pool, including the mouth of that stream within its limits. This, to the government officials will be known as dam No. 6.

Between 6 and No. 1, dams and locks—always a lock at one end of these dams—Nos. 2, 3, 4 and 5 are in process of construction, and when completed will, with 1 and 6, give continuous deep water from Pittsburg almost to the Pennsylvania state line.

Dam No. 7, for which an appropriation has been made, but upon which work has not yet begun, will be located near Smith's Ferry, just within the borders of Pennsylvania.

Dam No. 8, to be located at Walker, below East Liverpool, and an appropriation having been made, work will soon be inaugurated on it.

Dam No. 9 will be located just above Kingston, W. Va., and dam No. 10 just above Steubenville, O. No appropriation has yet been made for their construction, but it will be done at an early date.

Dam No. 11 is to be constructed a short distance below Steubenville, and as an appropriation has been made for it by congress, construction work will soon begin.

The next dam in the chain of navigation improvements will be located a short distance above Sisters, near Wheeling. No appropriation has yet been made for its construction, but this will be made doubtless at the next session of congress. It will be known as dam No. 12.

The next dam in the series, No. 13, is now in progress of construction. It is located at McMechen, and when completed, five years hence, will work changes of vast importance to Wheeling and the other towns above. What is now a fickle, ever-varying stream, flowing past the city's wharves, will be as by the touch of the magician's wand, transformed into a lake, whose waters shall ever be navigable to all river crafts, pleasure yachts of every kind, and through which the waters of the Ohio will glide all but currentless, yet keeping it every fresh.

These dams, known as Chancine witcket dams, are all constructed on the same plan, which is of French origin. Each consists of three divisions. The stone abutment at one side of the stream, a commodious lock at the opposite or channel side, and the dam proper between these. The latter is far from being a dam as the term is ordinarily used. It consists of a series of movable sections or "wickets," each 4 feet in width and 15 feet in length, hung about the middle cross section and held in any desired position by a steel prop attached to it just above the center.

These wickets can be raised to a very nearly perpendicular position, partly lowered, or depressed until they lie flat upon the bed of the stream. In a flood emergency they will turn one-fourth of a circle on their centers lying horizantal, or parallel with the end of the river, thus allowing the water to pass below and over them and present but a trifling resistance to the passage of the flood waters between the walls of the lock at one end of the dam and the abutment.

The action of the wicket system will be better understood by looking carefully at the illustration marked "B," published in connection with this article.

In it is shown in the foreground the abutment wall, then a large unmber of wickets lying flat upon the bottom of the river. Next is seen a wicket in the flood emergency position, while beyond them may be seen five wickets in position for forming part of the dam.

Back of these wickets forming the dam, is constructed, as will be seen in illustration "A," a narrow tramway, or "service bridge," to be exact, the track of which is considerably higher than the top of the dam when wickets are at their highest point. This tramway is of skeleton steel construction, consisting of as many sections as there are wickets in the dam, and they can be folded down upon the bed of the stream, as will be seen in illustration "B," where they are shown in both upright and horizontal positions.

In the construction of these dams the first step is the construction of temporary or coffer dams both above and below the line on which the permanent dam is to be constructed. These are clearly shown in illustration "A."

The dam at McMechen, known by the government engineers as "No. 13, Ohio river," may be taken as a specimen of these government works. It is of special interest to Wheeling and its sister cities of Benwood, Bellaire, Bridgeport and Martin's Ferry. When completed it will give perpetual deep water, and splendid yachting opportunities from McMechen to a point one-half mile below Burlington. The largest boats can "go about" without difficulty, and there will be a charming permanency to the river which has never been known or enjoyed before.

The total cost of the dam will be about $950,000. Construction of the lock was begun last year. The coffer dam is already completed. There were unexpected difficulties in securing a good foundation, and for this reason the contract had to be supipemented, causing some delay. Everything is now in shape, and work will progress steadily until completion. Captain Craighill stated yesterday to a reporter that the McMechen dam would be completed in five years.

The lock at the dam will be of enormous proportions. Its length is to be 600 feet between gates and its width 100 fet in the clear. It will accommodate at one time a steamer with bages carying 12,000 tons of coal—enough to load an ocean steamer. It will have no swinging gates, but at each end is a massive sliding door which can be rolled back into a slot or opening in the land walls of the lock when steamers are to pass in or out. There are also sluice gates for the admission of water to or its exit from the lock.

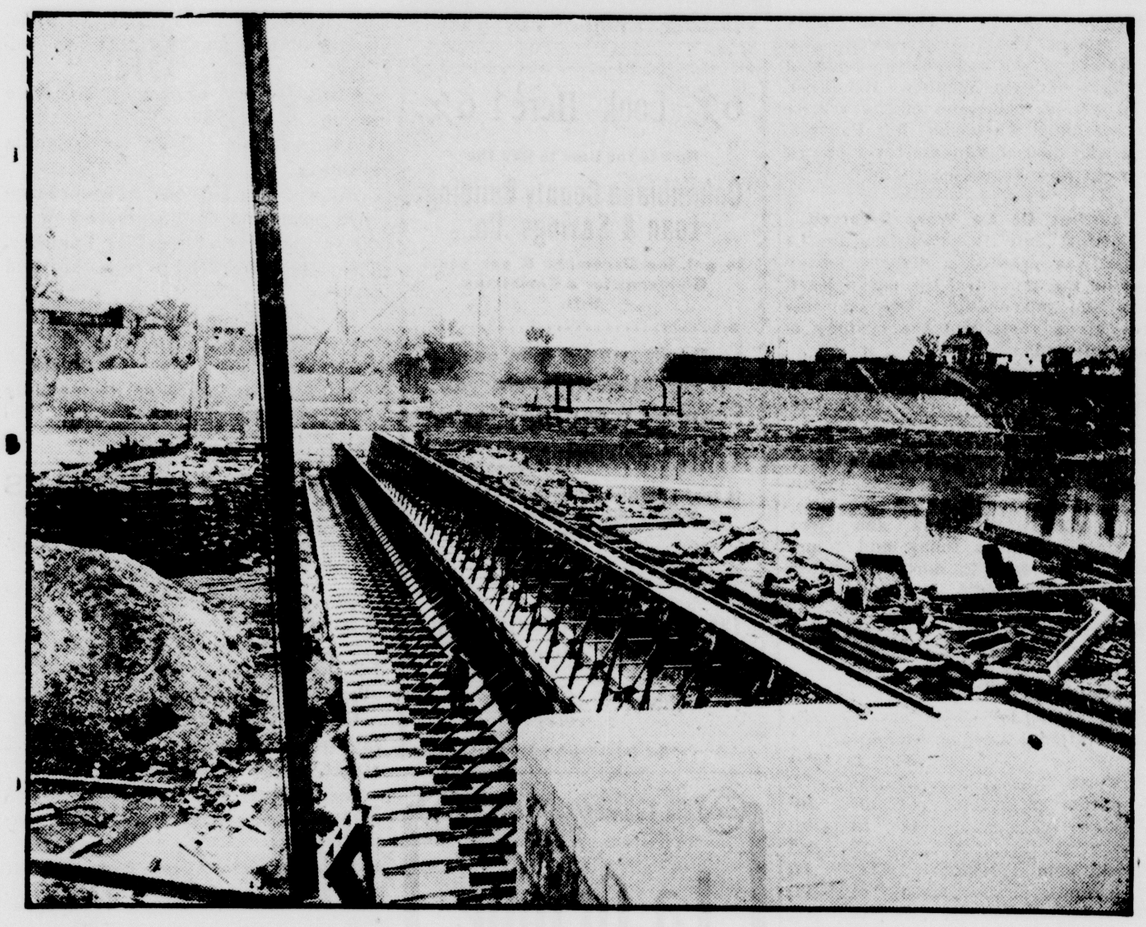

The lock will be first completed. Then, what is known as the "navigation pass" portion of the dam. This extends 600 feet into the river from the river walls of the lock and the upper surface of its bed, or base is four feet lower than that of the balance of the dam. It is the channel for vessels when the stage of water is such as to render use of the lock unnecessary and cause the wickets of the entire dam to be lowered to bed of stream, as shown in illustration "B." Between this and the balance of the dam which is designated as the "weir," a massive stone and cement abutment is constructed.

Then the balance of the bed of the dam is constructed, terminating at a massive abutment of masonry and concrete.

The massive wickets are of oak, those of the navigation pass being 14 feet by 4 feet, and those of the balance of the dam, known as the weir, four feet shorter. The steel sections of the tramway are next put in place, he enormously heavy and massive doors are placed in the great lock, the coffer dams are removed, and the lock and dam will be ready for operation.

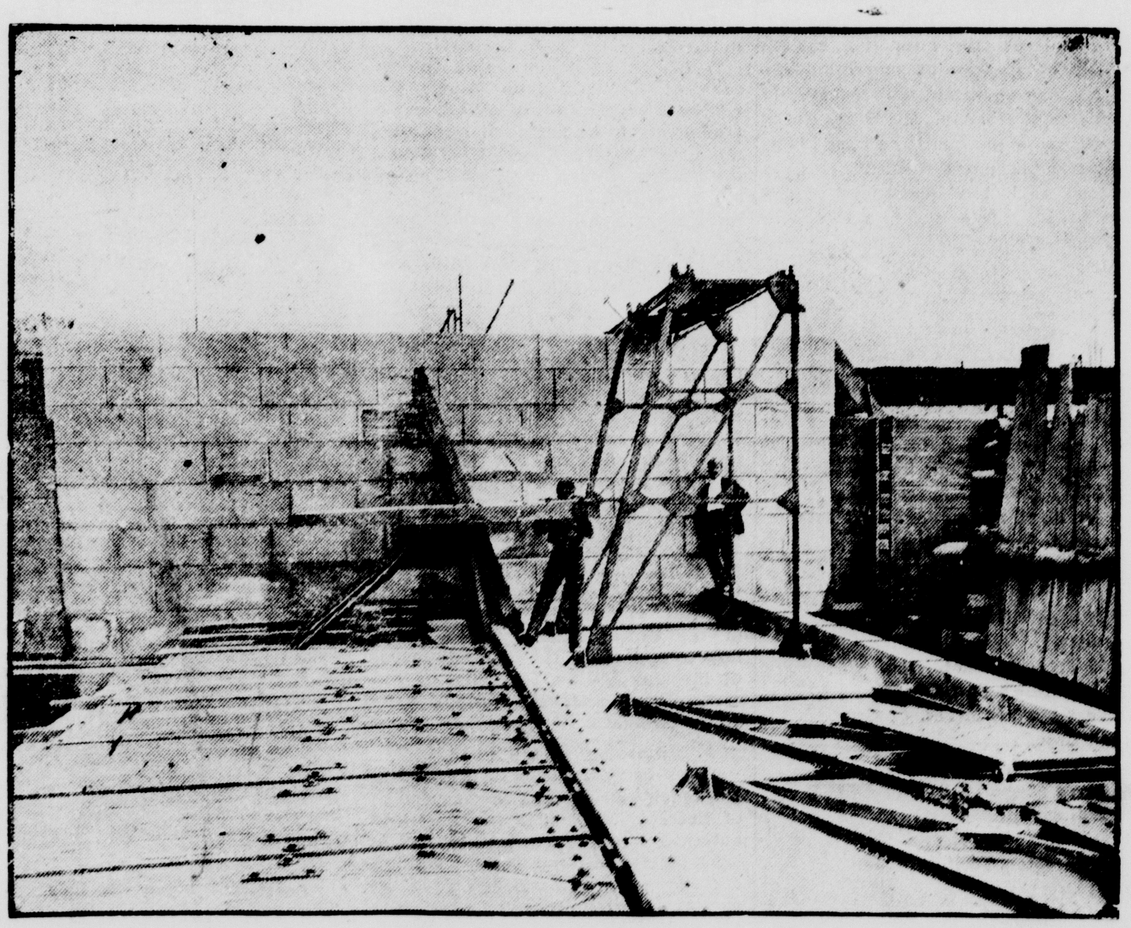

The dimension of the No. 13, the McMechen dam, are as follows: Width of navigation pass, 600 feet; balance of the dam, technically known as the "weir," 400 feet; total width of the dam proper from abutment to river wall of lock, 1,000 feet; extreme perpendicular height of dam 13.8 feet; wickets in navigation pass, 15 feet long; in weir 11 feet, the bed of the pass being four feet lower than that of the head of the weir. The wickets are inclined at an angle of 20 degrees from the perpedicular thus presenting an angle of 110 degrees to the pressure of the water above.

The height of the service bridge on which the cars carrying the engine and the "winch" for lowering or raising the wickets run is 2 1-2 feet higher than the top of the dam, for evident reasons.

The wall of the lock and the wall of the abutment extends 20 feet above the bed of the dam or five feet above its top.

All the improvements on the Ohio river, also those on the Kanawha are in charge of Captain W. E. Craighill, U. S. engineer, who is now a citizen of Wheeling, residing at 1209 Chapline street. His headquarters are at 1050 Main street. He is a very pleasant and obliging gentleman. Graduating with honor from West Point, in the class of '85 with the rank of lieutenant, he performed much important service with the United States Engineer corps in river and harbor work. He took an active part later in the Spanish-American war, and saw much hard service in the Philippines as major of the Fortieth Volunteer infantry, of which Col. E. A. Godwin, of West Virginia, was in command, of whom Captain Craighill said yesterday. "Col. Goodwin is a man for whom I have the highest regard, he is a splendid soldier and a thorough gentleman."

While in the Philippines Captain Craighill planned and inaugurated the imrpovement of Manila harbor, which are now being carried on. He also was in active service during the war in China, where he was on General Chaffee's staff. He is familiar with the character of the Moros and says of them: "The Moro is bad—like a rattle snake, but civilization and civilized troops will easily conquer him." He returned from Manila in September, 1901, and was then placed in charge of all government improvements on the Ohio and Kanawha rivers, an oppointment on which this city may justly congratulate itself.

In the office here is also Assistant U. S. Engineer Charles Humphreys, who has immediate charge of the construction on the McMechen dam, and who will have charge of No. 11, to be put in at Steubenville.

S. G. Campbell, also at Wheeling, is chief government inspector of construction.

The contractors on the McMechen dam are Sheridan & Kirk, originally from Kentucky, but now residing at McMechen.

When dams are completed and begin to be operated it is necessary that those in charge be in constant communication with points at headwaters of the river and on its tributaries, hence each dam is connected with these points by a special telephone line, and either night or day, when a message is received announcing a freshet in a tribuatary above a dam in its pool the men in charge at once begin lowering the wickets and tramway sections. This is often dangerous work, particularly at night time in stormy weather. In case of a mere tributary freshet the dam is raised again as soon as the flood has run out. Where it is a general flood then all dams from the head of the river down are lowered.

The wickets on the weir section of the dam—meaning all of it except the navigation pass—are being continually raised and lowered to keep the water at an even stage and avoid violent charges with consequent dangerous currents, and to prevent the stranding of boats along the banks.

Records will be kept of all boats passing either way on the river so that those in charge at the locks always have accurate information as to location of all boats on the river. In passing the locks packets have right of way over freight and tow boats.

Appropriations have been made for dams Nos. 18 and 19. The former is located just below Marietta and the latter near Parkersburg.

Bids for the work on the navigation pass at dam No. 5, located just above Rochester, were opened at Captain Craighill's office on Tuesday, July 15.

The illustrations are from dams now in process of construction on the Kanawha river, but they are exactly the style to be erected at McMechen and other Ohio river points.

BASIS TO NEGOTIATE.

U. S. INITIATIVE ENDS HAPPILY.

Foundation Reached For Further Negotiations Between an Apostolic Delegate and the Governor of Philippines, at Manila.

Rome, July 19.—Observatore Romano (organ of the vatican) yesterday published an official note as follows:

"The initiative of the government of the United States, with the object of arriving at an understanding with the holy see about religious questions in the Philippines, in which it showed frankness and fine political tact, has reached a happy ending after negotiations conducted on both sides in a spirit of conciliation and friendly deference. The general lines of a common accord have been drawn up to the mutual satisfaction of the parties concerned and in conformity with the proposals made to the holy see in a memorandum. These general lines will serve as a basis for further negotiations, as regards details to be conducted and brought to a conclusion at Manila between an apostolic delegate and the governor of the Philippines."

Rampolla Sent Note to Taft.

Rome, July 19.—A note from the vatican was presented to Governor Taft last night, signed by Cardinal Rampolla, which said in part:

"I hasten to acknowledge the receipt of the letter by which you kindly communicated to me the cablegram from Secretary Root answering my note of July 9, which explained the counter project of the vatican for the regulation of religious affairs in the Philippines. While thanking you for this important communication, I am happy to assure you that the holy see has learned with the liveliest satisfaction the high consideration in which Mr. Root, in the name of the government of the United States, holds the fitness of the measures which the vatican, independently of the solution of any economic question designed taking to ameliorate the religious situation in the archipelago and to co-operate in the pacification of the people under American sovereignty. The measures are indicated in my memorandum of June 21 and my letter of July 9. These declarations of Mr. Root do honor to the deep political wisdom of the government of the United States, which knows how to appreciate the happy influence of the holy see for the religious and civil elevation of the people, especially Catholics.

Pleasing to the Pope.

"With equal satisfaction the pontiff has taken into account the assurances of Secreary Root that the American authorities in the Philippines and at Washington will put forth all possible efforts to maintain the good understanding happily established with the authorities of the Catholic church. On his part the pontiff will not fail to give the apostolic delegate, soon to be sent to the Philippines, the most precise instructions according to my former notes.

"The main lines for future negotiations, indicated in the notes, having been accepted by Secretary Root, the representative of the vatican in the archipelago will enter into relations with the authorities in the Philippines on the four points indicated by Mr Root at the end of his cablegram.

"The holy see does not doubt that mutual confidence, combined with the action of its representative and that of the American government, will easily produce a happy solution of the pending questions, inaugurating for that noble country a new era of peace and true progress."

Pope to Receive Taft Monday.

Governor Taft was informed last night that the pope had fixed July 21 for his farewell audience.

Governor Taft will start Saturday for Vallombrosa, near Florence, where he will stay with his family until Monday, when he will return for his his audience with the pope.

London, July 19.—The Rome correspondent of the Dail Chronicle says the pope is intensely displeased at the way in which the commission of cardinals has conducted the negotiations with Judge Taft in the matter of the friars in the Philippines. "I learn from an authoritative source," says the correspondent, "that besides annulling the procedure of the commission of cardinals, the pope has summarily dissolved it, expressing his view that the American demands were reasonable, and signifying his readiness to treat with Judge Taft personally.

STOCK MARKET EXPERIENCED

Another Day of Animation, Friday Large Capital Pursued Its Operations With Confidence.

New York, July 19.—Yesterday was another animated day in the stock market, with aggregate sales of over 1,000,000 shares. The strength and variety of the market had no new development to account for them, but the large capital which has embarked upon the project of putting up prices and inviting an outside following pursued their operations with apparently unabated confidence.

The leaders of yesterday's market were Pennsylvania and affiliated railroads. Southern Railway was brought into the movement in a way to make it appear that closer relations than those now existing might be in prospect between the two properties. The apparent determination of the coal miners' convention not to make their strike general was given as a reason for the aggressive buying of Pennsylvania and all the seaboard soft coal carriers, and there was in addition a circumstantial assertion that Pennsylvania had secured control of Reading.

"NO STRIKE" CHEERED

Delegates Applauded Mitchell When He Told Them to Get Rid of Idea.

It May Be 10 Per Cent or More—The Matter Referred to a Commitee Yesterday Afternoon, Who Were to Report This Morning.

Indianapolis, July 19.—At the conclusion of a secret session, which lasted the entire afternoon yesterday, the recommendations of President Mitchell for the management of the anthracite strike were referred to a special committee, which is to report back to the convention this morning. This committee consists of President Mitchell, Vice President Lewis, Secretary Wilson, and the president of each district which is taking part in the convention. There was little doubt that the committee will urge the adoption of the recommendations and fix the rate of assessment at 10 per cent or higher.

Lewis Spoke on Haskins' Amendment.

At the opening of the executive session Vice President Lewis took the floor and delivered an energetic speech on the amendment offered by Delegate Haskins, in the morning, to the effect that the fund to be raised in aid of the anthracite miners be extended to all of the striking miners where their strike has been sanctioned by the general organization. He declared that he thought all the miners should be taken care of in like manner. He also warned the convention that it would be necessary for the convention to so word its recommendations as to avoid the laws of Pennsylvania, which, he said, might cause trouble when an attempt should be made to collect the assessments of the men through the check offices by bringing an injunction to restrain alleged conspiracy.

President Mitchell then took the floor to speak for the adoption of the recommendations made in his speech of Thursday. In part he told the convention that the strikes in West Virginia and elsewhere were being protected by the general organization under assessments of the union, but that the assessment which was under discussion was necessary for the support of the anthracite strike alone, and should not be diverted from its purpose.

Told Them Not to Think of Strike.

Mr. Mitchell assured that the strike in the Pittsburg district and all other strikes would be looked after without splitting up the fund for the anthracite men, and again urged the men to dismiss from their minds the idea of a general strike. His remarks were greeted with enthusiastic cheers.

President Dolan, of district number 5, Pittsburg, secured the floor to explain conditions in his district. He had said in the morning session that his district had not received aid, that the aid it had received had been insufficient, and President Mitchell had rejoined that the district had received from the national organization the exact sum which the officers of the district had said would be necessary to win the district. Mr. Dolan made a long explanation of the manner in which the money had been expended and told of the conditions in the district surrounding Pittsburg. When Mr. Dolan had concluded several delegates made short speeches, asking the convention to hasten matters. A vote was then taken on the Haskins amendment and it was voted down by a decisive majority. This left before the convention the original motion for the adoption of the recommendations of the president. A number of amendments were then offered, all relating to the manner in which the assessment should be made.

One by Mr. Ryan, of Illinois, favored 10 per cent of the net earnings of the members of the union; another, by Vice President Lewis, ten per cent of the gross earnings, and a third, by Secretary Wilson, suggested that in some districts the assessment should be made on the percentage basis, and in others on the basis of $1 per week.

Committee to Consider Matter.

These were all pending when Secretary Wilson offered an amendment, that the matter be referred to a committee consisting of the three highest officers of the national organization, and the presidents of the districts represented in the convention. This prevailed and an adjournment was taken until 10 o'clock this morning.

At the conclusion of the session, Secretary Wilson said:

"It will cost $500,000 weekly to support the men now on strike in the various districts. An assessment of $1 a week will bring in $250,000 a week, an assessment of 10 per cent per week upon each member of the union will result in about the same sum. This will leave us $250,000 to raise each week from outside sources and from the promises an offers that have been made us, we are confident we will be able to do this."

Birds Made a Sieve.

In the mountains of Tennessee a stranger came upon a man who was shoveling coal upon a wooden sieve. Upon inquiry how on earth he got such a curious thing the old man replied:

"Stranger, I don't think you'll b'leeve me if I tell you."

"Oh, yes, certainly," said the man; "I will believe you."

"Waal," said the mountaineer, "it war this way: About five years ago I lived down on the side of the mountain whar woodpeckers and other kind o' birds is powerful thick. That 'ar thing"—pointing to the sieve—"war my door to my cabin. It 'ud mock any bird that flies. I'd jest sit thar some summer evenin' and jest move it, and every bird came that war imitated.

"Howsumever, one day I left my cabin to go huntin' and went preamblin' down the mountain. Waal, some wind come along and made that 'ar door imitate a woodpecker. First one come and then a whole pile o' the critters. They lit in on the door, and when I come it war jest like you see it."

The man thanked him and moved on.

"I declar'," said the mountaineer, "I don't b'leeve he thought I war tellin' the truth." And he resumed shoveling coal.—New York Herald.

Thoughtless, Selfish.

Thoughtlessness of others is nothing more than downright selfishness, which is the curse of humanity. The man who on leaving an elevated train pauses at the head of the stairs to light his cigar is selfish. He incommodes all who are behind him. The woman who insists on passing up or down the stairs ahead of the eager crowd, slowly, indifferent to the haste of others, must be an awful thing at home. He who pauses to tie his shoe regardless of the interruption of traffic is a brute in his family. I see all these things a dozen times a day and wonder what kind of lives such persons lead in the family circle. One of the common evidences of thoughtlessness is seen in those who stand in the middle of the sidewalk to chat while multitudes are forced to deflect or make an offset in order to pass them. The more I see of men the greater is my respect for asses, dogs and mules.—New York Press.

A Roman Dinner.

A Roman dinner at the house of a wealthy man consisted chiefly of three courses. All sorts of stimulants to the appetite were first served up, and eggs were indispensable to the first course. Among the various dishes we may instance the guinea hen, pheasant, nightingale and the thrush as birds most in repute. The Roman gourmands held peacocks in great estimation, especially their tongues. Macrobius states that they were first eaten by Hortensius, the orator, and acquired such repute that a single peacock was sold for 50 denarii, the denarius being equal to about eightpence halfpenny of our money.—Chambers' Journal.

Figuratively Speaking.

"Well," said young Graftsky, "I've soldiered half of the afternoon, and I guess I might as well round it out by loafing the other half."

"Yes," said his friend, J. Wise, Jr., "but the rounding out will be a lot easier than squaring yourself with the boss afterward."—Los Angeles Herald.

Brain Food Nonsense.

Another ridiculous food fad has been branded by the most competent authorities. They have dispelled the silly notion that one kind of food is needed for brain, another for muscles, and still another for bones. A correct diet will not only nourish a particular part of the body, but it will sustain every other part. Yet, however good your food may be, its nutriment is destroyed by indigestion or dyspepsia. You may prepare for their appearance or prevent their coming by taking regular doses of Green's August Flower, the favorite medicine of the healthy millions. A few doses aids digestion, stimulates the liver to healthy action, purifies the blood, and makes you feel buoyant and vigorous. You can get the reliable remedy at Charles F. Craig's.

ROOT PRAISED THE GUARDSMEN.

So Did Generals With Him, After Pennsylvanians Marched Passed Them.

Gettysburg, Pa., July 19.—Secretary of War Elihu Root and a party of regular army officers yesterday visited the famous battlefield where the entire division of the national guard of Pennsylvania, numbering more than 5,000 men, has been in camp this week. The secretary was honored with a "march past." Accompanying Mr. Root were Adjutant General Corbin, Brigadier Generals Wood, Bates and Randolph, Colonel Carter, Major Dunn and Lieutenant Clark. The party were escorted to division headquarters by the First City Troop and the Sheridan Troop. Upon their arrival at headquarters they were welcomed by Governor Stone and Major General Miller. Battery B fired a salute in honor of the secretary. The visitors were driven through the camp and after luncheon the entire division paraded past the Washington officials. Secretary Root and the army officers complimented the national guard commanders upon the fine soldierly appearance and the good discipline of the men. The party left camp at 7 o'clock last night.

The breaking up of the camp began yesterday afternoon. The regiments having the farthest to travel were the first to go. The Fifteenth and Eighteenth regiments struck their canvass early in the afternoon, and the former command left for home before 6 o'clock. Other regiments were to leave during last night. The First brigade was to depart this morning and the Third during the day.

COMPANIES CAN CONSOLIDATE.

Opinion Filed by Dauphin County, Pa., Court.

Harrisburg, July 19.—The Dauphin county court filed an opinion yesterday morning deciding that electric light and gas companies chartered under the general corporation act of 1874 may consolidate. The question arose in the case of a bill filed by the commonwealth at the instance of the attorney general to enjoin the Huntingdon Gas company and the Huntingdon Electric Light company from consolidating.

OUTLOOK IMPROVED.

So Dun's Review Says of Industries--Due to Brighter Labor Situation.

IMPROVEMENT IN AGRICULTURE.

Prospects For Active Trade Decidedly Encouraging—Financial Conditions Are Sound—Less Failures Than Same Period Last Year.

Settlement of numerous labor controversies and prospect of early agreements as to other struggles have greatly improved the industrial outlook, while agricultural conditions steadily improve. As these have been the only unfavorable influences for some months, the prospects for active trade are decidedly encouraging. Preparations for unusually heavy fall sales are being made and confidence grows stronger. Mills and furnaces that have been idle on account of the usual overhauling resumed as rapidly as needed repairs could be made. Financial conditions are sound, the mid-year dividend distributions producing no stringency, and speculation has been heavy for the season, both in securities and staples.

Pig Iron Commands Full Prices.

Pig iron continues to command full prices, supplies falling below requirements, and furnace deliveries failing to fill contracts. Scarcity of fuel is still the principal drawback, while car and motive power shortage are additional causes of delay. New orders are reported for distant delivery running about a year ahead. Prices are fully maintained for the raw material, but billets weakened slightly because of foreign selling. Importations have reached a considerable aggregate, and more are expected. Structural material is still the feature, new business being offered in great bulk. Railway needs do not diminish, despite the enormous amount of work already placed, and agricultural implement makers are fully employed. A general advance in prices of machine tools has occurred, averaging nearly 10 per cent. It was expected that mills and foundries would resell pig iron, owing to the high premiums obtainable, but this factor has had no appreciable effect as yet, most consumers requiring all the material received.

New lines of light weight woolens and worsteds have opened at unchanged prices, and the increased activity of mills has aroused more interest in the raw material, which tends to advance.

Crop Prospects Continued Favorable

Crop prospects have continued favorable, and with the removal of speculative influences there was a gradual decline in prices. Cotton rules steady, the outlook for a liberal crop being balanced by the strong statistical position.

NAME WAS THOMAS NOT SMITH

Washington, Pa., July 19.—The news of the tragic death of John Thomas, at Columbus, O., who had given the name of Smith, and the illness of Maggie Canan, created quite a sensation here. Both parties were well known in this section. Thomas was a married man, and last spring made himself notorious by attempting to commit suicide by taking carbolic acid while in company with a young woman on the outskirts of the town.

Thomas told the Canan girl that his name was Smith, and he was so known by the parents of the girl. He had been calling on her for some time, and on Tuesday evening the couple had gone buggy riding. On Wednesday morning he came around to the Canan home, and while the family were in another part of the house the girl and Thomas drove away.

This was the last the parents saw of the girl. When she did not return Wednesday evening they were much worried about her. Thursday morning they made a search and found a note that she had gone to get married and would write to them Sunday.

Coronation to Occur Aug. 9.

London, July 19.—An official notification was issued yesterday morning that by the king's command the coronation of King Edward and Queen Alexandra will take place Aug. 9. Rehearsals of the procession from Buckingham palace to Westminster abbey took place yesterday morning and the officials of the various state departments concerned in the abbey ceremony are again busy with preparations for the crowning.

Honors Shown Andrew Carnegie.

BACKACHE

Is only one of many distressing symptoms which point to the presence of womanly diseases. If women thoroughly understood the relation of the local womanly health to the general health, they would understand that backache, headache, nervousness, sideache, dizziness, faintness and similar feminine ailments, cannot be cured until the womanly health is established.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription cures diseases peculiar to women. It establishes regularity, dries the drains which weaken women, heals inflammation and ulceration, and cures female weakness. In curing these local diseases, it cures the ailments which they cause; backache, headache, sideache, dizziness, faintness, nervousness, and other ills peculiarly feminine.

"I wrote you for advice February 4th, 1896," writes Mrs. Loma Halstead, of Claremore, Cherokee Nat., Ind. Ter. "I was racking with pain from the back of my head down to my heels. Had hemorrhage for weeks at a time, and was unable to sit up for ten minutes at a time. You answered my letter, advised me to use your valuable medicines, viz., Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, 'Golden Medical Discovery,' and 'Pleasant Pellets,' also gave advice about injections, baths and diet. To my surprise, in four months from the time I began your treatment I was a well woman and have not had the backache since, and now I put in sixteen hours a day at hard work."

Weak and sick women are invited to consult Dr. Pierce by letter free. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

HILL DIDN'T SEE PRESIDENT.

Denial That Alice Roosevelt Is Engaged to Lieut. Clark.

Oyster Bay, N. Y., July 19.—Arrangements were completed partially Thursday evening for former Senator Hill, who came to Oyster Bay to spend the night with William F. Sheehan, to meet the president at Sagamore Hill, but it was found impossible to fix upon a time that would be convenient to both. Senator Hill returned to New York yesterday without meeting Mr. Roosevelt.

The president passed yesterday morning at Sagamore Hill transacting some routine business with Assistant Secretary Loeb. Early in the day no callers of importance visited him, although two former members of Mr. Roosevelt's regiment rode out to pay their respects.

The reported engagement of Miss Alice Roosevelt to Lieutenant Robert Sterling Clark, of New York, a son of Mrs. Alfred Corning Clark, is emphatically denied by authority of the president. Miss Roosevelt has not even a personal acquaintance with Lieutenant Clark.

League Takes Hold Temporarily.

Baltimore, July 19.—At a meeting of the board of directors of the American league here yesterday the condition of the affairs of the Baltimore Baseball and Athletic company was formally presented and the franchise declared forfeited. The league has taken the club in hand and will run it until the new company is organized. Wilbert Robinson appeared before the board and after explaining his business relations with McGraw, he was exonerated from any wrong intention in disposing of his stock in the club later he was appointed playing manager of the new team. Harry Goldman was made business manager.

Killed Wife Before Her Babe.

Chicago, July 19.—Because his wife gave evidence that her love for him had waned while he was serving 17 months in the state prison, William Nelson shot her to death here yesterday and then turned his revolver upon himself in an ineffectual attempt to take his own life. His wound was superficial. Their baby, too young to realize that a crime was being committed, was the only witness to the tragedy.

The widest possible publicity should be given to the fact that summer diarrhoea in children and cholera infantum can always be cured by the judicious use of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. It never fails. When reduced with cold water and sweetened it is pleasant to take, which is very important when a medicine must be given to small children. For sale by Alvin H. Bulger.

ANOTHER STRIKE THREATENED.

Four Railroads at Chicago Accused of Breaking Faith With Freight Handlers.

Chicago, July 19.—Another strike of the freight handlers of Chicago may be called Sunday night. President Curran, of the Freight Handlers union, has issued a call for a mass meeting of all the freight handlers in the city to be held at that time to take action on the refusal of four railroads to reinstate all the old men.

Mr. Curran said last night that he regretted having to take this step but was compelled to do so. He declared that when the settlement was made it was agreed with Frederick W. Job, chairman of the state board of arbitration that all the old men were to be taken back when the strike was declared off. This, he says, the Santa Fe, Panhandle, Northwestern and Illinois Central railroads have not done, and unless they shall do so before the mass meeting Sunday night another walkout will be ordered.

JEFFRIES WORKED TOO HARD.

Trainer Delaney So Admitted—Fell Asleep Being Rubbed Down.

Oakland, Cal., July 19.—Rumors were flying thick and fast round town yesterday to the effect that Champion Jeffries was sick at his quarters as a result of overtraining. This gave rise to the report that Jeffries was out of condition, and that he was laid up for repairs. It was pointed out that the champion is away below his normal weight. Trainer Delaney admits that Jeffries has worked too hard.

Jeffries arose at 1 o'clock yesterday and showed up at the gymnasium at 2 o'clock. He said:

"I am not sick. I was tired after being at the theater last night. I have cut out my work today and will just take gymnasium exercises. I'll be ready for the fight."

Bank Teller Sentenced to Prison.

New York, July 19.—Harry G. Bell, the receiving teller of the River bank who was Thursday convicted of thefts from the bank, said to have aggregated $20,000, was yesterday sentenced to not more than six nor less than four years in the state's prison, at hard labor.

MISS ROSE OWENS,
No. 720 Seventeenth St., WASHINGTON, D. C.

"If every suffering woman has the same experience with Wine of Cardui that I had, your medicine will be most popular. About a year ago I began to have a worn out tired feeling with lassitude, pains in the back and head which kept increasing every month. I felt that I needed something, but to get the right medicine was the trouble. I finally decided on your Wine of Cardui and only needed to take three bottles when I was fully recovered."

Miss Rose Owens.

WHEN Miss Rose Owens, who has a responsible position in the Government service at Washington, D. C., decided to try Wine of Cardui, she made a wise choice. Over a million women have been relieved of female weakness by this same Wine of Cardui. It is not a strong medicine but may be taken every day in the year by any woman with benefit. It does not force results, but corrects derangements of the menstrual organs. It strengthens the nervous system, gives tone to the bodily functions, acts directly on the genital organs, and is the finest tonic for women known to the science of medicine.

If you are a suffering woman we would say to you that Wine of Cardui seldom fails to completely cure any case of female ills. We say emphatically, it never fails to benefit. Every day hundreds of sufferers are writing to our Ladies' Advisory Department. The letters are opened by persons competent to give advice. Mrs. Jones was cured by following the advice which was freely given her by the Ladies' Advisory Department. Miss Owens was cured without advice by just buying a $1.00 bottle of Wine of Cardui from her druggist and taking this great medicine in the privacy of her home. No doctor's examination, treatment or advice is necessary. You have read what these two cured women have written. Is this not enough to lead you to determine to be rid of suffering?

August 13, 1900, Mrs. W. H. Jones, of Cameron, Mo., writes:

"I suffered terribly at monthly periods for three years. I would sometimes go for seven months with no flow at all. Now I have my health back again and am expecting to be confined in January. I cannot praise your medicine enough."
